"Now He's a Rosy-Cheeked, Healthy Lad"

My little boy, three years old, had rickets. I tried to build him up with vegetables, fruit juices and medicine, but he got no better. A year ago I started to give him Ovaltine. From the first he started to pick up and is now a rosy-cheeked, healthy lad. He takes Ovaltine twice a day and shall continue to do so.

iced an Immediate Increase in Weight"

My small son was a perfectly healthy child, but his appetite had fallen off noticeably during the summer heat. I wanted to see if Ovaltine would provide the necessary food elements and vitamins even though he was not eating as much solid food as usual.

We noticed an immediate increase in weight and he has certainly come through the hot weather in first-class shape. He likes Ovaltine immensely—drinks it 3 times a day with meals and whenever he wants it between meals.

Voter Slain and Five Wounded in Clash of Factions

Rebels Charge National Revolutionary Party Rules Balloting

EL PASO, July 20. (AP)—One man was dead by death, five others were wounded and a policeman was injured seriously today in rioting between members of the National Revolutionary party of Chihuahua and the Socialist party during a municipal election in Juarez, Mexico, across the international boundary from here, despite the establishment of martial law.

Luis Baldivar, 25 years of age, riding on a truck loaded with members of the National Revolutionary party, was shot by a man said to have been a Socialist party member. He died in two hours.

SCORE JAILED

Those with demonstrating against the administration, twenty-seven members of the Socialist party of Resistance were jailed. Gun-and-fist fighting occurred at the polls in precinct No. 1, about 700 persons being involved. Women were active in the fighting.

The Juarez administration is composed entirely of members of the National Revolutionary party of Chihuahua.

SOCIALISTS GATHER

Ramon Ocampo, Mexican Senator, and other leaders of the Socialist party, declared the constituents of Emilio K. Prieto, candidate for governor, were not allowed to cast their votes in Juarez precincts, stating that the National Revolutionary party of Chihuahua members usually took charge of precinct polling booths with the aid of police.

Several hundred members of the Socialist party gathered in the plaza before noon. Speeches were made by Corona and other leaders and members of the Socialist party were being denied rights as Mexican citizens.

Nothing followed the rioting but was comparatively quiet. Small squads of soldiers and police patrolled the streets during the day.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, July 20. [To the Editor of The Times:] Just come in from the Salinas (Cal.) rodeo, a real show, done mostly by local cow punchers and real old ranchers. Five hundred mounted, so the horse is coming stronger than ever. A parade of floats at night that would compare with Pasadena's famous show.

If you think there is no unemployment just look at these E flat golf courses and see the amount of people out of work. It's wonderful exercise. You stand on your feet for hours watching somebody else putt. It's just the old-fashioned pool hall moved out doors but with no chairs around the wall.

Census Causes Queer Quirks

Some States to Lose Seats in Congress in Spite of Population Growth

Seeming Inconsistencies in Reapportionment Noted in Many Instances

WASHINGTON, July 20. (AP)—The queer quirks performed by "the method of major fractions" as it operates on State populations in the reapportionment of members of the House of Representatives are going to bring about many seeming inconsistencies.

California, with an increase of 3,264,733 in population since the last reapportionment of the House was made, likely will receive an addition of nine members to her delegation, while Illinois, with a gain of 1,991,692 persons in the same time, will receive no additional members.

MICHIGAN GAINS

Likewise, Michigan with an increase of 2,008,196, may gain four additional members, while Pennsylvania with an increase of 2,387,899 is down to lose one member.

New York on an increase of 3,465,941 people will probably be given two additional members, and New Jersey, with a probable gain of 1,401,833, is slated to gain two new members also, while Texas with an increase of 1,914,141 probably will be given three additional Congressmen.

With the populations of thirty-seven States already announced, experts have begun figuring on the

ENATORS SEE CLOSE

Ratification of Treaty Near

Special Session Scheduled to Adjourn Today or Tomorrow

Important Tasks Will Delay Hoover's Departure on Trip West

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 20. (Exclusive)—On or before Tuesday the London naval treaty will be ratified and the special session of the Senate will adjourn sine die. More than thirty-five Senators have made their reservations to leave Washington not later than Tuesday night and the White House is confident that with the ratification there will be no more legislative matters to worry about till the regular session next December.

But President Hoover has many things to do before he departs on his western vacation to the national parks.

First, he will receive some time this week the resignation of Chairman Claudius Huston of the Republican National Committee.

Second, he expects Senator Moses of New Hampshire to resign as chairman of the Senate Committee on Elections. It is expected that he will be succeeded by Senator Steiwer of Oregon, now vice-chairman. Senator Moses has been reported in bad standing with the White House since he referred to Senators from certain States as "sons of the wild jackasses."

FESS SLATED

It is expected that Senator Fess will be named chairman of the Republican National Committee as soon as the present chairman relieves President Hoover of further embarrassment by resigning as titular head of the party. It is expected that Fess will be only temporary head of the party until early in 1932 when some more outstanding and other able leader will be chosen by President Hoover to conduct the campaign of 1932.

It is understood as soon as Fess takes office he will call a meeting of the executive committee when it will select a new secretary to succeed Franklin Fort. At the same time it is expected that a new office will be created in the Republican party. This will be chairman of the executive committee. If this is done Commissioner of Internal Revenue Lucas will be called on to be the real executive of the party until the Presidential campaign. It is also expected that before many weeks General Counsel Burke of the Republican committee will relinquish his post.

President Hoover having nominated three members of the new power commission and sent their names to the Senate for confirmation will be able to make all other important appointments until next December by recess appointments. He has until August 17 to appoint the new Tariff Commission.

RECEPTION PLANNED

President Hoover expects to make public this week or early next week the itinerary and date for starting upon his western vacation trip.

In the meantime, the National Parks Service and its director, Horace M. Albright, are going forward with tentative plans for receiving the Chief Executive and the large party which will accompany him. While the extent of the trip is not certain, Mr. Hoover has definitely decided to carry through his original desire to make the most extensive stop at Glacier Park in Montana, near the international line, and there efforts of the parks service are being concentrated.

Mr. Hoover expects to spend about a week in Glacier Park, stopping at Two Medicine chalet on Two Medicine Lake.

SPEECHES BANNED

Leaving Glacier, the party will move southward to Yellowstone Park, probably by motor. While Mr. Hoover hopes to spend almost as much time in Yellowstone, he does not expect to settle down in one spot. Five days are required to tour the park, so the President will have little time for fishing.

From that point plans are indefinite, depending upon the length of time the President can absent himself from the capital.

The Chief Executive has announced the trip will be made solely for a holiday and rest and no invitations tendered him to speak and make public appearances will be accepted.

CLOCK SETS TIME FOR STILL RAID

Peculiar Antics of Garage Timepiece Send Police to Elite District Round-up

NEW YORK, July 20. (Exclusive) Over on the landscaped banks of the East River in Sutton Place, where such folks as Anne Morgan, Rodman Wanamaker II, and William K. Vanderbilt make their homes, there are thirty-one missing stills tonight. The police have them.

The raid in the heart of the fashionable district was caused by the curious behavior of a tower clock in the neighborhood. The "Big Ben" was mounted over a former brewery that had grown into a garage and while everything else about the place was apparently dead the clock showed signs of animation, waggling its hands and telling everything but the time.

The police dropped in to look and left the garage with thirty-one stills, fifteen of them of 5000-gallon capacity each and the others of various lesser capacities. No arrests have been made, but the stills will be turned over to prohibition authorities tomorrow.

Utah to Hold Jail Breaker

SALT LAKE CITY, July 20. (AP) F. C. Hertel, Fresno (Cal.) jailbreaker, who was shot and seriously wounded by an officer here several days ago, will not be returned to California, but will be prosecuted here, Chief of Police Joseph E. Burbridge said.

Hertel is still in a critical condition at a hospital here, but some hope is held for his recovery. He was shot through the neck, the bullet ranging downward through his chest.

Patrolman Jesse Barker shot Hertel when he opened fire on the officer following an attempt to rob a grocery company plant.

CATHOLIC EDUCATOR DIES

ST. LOUIS, July 19. (AP)—Brother Bernardine, P.S.C. 74 years of age, Catholic educator, died at LaSalle College, Glencoe, Mo., today.

Rhineland Joins in Thanksgiving Over Freedom

MAYENCE (Germany) July 20. (AP)—Solemn thanksgiving services for the release of the Rhineland from French control were held here today, with President Von Hindenburg participating.

The President attended the services at the principal Protestant church here, and joined heartily in the anthem, "Now Thank We All Our God." Similar services were held at the Catholic cathedral.

President Hindenburg read a long address afterward at a meeting in the City Hall. He extended fraternal greetings to the population of the Saar region, whose steadfastness under the "foreign yoke," he said, deserved the nation's gratitude.

Flyer and Girl Killed in Crash

AMARILLO (Tex.) July 20. (AP)—Clarence Thuett, airplane pilot of Vega, Oldham county, and Miss Marrietta Hall, 15 years of age, of Adrain, were killed instantly late today in an airplane crash near Vega.

Spectators say the plane apparently banked too short and plunged downward in a nose dive. Miss Hall was the daughter of John Ed Hall, Adrain farmer. Thuett had been taking up passengers all afternoon at Adrain, using a vacant lot as a landing field.

Cairo Expects Trouble Today

LONDON, July 20. (AP)—Cairo dispatches to the Daily Mail tonight reported Egyptian troops had been concentrated in the capital to forestall trouble on Monday if the Wafdists, Nationalist deputies, attempt to hold parliamentary sessions of the chamber forbidden by Premier Ismail Sidky Pasha.

Many business men barricaded their shops and offices. Throughout Cairo there was a general feeling of apprehension and insecurity.

NOMINATION DISPLEASING TO FILIPINOS

Politicians Say Roosevelt Opposes Independence; Americans Satisfied

MANILA, July 20. (AP)—Filipino politicians today expressed displeasure at the nomination by President Hoover of Nicholas Roosevelt of New York as Vice-Governor of the Philippines because of his opposition to independence for the islands.

Americans here, however, are pleased with the appointment, many feeling the administration has determined to send the best man able to take care of American interests regardless of what local politicians have to say.

Such Filipino leaders as Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine Senate, and Sergio Osmena had little to say concerning the nomination, but less prominent members of the Legislature, including Representative Abaya, said Mr. Roosevelt "has declared himself openly against independence for this country." His appointment is either to retard our freedom or keep it away from us altogether."

Abaya added that Filipinos must show they "resent the treatment given us by the American people."

Child Loses Life in Auto Crash

PORTLAND (Or.) July 20. (AP)—Evelyn Taylor, 11 years of age, was killed, and five others were injured today, when an automobile driven by Elmer S. Bell, 40, contractor, collided with a car operated by R. J. Taylor of Forest Grove, father of the dead girl. Bell told police he was hurrying to a hospital where his wife was expecting a child. He received serious cuts and bruises.

Taylor, his wife, Robert Taylor, 6, and June Taylor, 8, all were injured and taken to a hospital. Attendants say Taylor received serious back injuries.

Bell was arrested on a charge of involuntary manslaughter. Police say Taylor had the right of way.

HEAT HAVOC GROWING

Deaths Mount; Crops Wither

Thirty More Succumb and Scores Overcome in Midwest and East

Forecasts Kill Relief Hopes; Omahans Pray for Rain; Corn Loss Heavy

GOODLAND (Kan.) July 20. (AP)—Rain fell today over this section of Western Kansas, the amount varying from one-half inch to two inches. The welcome downpour broke the heat wave and greatly benefited the growing corn.

BY JOHN P. GALLAGHER
"Times" Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, July 20. (Exclusive)—The third day of an oppressive stifling heat wave continued undiminished throughout the Middle West and East on the Sabbath. An additional toll of thirty lives followed in the wake of the blistering heat, with scores of prostrations reported. Farm crops, already greatly damaged by the baking rays of a relentless sun and continued drought, were withering in the fields, indicating an unusually heavy loss to Midwest farmers this season. No relief is in sight, government weather forecasters assert.

Kansas and Missouri continue to be the hottest spots in the Central States, with temperatures today ranging from 95 to 103 deg. Reports coming in from all parts of these States as well as the Missouri Valley generally lead authorities to declare the entire corn crop is in danger unless rain comes soon to relieve the drought. In some churches throughout that section today prayers were offered to save the crops. The drought also is affecting the wheat situation.

PRAYERS FOR RAIN

Nebraska, Illinois and Indiana generally still are suffering from heat averaging 100 deg. or more. Several cities in Indiana and Illinois reported readings of 110. Throughout the Omaha diocese all Catholic churches today prayed for rain to save the parched crops. Illinois and Indiana are suffering particularly from a long drought.

Iowa's corn crop, it was reported today, may be cut by more than 50,000,000 bushels by the excessive heat and lack of moisture. No rain has fallen in the Tall Corn State since the 1st inst. The estimated loss in crops is based on a statement today by Charles D. Reed, United States meteorologist, and he added that for every day the temperatures climb above 100 deg. the corn crop will be cut one bushel an acre. Reed also said the effect of the heat probably will be cumulative, since every day the hot dry spell is prolonged more damage will be done than the day before.

HOT WINDS GO EAST

The scorching winds were carried east today, spreading the record-breaking heat wave into Northern Ohio and on to the Southern Atlantic seaboard. Toledo, O., this afternoon reported a high of 107 deg., while Washington's top mark was 105, which caused the bureau to check back over its records with the discovery that the previous record, set in 1918 was 105.5, and not 106 deg., as previously announced. Records have been kept by the local office since 1871. Today's high mark was recorded at 4 o'clock.

NEW YORK SWELTERS

New York City suffered from 92 deg. with a decidedly high humidity. Parched city dwellers sought the beaches where scarcely a breath of air was stirring and from early dawn until late into the night the surf was crowded with bathers. Four persons dropped dead from the heat, five prostrations were reported and seven persons were drowned during the day at the beaches.

Chicago's official high mark for the day was an even 100 deg., but street thermometers, particularly on the West Side and throughout the western suburbs, rose as high as 107 deg. Two deaths directly attributable to the heat were reported, seven drowned at bathing beaches and twelve persons were prostrated. Thousands visited the beaches and the parks near Lake Michigan, while other thousands found the heat too

SHOW TRAIN WRECKED

Barnes Circus in Disaster

Two Angelenos Among Four Killed When Cars Jump Rails in Canada

Eighteen Others Reported Hurt, Some Seriously; Animals Safe

MONCTON (N.B.) July 20. (Exclusive)—Four men are dead and eighteen others are injured, several in critical condition in the hospital here as the result of a wreck of Al G. Barnes's California circus train on the Canadian National Railway at Canaan, sixteen miles west of Moncton, at 6:55 this morning.

The dead are Albert Johnson and Frank Finnegan, Los Angeles, Cal.; J. MacFarland, Canadian; James A. Stephens, Fredericton, N. B.

The first three were employees of the circus while Stephens is supposed to have boarded the train at Newcastle, where the circus performed Saturday.

RELIEF TRAIN SENT

The most seriously injured are Joseph Curtis, Arkansas; Herbert Aaron, Marysville, Cal.; Harry Brandon, Tulsa, Okla.; Frank O. Wright, Washington, D.C.; William Johnston, address unknown; William Touka, Toronto, O.; Eugene Thompson, South Bend, Ind.; William Hughes, Bridgeport, Ct.; Joseph W. Brown, Los Angeles; George Hayes, Duluth, Minn.; Axal L. Nielson, Cherbourg, France; William Thibodeau, Bathurst, N. B.; Thomas Meuse, Woodstock, Neb.; James B. Rogers, Negro, Bakersfield, Cal.

The bodies of the four victims were taken from the mass of debris, the greater part of which had to be moved to locate the bodies.

Immediately the wreck was made known in Moncton a special train carrying doctors and nurses was rushed to the scene to care for the injured whom they brought to the city hospital. The bodies of Johnston Finnegan and Stephenson were taken to a mortuary chamber this afternoon to await the arrival of word from relatives before burial.

An effort to communicate with the relatives was made last night but up until a late hour no word had been received.

The nine cars were virtually demolished and the debris covered an area of 500 yards. A wrecking crew worked the greater part of the day and late this afternoon the rails were clear.

ANIMALS SAFE

The circus train was en route to Charlottetowne, P. E. I., where a performance was scheduled Monday.

First reports that animals had escaped from the wrecked cars and had fled to the surrounding woods proved incorrect. The animal cars and equipment were on the front part of the train which remained on the rails. The break came on the seventeenth car from the engine and is believed to have been caused by a broken wheel, or the points of a switch breaking.

The wreck took the heaviest toll of life of any accident in the history of this section of the government railway.

Damage to the circus equipment will cancel engagements for at least two days, it was announced by officials.

RELATIVES HERE
RECEIVE WRECK MESSAGES

A telegram announcing "bad wreck; both all right" was received yesterday by Mrs. Minnie M. Leithold of 119 South Olive street, wife of Rialto Leithold, who is known in circus life as Rialto Old. With his partner, Hugh Prescott, he joined the Barnes show last March to do a specialty act in the sideshow. Prescott formerly presented a similar exhibition on the Venice pier. Several similar messages were received from other employees of the circus who have relatives living in Los Angeles.

MILLION-A-YEAR MEN RIFE

Many Lines of Business Able to Reward Chiefs for Services Beyond Dreams of Croesus

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1930, in all countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

NEW YORK, July 20. (Exclusive)—Eugene Grace's salary as president of Bethlehem Steel is $12,000 a year, but his "bonus" is something to dream about for it adds from $750,000 to $1,500,000 more to his income annually.

Mr. Grace, testifying at the proposed merger hearing about this bonus, said: "The factor used to determine my bonus is 1½ per cent."

"One and one-half per cent of what?" he was asked.

"I don't know," answered Mr. Grace.

It now develops that certain officers of Bethlehem Steel receive as a bonus 8 per cent of the net profits annually in addition to salaries. As the company earned $49,252,000 in 1929, then $3,960,000 was the bonus "melon" which was shared by these certain officers and heads of departments. Not bad!

How many American executives receive $1,000,000 a year as compensation? Not in salary, or bonus or in specially favored stock arrangements but in a combination of all three?

The first thing J. P. Morgan discovered when he began to reorganize the United States Steel Corporation was that Charles M. Schwab was receiving $1,000,000 a year as salary from Andrew Carnegie. Mr. Morgan summoned Mr. Schwab, handed him the contract, and asked what could be done about it.

"This," replied Mr. Schwab, tearing it up and throwing it into the waste basket.

Yes, Mr. Morgan sent the steel president enough steel bonds to buy up the contract, but the year before Mr. Schwab tore up the contract he received $1,300,000 from that shrewd Scotchman Carnegie.

AVIATION POOLS PLANNED

T.A.T.-Maddux and Western Air Express Merging, as Also Are Two South American Lines

NEW YORK, July 20. (Exclusive)—Four of America's most powerful air lines are on the point of pooling their resources and activities under two common heads, it was learned today from responsible sources. Both deals are expected to go through this week.

The first, which is understood to wait only on an agreement concerning minor details of operation, will effect a virtual merger of Transcontinental Air Transport's line with Western Air Express, Inc. The latter organization has operated a swift passenger line paralleling the slower T.-A.-T. air-rail route westward from Kansas City to the Pacific Coast ever since service was inaugurated over the "Lindbergh line" a little more than a year ago.

The second deal, which has no connection with the first, but likewise has reached the stage of advanced negotiations, has to do with a combination of forces by Pan-American Airways, Inc., and the New York, Rio De Janeiro and Buenos Aires Line, which have been actively engaged in a struggle for South American commercial air supremacy over a period of months.

If it is consummated the United States will have effectively joined its aerial business forces in the Latin-American field against strong European competition, so that this looked-for merger is considered of the highest significance to United States export trade generally.

LOCAL OFFICIALS HAVE NO NEWS OF MERGER

The local offices of neither Western Air Express nor the T.A.T.-Maddux Lines had any information yesterday concerning the reported merger. It was learned, however, that the three highest executives of the former line have been in the

Deadlock Between Opposing Forces Continues

Both Sides Make Counter-Assertions of Gains

Wang Decides to Join New Move at Peiping

SHANGHAI, July 20. (AP)—Despite reports of the northern alliance rebels of important victories along all fronts in Shantung and Honan provinces, a survey of the situation tonight indicates the virtual deadlock, which has existed for a week, continues.

Nationalist government intelligence sources, which have been comparatively quiet for the last forty-eight hours, tonight renewed activities stating Nationalist armies in all sectors are in the midst of heavy fighting, are advancing steadily and have inflicted painful losses on the northerners.

In Shantung Province, where principal hostilities are reported, the Nationalists aver that within the along the Tientsin-Pukow Railway in the vicinity of Yaian are preparing to begin a still stronger thrust as a result of the anticipated capture of Tsinanfu. The Nationalists claim that within the past twenty-four hours along this sector they captured 5000 rebels and killed 3000 "whose bodies litter the countryside unburied."

In Eastern Honan Province, where the northerners on Friday asserted they occupied Kweiteh and continued their advance into Kiangsu Province, the Nationalists state their forces repeatedly repulsed the rebel attacks although their respective lines were not changed.

The northern alliance moved toward establishing an independent government in Peiping received impetus as a result of the decision of Wang Ching-wei, radical Kuomintang—Left Wing leader, who has been in a political eclipse during the last two years, to proceed to Peiping and take active part in the proposed new government. Wang Ching-wei arrived at Nagasaki en route to Peiping.

STOWAWAY SORRY SHE MISSED PARIS

WIFE WHO RAN AWAY BACK HOME

Husband Sends Fare for Mate Who Stowed Away After Family Spat

NEW YORK, July 20. (Exclusive) Mrs. Donald Patten, wife of a New York railroad man, is home again after an adventure which, she declares, will always have a tendency to make her a home-loving woman.

Following a quarrel with her husband, Mrs. Patten decided to run away, and selected Europe as her destination. She stowed away on the Ile de France, and after a few days at sea made her presence known. She was promptly put to work in the ship's hospital, and when the vessel docked at Havre, France, Mrs. Patton was conveyed to jail.

That was plenty. She announced that she was sorry she had ever quarreled with her husband, and wired him to that effect. The husband sent her money for a return passage, and was waiting here when her ship docked. Now they are happy again.

"But I do wish I had seen Paris," Mrs. Patten declared. "I saw Havre when I got out of jail. But Havre is not Paris, you know."

MILLION-A-YEAR MEN NUMEROUS

Survey Shows Many in Class of Huge Earners

All Lines of Business Pay Executives Top Price

Bethlehem company, of which Mr. Schwab is the chairman of the board, is known to have received as high as $2,000,000 in one year for his services.

Other steel men, such as the late Judge E. H. Gary and James A. Farrell of United States Steel, are understood to have received more than $1,000,000 several years in succession.

MILLIONAIRE WAGES

But the motor industry has probably pushed more executives into the millionaire class than has any other. It was John J. Raskob who in 1928 said:

"They say that Carnegie made thirty millionaires over a period of years. Well, we made eighty millionaires in four years in General Motors. In 1923 we put into execution modern ideas of the relationship of capital, labor and management, making management as important as either, and working on the principle that brains should buy capital, rather than capital should buy brains.

"We induced eighty of our senior and junior executives to go into debt to buy General Motors stock. We got them to pledge themselves to buy $33,000,000 worth. They put up $5,000,000 and borrowed $28,000,000. That stock is worth today $250,000,000. All obligations have been paid off and everyone of those men, even the juniors who put in $25,000, are millionaires."

PROFIT ON STOCK

Here is a case where compensation did not come from salary or bonus, but from a joint profit made in the rise of a particular stock.

Among the men who shared in these huge General Motors profits and entered the millionaire class are the Fisher brothers, Fred J., Charles T., William A., and Lawrence P.—also C. S. Mott, A. P. Sloan, Pierre S. Du Pont.

Walter P. Chrysler was among the first of the $1,000,000-a-year automobile executives. John N. Willys, now American Minister to Poland, paid him $750,000 a year salary and later moved the figure up to a cold $1,000,000.

HUGE INCOMES

C. W. Nash of the Nash Motors Company, who succeeded W. C. Durant as president of General Motors, has often had an annual income exceeding $1,000,000. A. R. Erskine of the Studebaker Corporation, is another. The same holds for W. C. Durant, the little "Napoleon" of the industry.

Bankers' salaries are not so large but the perquisites help a lot. Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National City Bank, is understood to have reached the million-a-year class. The same goes for A. H. Wiggin of the Chase National and Percy Johnson of the Chemical National—both of New York—although the facts in the case of bankers are hard to get.

A. P. Giannini, the western banking genius, made a million and a half in one year out of Bancitaly Corporation profits.

BANKER CLASS POOR

The commercial banker is not often in the "big money." It's the investment banker that moves into the millionaire class fast when rightly placed. Probably the most prized position in the business world is a partnership in J. P. Morgan & Co. Income tax returns, five years ago, revealed at least half a dozen of the Morgan partners receiving "million a year" incomes. These men were J. P. Morgan, Thomas W. Lamont, Charles Steel, Thomas Cochran, Dwight W. Morrow, since retired; the late William H. Porter, and R. C. Leffingwell. George Whitney and one or two partners since added, undoubtedly are now in the same class.

Possibly five partners of Kuhn Loeb & Co. have incomes exceeding a million a year: Sir William Wiseman, Otto H. Kahn, Felix M. Warburg, Mortimer L. Schiff and Jerome Hanauer.

MERCHANT PRINCES

Marshall Field and his partner, Charles Glore of Field, Glore & Co., both must be entered in the million-a-year class. Clarence Dillon of Dillon-Read and his associate, William A. Phillips; Arthur Curtiss James, the railroad magnate; Bernard Baruch, and Waddell Catchings, formerly of Goldman Sachs Company, are others.

Julius Rosenwald of Sears-Roebuck; Samuel Insull of Chicago; Sidney Z. Mitchell, Electric Bond and Share; R. T. Crane of Chicago, head of Crane & Co.; Morris White, New York leather goods manufacturer, and John D. Ryan, president of the Anaconda Copper Company, would surely be in the list.

CURTIS THERE, TOO

No such roll-call would omit Cyrus H. Curtis, Philadelphia newspaper publisher; William H. Woodin of the American Locomotive Company; Michael Friedsam, president of B. Altman & Co.; Matthew C. Brush, president of the American International, and Adolph Zukor, president of Paramount-Publix Corporation.

Also several members of the rich Du Pont and Guggenheim families. Hubert T. Parson, president of the Woolworth Company; the Van Sweringen brothers of Cleveland; Henry L. Doherty of the Cities Service Company; Robert Dollar of the Dollar Steamship Company; James Simpson of Chicago; William C. Wrigley of Chicago, and A. Atwater Kent of Philadelphia would all be included.

ROCKEFELLER, Jr., IN

We could not omit John D. Rockefeller, Jr., nor George Horace Lorimer of the Saturday Evening Post; Robert Woodruff, president of both the White Motor Company and the Coca Cola Company; Walter Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph; Harvey Firestone, of rubber fame, and George F. Baker, Jr.

This list is by no means exhaustive, but it gives a rough picture of the rewards awaiting those who reach the top, whether by merit or luck, or both.

The high-priced executive is largely a postwar phenomenon.

FORD TEACHING RED ENGINEERS

Soviet Crews Being Trained to Run Auto Plant

Five Hundred Workmen to Learn Mass Methods

Russian Factory to Produce 140,000 Cars a Year

DETROIT, July 20. (AP)—As part of the comprehensive plan of the soviet government to increase the industrial, mining, agricultural and chemical productivity of the former land of the Czars, a group of 144 Russian engineers and workers are learning American mass production methods in the River Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Company.

Among them is one woman, a metallurgist, interested in the heat treatment of steel. Along with men employees she is working in the Ford steel mills.

ENGINEERS TRAINED

The agreement between Ford interests and the soviet government provides for the intensive training of Russian engineers and workers in practically all depaltments of the company. As soon as they have completed their studies they will return to Russia and their places here will be taken by others.

Fourteen who came here with the first group in July a year ago already have returned and ten of the 144 now here will return this month. Eventually 500 Russians will have spent an average of not less than six months each in the plant.

Part of the great industrialization plan of the soviets is the erection by the government of the autostroy plant near Nijni Novgorod on the Volga River. S. Bondarchik, head of the group of Russians now here, said today the production of automobile parts should be well under way in the autostroy plant by the end of next year.

PLANT BEING BUILT

When completed the autostroy plant will have a capacity of 140,000 cars annually and it will be so designed that production can be extended to 300,000 cars annually.

"The Russian engineers and technicians here are employees of autostroy, which translated means automobile builders," said Mr. Bondarchik. "However, there are some from the other soviet trusts, such as electricians, textile engineers, rubber experts and so on. Each man is engaged in the studies relating to his own work and when he completes them he returns to Russia."

Mr. Bondarchik said 9000 persons are being employed in the building of the main plant of Nijni Novgorod and the community to accommodate those who will work it. Production will be undertaken a little at a time as the plant progresses.

make-up of the House under the new apportionment law. Some of their calculations made a year ago already have been overturned, the latest developments being an indication Georgia will lose two Congressmen instead of none as had previously been figured. New York likely will gain two instead of losing one. Texas might gain three instead of two, and California nine instead of six. Minnesota probably will lose one instead of maintaining her delegation of ten as at present, and Ohio may gain only one instead of three as had been forecast.

The actual changes in a number of instances cannot be determined until the remaining eleven States have reported their population.

A tabulation of the actual and estimated increases indicated that in the recasting of the House, the seats must be shifted about among the States to provide equal representation for 31,420,948 persons.

These seats will automatically be changed by the Census Bureau if Congress fails to act in the coming session.

Mrs. G. W. Patterson, Jr., Asks Freedom After Long Wait for Missing Spouse

NEW YORK, July 20. (Exclusive) After waiting five years for the return of her husband, who is believed to have leaped to his death from an ocean liner, Mrs. George W. Patterson, Jr., has asked the New York Supreme Court for an Enoch Arden divorce.

The Pattersons were married July 4, 1924, at Simsbury, Ct., where her parents have a summer home. Mrs. Patterson, who was Grace Hendrick, had been one of the most active members of the younger set in New York society, and the wedding was one of the events of the season. One of its features was the presence, in a special pew at the church, of her four pet dogs.

DAMAGING DROUGHT HERALDED AS ACTUALITY

KANSAS CITY, July 20. (AP)—A damaging drought in many parts of Missouri, Kansas, and Oklahoma today was heralded as an actuality, as high temperatures continued through the district.

At Kansas City the government thermometer registered 101 deg., the high mark of the day, at 4:20 p.m. Topeka reported 102 deg. and Wichita 101. Throughout the section similar thermometer readings added to the woes of farmers and city folk alike.

One death in Kansas City was attributed to the heat. B. O. Carver, 67 years of age, died of a heart attack, induced, a deputy Coroner said, by the torrid temperature.

In January, February, March and April, snowfall, which ordinarily totals 14.12 inches, aggregated 19.3 inches, but 18.3 inches, virtually all, fell in January.

In the larger cities lawns are browning before the consistent warm rays of the sun. Many Kansas City apartment dwellers last night deserted their bedrooms for the comparative coolness of the parks.

At Wichita, Kan., H. L. Hildwein, county farm agent, said "hundreds of acres of corn which at one time gave promise of a bumper crop, will be lost entirely unless it rains within the next day or two."

No immediate relief from the heat is promised, but forecasts indicate unsettled weather, with probable showers, later in the week.

CORN LOSS VIEWED AS WHEAT-PROBLEM AID

TOPEKA (Kan.) July 20. (Exclusive)—Kansas is a furnace and damage to the corn crop by the heat wave and drought now is affecting the wheat situation, which is the core of the political campaign for the primaries on August 5, next.

With the corn belt an oven, sweltering under temperatures of 102 and higher, and the skies dry for weeks, the corn deterioration now is being spoken of as a possible aid in the wheat-surplus problem. Reports are pouring in that farmers are feeding their 60-cent wheat to hogs and cattle. Some experts are urging that the Federal Farm Board abandon its wheat acreage reduction plan and, instead, consider the advisability of seeking to get the wheat surplus set aside for feed. It is a new angle in the controversy over acreage curtailment, which has been raging between Alexander Legge, head of the Farm Board, Secretary of Agriculture Hyde and Gov. Reed.

HOOVER SPENDS DAY BENEATH FAN

WASHINGTON, July 20. (AP)—Like most other residents of the capital, President Hoover spent the Sabbath under an electric fan, seeking relief from the intense heat.

The Chief Executive and Mrs. Hoover remained at the White House until late in the day, when they took an hour's automobile ride about the city, mostly in Rock Creek Park, a wooded gorge which is the coolest place in the city.

Their youngest son, Allan, left today to resume work at the New Jersey factory where he is employed during his vacation from Harvard.

Nation Commemorates Its Centenary of Liberty

Crowds Cheer ex-Soldiers in Brussels Parade

Blind and Maimed Led by Weeping War Mothers

BRUSSELS, July 20. (AP)—Amid cheering crowds frantic with enthusiasm, an army of former soldiers marched through flag-decorated streets today in commemoration of the centenary of Belgium's independence.

Preceded by the war mothers and widows, many of whom were weeping, an impressive group of war blinded and mutilated, the latter in flower-covered automobiles, appeared in the line of march. The veterans, with flying colors, and led by their former regimental chiefs in mufti, marched for two hours, halting en route to the Palace to place wreaths on the Unknown Soldier's tomb.

KING VIEWS PARADE

Arriving at the Royal Palace, the procession marched past the soldier King of Belgium, who stood surrounded by military attaches from the Allied countries' legations, and delegations representing the veterans.

After the King had conferred the Grand Cross of the Order of Leopold on some former soldiers, 150 modest heroes who had received the Order of Leopold on the battlefield were his guests at lunch. The Duke of Brabant, Charles De Broqueville, Minister of National Defense, and Burgomaster Max also attended the lunch.

Before the victory march, the Queen handed the national colors to a group of war blind who came to the gardens of the royal palace for the ceremony. They carried the colors in parade. The King and Queen had a comforting word for each of the maimed heroes.

LIBERTY WON IN 1830

On the occasion of the independence commemoration, the Duke of Brabant received the medal of a voluntary combatant in the World War. The medal was conferred by a royal decree and the Duke was promoted to the rank of major in the First Grenadier Regiment. Prince Leopold is also entitled to the same medal as he enlisted in 1915 and endured the trench life. He was a sergeant when the Armistice was signed.

It was in 1830 that Belgium broke away from the kingdom of the Netherlands, which had been established by the treaty of Vienna in 1815. After disturbance in August, 1830, a provisional government was established. William I appealed to the great powers to intervene. They did so, but gave the throne to Leopold I, of the house of Saxe-Coburg, who became King on July 21, 1831.

JUAREZ VOTING TURNS TO RIOT

Governor's election had not been made public.

Manuel Prieto followers in Juarez had conceded defeat, but were protesting that their right to vote was denied and planned a protest to the Federal government claiming unfairness and coercion by police.

Ortiz expected to win by a plurality of more than 60,000 votes, but it was not considered likely that the election returns would be officially announced until tomorrow or possibly later in the week.

Antonio Corona, stormy figure in Chihuahua State, was defeated in his race for the State Legislature from the Juarez district by Arturo N. Flores, brother of Gustavo Flores, Mayor of Juarez.

Juarez became quiet shortly after Zaldivar was killed. E. Rivera, Juarez Police Chief, immediately ordered all persons who had been drinking from the streets. He also issued orders that no person ride on trucks for political purposes and that any person found carrying knives, pistols or clubs be arrested.

Outlying districts tonight reported quiet elections but gave Ortiz a lead in every instance.

Dispatches from Chihuahua City, where most of the election riots were expected, said the city had been without disorder.

NINE FIRES SET BY INCENDIARY

Northern Placer County Resorts Menaced

Thousand Men Promptly Control Them

Sheepherder Blamed for Applying Torch

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20. (Exclusive)—Incendiary forest fires, nine in number, set early this morning in northern Placer county, between Auburn and Nevada City, gave the mountain district and forestry officials one of the worst scares of the present season.

The fires were discovered by forestry lookouts and promptly reported. More than 1000 men, hurriedly summoned from Auburn, Grass Valley, Nevada City and other towns along the main highway from Sacramento to Truckee, were rushed to the endangered area, which borders on one of the chief resort districts of the mountains.

Under the direction of forest rangers the big force brought the nine fires under control within two hours after 500 acres had been burned over.

State Forester H. P. Pratt reported the danger over at noon and ordered his men to co-operate with United States forestry officials and the Sheriff's men from Placer county in an endeavor to apprehend the person or persons responsible for the fires. The area burned over is chiefly brush and young timber. Sheep herders are blamed for the fires.

The fire on the edge of the Tahoe National Forest, which broke out Saturday morning and threatened to spread into the national park, was brought under control this morning. It was confined to an area of 600 acres lying between two main highways and the Kaweah River.

...FIRE DISCOVERED ...KAWEAH RIVER

...THREE RIVERS, July 20. (AP)—...than 250 men are on a new fire line at the base of Cahoon Mountain above the Maxon ranch ten miles above here tonight, battling a brush and small timber fire.

Scarcely had the Pumpkin Hollow fire below the Sequoia National Park boundary been declared under control, than the new outbreak was discovered today on the South Fork of the Kaweah River.

Despite the work of the strong force of fighters the flames were eating their way toward the Salt Creek pinery, where great damage might be done in a short time.

The present fire is well below the national park boundary line.

Four trucks, loaded with fifty men each, went through here this afternoon for the fire line. The men had been recruited in valley towns.

Fire fighters are led by State Fire Warden Cecil Metcalf of Porterville, Fire Inspector R. V. Wood, whose headquarters are at Bakersfield, Kenneth Savage and Charles Rice of the Three Rivers Fire Association, Lawrence Cook, chief ranger of Sequoia National Park, and other rangers and wardens.

LARGE AREA BURNED NEAR OREGON LINE

MEDFORD (Or.) July 20. (AP)—The Forest Service said tonight a fire is burning in timber near the Oregon line in the Hungry Creek district in California. The blaze covered several hundred acres of land logged over by the Hilt California mills. The fire is partly under control tonight and little damage is expected.

Zaro Agha's Tale of Years Borne Out by Doctor

Man in Third Childhood Now, Says Physician

NEW YORK, July 20. (Exclusive) Zaro Agha, Moslem sesquicentenarian, submitted to the first medical examination of his visit to this country today and discovered that he is in his third childhood.

His pink old pate, bald for a century except for a thinning stubble of gray, is sprouting a new growth of hair—thick black hair at that. Zaro sat in an easy chair in his suite at the Commodore and thoughtfully explored this further evidence of the rejuvenation which is at hand. The new hairs stuck up like pin feathers. He smiled his toothless smile and exclaimed:

"Yeh, yeh, it is as I said. I will live forever."

Perhaps this new youth which has come to Zaro in the third century he has witnessed makes him overoptimistic. But the physicians who visited him this morning expressed the belief that the old man is good for fifteen or twenty years yet.

The physician declared that Zaro appeared to be in splendid condition.

"I see no reason to doubt the claim that he is 156 years old," said the doctor.

Monday, according to Salvin Harris, Zaro's American manager, a group of physicians will call on the claimant to the world's longevity championship and make arrangements for his examination by specialists in every branch of medicine.

Zaro Agha celebrated his third day in America by refusing a drink. He has been refusing a drink for 156 years, according to his friends, but today he refused it in front of a moving-picture camera and accompanied it with a vigorous and spontaneous antialcohol speech, notwithstanding that Asim Redvan, his sponsor, had asserted that Zaro had rejected the overtures of American drys to campaign for prohibition here.

Brooklyn Miss Refuses to Go Back to Father, a Total Stranger

NEW YORK, July 20. (Exclusive) Elsie Burkhard, 17-year-old Brooklyn girl, is back home with her uncle and foster-mother after choosing between them and her father. And the court approved her decision.

For sixteen years the uncle and his wife have taken care of Elsie. Recently the girl's father demanded her return to him. The case was taken into court. The judge, apparently believing that Elsie was capable of deciding for herself, permitted her to choose. The girl declared she did not know her father after all these years, and announced her intention of remaining with the couple who raised her.

MacDonald and Advisers Reach San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20. (AP)—John MacDonald, witness whose testimony in 1916 helped send Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings to prison for asserted participation in the Preparedness Day bombing here, returned to San Francisco at 7 o'clock tonight, this time as the convicted men's chief hope for pardons.

Arriving with MacDonald were his attorneys, Hilary Gans and Charles Ruzicka, both of Baltimore, and E. N. Nockels, secretary of the Federation of Labor, Chicago.

Only newspaper men were on hand to meet the group at the Ferry Building when the Santa Fe Railroad ferry docked. MacDonald and his companions immediately entered a taxicab and were taken to a downtown hotel.

SHOOTING ORGY FATAL TO THREE

Estate Caretaker Suddenly Goes Crazy

Son and Daughter of Owner Badly Wounded

Police Chief Among Victims as Posse Forms

WILKES-BARRE (Pa.) July 20. (AP)—Three persons are dead and two others badly wounded as a result of a shooting orgy last night and today, started by a suddenly crazed caretaker of a Lehman Heights estate here.

The caretaker, Paul Skopka, after holding at bay a posse organized to hunt him down, reserved his last shotgun shell to kill himself.

The other dead were Harry D. Sordoni, 52 years of age, of Kingston, owner of the estate on which the shooting occurred, and a brother of State Senator A. J. Sordoni, and Capt. John T. Ruth, 50, Police Chief and deputy Sheriff, who was killed from ambush.

TWO WOUNDED

The wounded are: Frieda Sordoni, 15, daughter of Sordoni, shot in one arm as she fled in her automobile for assistance; and Francis Sordoni, 31, son of the slain estate owner, shot in the leg as he went to his father's aid.

According to information supplied by Frieda and Francis Sordoni, members of the family were unpacking articles from the estate here when Skopka suddenly appeared carrying a double-barreled shotgun.

Without warning he opened fire felling the elderly Sordoni.

Mrs. Sordoni fainted. Frieda, leaping into the driving seat of the Sordoni automobile, started for aid. Again Skopka blazed away, striking the girl in the right arm. A second shot shattered the windshield, fragments of the glass piercing her left wrist.

Despite these injuries she succeeded in driving away for aid.

Francis made for Skopka, but a quickly fired shell felled him.

The elder Sordoni died early today in a hospital.

FIVE SHOTS FIRED

Frieda said five shots were fired, four containing ballshot, the fifth scatter-shot.

State police, county detectives and Capt. Ruth with Patrolman John Higgins of Harvey's Lake went to the Sordoni farm. Augmented by residents who formed a posse, the Sordoni estate was surrounded. At dawn Capt. Ruth, returning from a search of the countryside, was shot from ambush as he stepped from his machine.

Skopka fled to the woods, the posse in close pursuit. As his pursuers closed in on him, Skopka fired a shot over their heads and then fired the last shell into his brain.

Police believe he was stricken suddenly with a homicidal mania.

HOME-FIGHTS ESSAYS GET TEACHER IN BAD

CARLSTADT (N. J.) July 20. (Exclusive)—Charges preferred by irate mothers and fathers that Miss Gertrude Hennig, public school-teacher, required her sixth-grade pupils to write essays on whether their parents fought at home, and if so, why, are to be given a hearing by the school board on Tuesday. Miss Hennig sent the essays to the parents for approval. Further accusations will be that Miss Hennig also threw a book at one of her boy pupils and, missing him, hit the little daughter of Borough Clerk White.

Federal Engineers Devise Accurate Instrument

Mt. Whitney Loses Four Feet in Height on Resurvey

Apparatus Invaluable When Altitude is Sought

WASHINGTON, July 20. (NANA) A new surveying instrument with a standard of accuracy better than sixty-three-millionths of an inch, thus permitting the finest measurements ever attempted in field work has been designed and constructed for the United States Geological Survey by Capt. R. L. Atkinson, chief of the Division of Field Equipment.

The instrument is a precise level for use in determining altitudes above sea level and its use already has reduced the official altitude of Mt. Whitney, Cal., the highest peak in the continental United States, four and a half feet. The extra altitude was due to an accumulated error impossible to avoid with the old instruments. Changes of like magnitude are expected for other mountains.

PRECISION NEED

Precise measurements of altitudes in the Rocky Mountain area are essential for the study of earthquakes. Loss within the next few years of a few inches, which could not be detected by the old instruments, would indicate that Mt. Whitney is "slipping."

The altitude of any spot in the United States is calculated from leveling observations taken at intervals of from nine to 300 feet from a base station at "sea level" with due allowance for such factors as the survature of the earth. The error of any single observation is very slight and such instrumental inaccuracies tend to balance each other, but in any long line of observations the accumulated error may be considerable. The method of making the observation is simply the sighting of the top and bottom of a scaled rod through a telescope with cross hairs, thus obtaining the elements of a triangle which can be calculated.

CLUMSY DEVICE

But for this purpose the observing instrument itself must be attached to the side of the telescope consisting of a bubble in an alcohol-ether mixture. This was a somewhat clumsy device because the surveyor was obliged to set his instrument independently of taking his sights. Now, by a mirror arrangement, both operations are practically simultaneous without the observer changing his position. At the very second the sight is taken the observer knows that the instrument is level.

Another element of error came from the use of wooden surveying rods which changed in length slightly through absorbing and giving off moisture. The difference in such a rod at sea level and in the exceedingly dry atmosphere of Mt. Whitney might even be a few thousandths of an inch, thus throwing out badly a long series of observations. But most metals were even worse than wood because of their tendency to expand with heat. Capt. Atkinson devised an invar rod — a nickle-steel alloy with a coefficient of expansion of less than one-two millionths of an inch per degree centigrade.

ONE-MAN JOB

The work, which only Capt. Atkinson can do, is carried out in a closed room kept at a temperature constant to an almost unbelievable precision. Another person entering the room will effect the temperature and thus increase the length of the metal enough to affect the accuracy of the machine. Even a change in the emotions of the operator, according to Capt. Atkinson, might cause a change. He must be careful not to lose his temper. He also must make allowance, almost instinctive, for the variations in the length of the several kinds of metal at the observed temperature.

With these possibilities of error eliminated the instrument is still further perfected by a case and works made of stainless steel, whose expansion with heat has been determined to be almost precisely that of glass, so that there is no warping due to the pull of the different elements.

PLATINUM HAIRS

Then the cross hairs are of platinum wire drawn to a fineness of one-ten-thousandth of an inch. Hitherto the material generally used has been a strand from a cocoon but this has a tendency to sag slightly in hot, moist climates, so that an element of error is introduced.

By an ingenious mounting of the lens Capt. Atkinson has been able to make such good use of light that the working day of field surveyors, which hitherto has been at an end practically with the first signs of dusk, can be extended by approximately one hour. This is of especial importance because of the shortness of the season during which parties can remain in the field.

BYRD DOGS GUARDED BY SPECIALIST

Pick of Huskies Held in Readiness for Next Trip to Cold Regions

WASHINGTON, July 20. (AP)—To insure their speed and "pep" for a possible second expedition to the Antarctic by Rear-Admiral Boyrd, thirty-six Labrador huskies were given the first of a series of regular inspections last week by Dr. David E. Buckingham, for thirty-five years, health guardian of White House dogs.

The huskies, now confined on a big farm deep in the Berkshires, will form the nucleus for the pulling power of the sledges. If a second dash into the frozen wastes is made.

They are the pick of the fifty-six dogs that returned from the big adventure with Byrd. Some were born in the shadow of the Antarctic. When in good condition, with five dogs to a sled, they can average ninety miles a day.

They made the change from cold to warm climate in fine shape. It is Dr. Buckingham's task to keep them that way through the hot months and until Commander Byrd makes known his decision as to a second expedition.

MAIL TUBES PROPOSED FOR SPEED

Congress Will Consider Four Bills at December Session

WASHINGTON, July 20. (AP)—Shooting cans of mail through underground tubes from airport to postoffice is the proposal of four Congressmen for speeding up the air mail.

Awaiting action in the session beginning in December are four House bills which would provide systems of pneumatic tubes to replace motor trucks which often must weave through miles of heavy traffic.

The Postoffice Department, however, has withheld backing of the underground carriers until airports and air-mail service are more permanent.

Shortcomings of the underground delivery, says T. G. Mallalieu, superintendent in charge of the systems in operation, are cost and inability to handle packages.

"Rental of the pneumatic system that connects the main postoffice and twenty-three large postal stations in New York," he points out, "amounts to $19,500 a mile annually.

INDIA CHANTING HYMNS OF SPITE

Prayer Services Give Way to Musical Movement

Verses Designed to Aid in Independence Drive

Singers Start Out in Groups at 5 a.m. Daily

BOMBAY (India) July 20. (AP)—Hymns of spite, designed to encourage the expansion of swaraj, or the independence struggle, are replacing the prayer services which the Hindus observe the first thing every morning.

The movement, started in the densely populated centers of Bombay, is now being carried into the rural districts as well as into the towns and villages, the Nationalists continuing their campaign to stimulate the Gandhi movement for passive resistance. The efforts go on regardless of the peace steps taken by Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru and M. Jayakar, Indian leaders, to confer with Mahatma Gandhi and other imprisoned leaders in the near future with a view to persuading them to help in restoring normal conditions.

SUNG AS CHANTS

The hymn singers start out in groups about 5 a.m. daily and go from one block to another singing in front of houses. Tenements and flats, in which a large proportion of the Bombay Indians live, are particularly sought. The songs are sung in a sort of chant by those of the Congress party who are able to read the words in the booklets which Congress has been printing in great numbers.

Standing in the streets, the singers urge housewives, their husbands, and all the members of families to join in these early-morning rounds. The groups gain in numbers as the singing continues. They awaken sleepers as they chant verse after verse about Gandhi and all he has done and is attempting in his campaign to "free India."

One verse begins:

"Dawn has come—get out of beds!"

The whole song is chanted in the vernacular. Another stanza starts:

"Don't you hear the bugle sounding? It's calling for your aid in the struggle against imperialism!"

ALL URGED TO ACT

The different verses urge everyone to action. Another one reads:

"How can you sit idle when others are doing so much in the interest of our native lands?"

One verse urges men, women and children to use the spinning wheel, or charka, following Gandhi's lead, and everybody to wear homespun, and "we'll surely win our fight for independence if all of you take the pledge to buy no foreign goods."

Another verse is devoted to making India dry, as advocated by Gandhi. Men are urged to give up toddy and all strong drink not only for their good but for the cause of independence and as a means of hitting the government's pocketbook by depriving it of the excise tax.

Leaders say the early morning hymns are doing much to break down caste hatred by bringing neighbors closer together.

STEPS TAKEN FOR MEDIATION

POONA (India) July 20. (AP)—J. E. B. Hotson, member of the Bombay Governor's Council, announced today, in the absence of Gov. Sir Frederick Sykes at Simla, that steps have been taken to forward the proposed mediation with Mahatma Gandhi and other Nationalist leaders.

He said Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru and M. Jayajar, who plan a conference with the Nationalist leaders in the hope of restoring India to normal conditions, have been asked to get in touch with him and arrange for seeing the imprisoned leaders. Mr. Hotson added that he has not yet heard from Sapru and Jayajar, and lacks information as to where they are and when they will arrive here.

INDIANS RESENT WHITES DIGGING UP THEIR GRAVES

UTICA (Ill.) July 20. (Exclusive)—Arguing that it is no more right for white men to dig up Indian graves than it would be for Indians to start excavating in the whites' cemeteries, a group of some 250 Winnebagos who are encamped at Starved Rock State Park are drafting a protest to Gov. Emmerson of Illinois and Gov. Kohler of Wisconsin asking that the digging work be ordered stopped.

The protest was decided on after the Indians who came to the rock to spend a few weeks camping on the grounds over which their ancestors fought found University of Illinois excavators busily engaged in digging into the burial mounds which abound in this section. Between Utica and the Illinois River there are nineteen mounds, and many of these already have been opened. The university excavators are also opening graves on Mitchell's Island in the river almost overlooking the rock, and in the course of their operations have uncovered the site of a one-time Indian village.

The protest is to be read and formally signed at a pow-wow to be held at the Indian camp near the rock the last week in July.

NEW PLANS DRAWN FOR SKYSCRAPER

Empire State Building to Have 102 Stories Instead of Mere Eighty-four

NEW YORK, July 20. (Exclusive) Revised plans for the Empire State Building under construction at Thirty-fourth street and Fifth avenue on the old Waldorf-Astoria Hotel site call for a structure of 102 stories instead of a mere eighty-four, plus an observation tower, as originally planned.

It will now rise 1248 feet above Fifth avenue, an addition of 200 feet called for in the plans making the structure just seventy-two feet short of a quarter of a mile high.

Plans for this addition to the top of the building were announced today by ex-Gov. Smith, in charge of the building operations. It was necessary also to provide for the mooring mast and air ship terminal by which transoceanic passengers on the Zeppelin air liners of the future, it is hoped, will be able to embark and disembark in the heart of the city.

Elevator shafts will be extended through the observation room at the eighty-sixth floor to the topmost floor, which will serve as a waiting place for air travelers. A gangway arrangement, it is stated, will be utilized to transfer the passengers between the moored dirigibles and the passenger station almost in the clouds atop the towering office building.

Snake Poison Death Averted

ST. LOUIS, July 20. (AP)—In an effort to save his wife from death after she was bitten by a copperhead snake, Edmund Vaniseghem of St. Louis Saturday sucked the poison from the snake-bite wound from her instep.

Other campers found and killed the snake. It was miles to town and Vaniseghem feared the poison, if permitted to remain in his wife's system, would cause her death before he could get her to a doctor, he cut the wound slightly and sucked out the poison. Physicians here tonight are confident she will recover.

WASHINGTON, July 20. (Exc dive)—It looks like a bad year Senators who bolted their pa Presidential candidates in 1928.

All three of the bolting Senato two of them Democrats and one Republican, have become involv in serious trouble in their effo to obtain renomination and re-ele tion.

One of the three, Senator Sim mons, Democrat, North Carolin boasting the longest continuo service record of any member the Senate, already has been d feated for renomination.

Another, J. Thomas Heflin, Dem crat, Alabama, heretofore consi ered unbeatable, has been refus the right to run for renominati as a Democrat and is in danger defeat as an independent in N vember.

The third, Senator Norris, R publican, Nebraska, for years power in his own State and lead of the Senate radical group, h fact escaped being forced off t Republican primary ballot and fin himself confronted with formidab opposition in November if he renominated next month.

REGULARITY ISSUE

The issue of party regularity h proved the principal trouble-mak for all three Senators. Senato Simmons and Heflin in the 19 campaign openly announced the willingness to support Alfred Smith, the Democratic President nominee, while Senator Nor similarly bolted Herbert Hoov the Presidential nominee of h party.

Until Senator Simmons lent h aid to the Hoover cause in Nor Carolina, contributing to the R publican victory in that State, had been for thirty years the u disputed boss of the Democrat party. Originally gaining his pow by leading a successful white s premacy campaign, his former fo lowers who remained regular we unwilling to forgive his defectio Senator Simmons went down to d feat in the June 7 primaries at t hands of J. W. Bailey, who is e pected to win over Representati Pritchard, the Republican nomine in November.

BANKHEAD FAVORED

Senator Heflin had no oppositio for renomination six years ago a if his name were to appear on t ballot for the primary to be held August 12 he probably would be a sured of victory again this ye The Democratic State Committe however, successfully barred hi from seeking renomination as Democrat because of his oppositio to the party Presidential nomin two years ago. Appeals to t courts have been futile and Senat Heflin has been compelled to s re-election as an independent, whi means in a tide-bound Democrat State such as Alabama that t odds are against him. Leading co tenders for the Democratic nomin tion are John H. Bankhead, son a former Senator and brother Representative Bankhead and Fre erick I. Thompson, a newspap publisher who was a member of t Shipping Board during the Wils administration. Mr. Bankhead i believed to have the better chan of nomination and if nominated likely to be elected.

Senators Simmons and Hefl raised the prohibition and religio issues against Smith. Senat Norris, although classed as a c bolted the dry Hoover to take t stump for the wet Smith, justif ing his action by the latter's sta on the "power trust" and other i sues in which the radicals are inte ested.

DRYS RESENTFUL

Nebraska drys are reported to resentful against Senator Nor and with conservative Republica solidly lined up against him the r election of the radical leader see in doubt. Senator Norris was pr pared to run as an independent a the Secretary of State of N braska held valid the petition fil by another George W. Norris, grocery clerk. A court ruling i validating the other Norris pe tition made it unnecessary for Sen ator Norris to withdraw from t Republican ballot. In the electio however, Senator Norris, if renom inated, must run against form Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, w is expected to be the Democra nominee. The regular Republica are backing William W. Stebbi present State treasurer, again Senator Norris in the primaries.

Bank Opposition Fatal for Simmons

Norris and Heflin Carry Handicaps

WASHINGTON, July 20. (Exclusive)—It looks like a bad year for Senators who bolted their party Presidential candidates in 1928.

Another, J. Thomas Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, heretofore considered unbeatable, has been refused the right to run for renomination as a Democrat and is in danger of defeat as an independent in November.

The third Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, for years a power in his own State and leader of the Senate radical group, has just escaped being forced off the Republican primary ballot and finds himself confronted with formidable opposition in November if he is renominated next month.

REGULARITY ISSUE

The issue of party regularity has proved the principal trouble-maker for all three Senators. Senators Simmons and Heflin in the 1928 campaign openly announced their willingness to support Alfred E. Smith, the Democratic Presidential nominee, while Senator Norris openly hailed Herbert Hoover, Republican nominee of his party.

Both Senator Simmons lent his aid to the Hoover cause in North Carolina, contributing to the Republican victory in that State, he has been, for thirty years the undisputed boss of the Democratic party. Originally gaining his power by leading a successful white supremacy campaign, his former followers who remained regular were willing to forgive his defection. Senator Simmons went down to defeat in the June 7 primaries at the hands of J. W. Bailey, who is expected to win over Representative Lyndsay Warren, the Republican nominee, in November.

BANKHEAD FAVORED

Senator Heflin had no opposition for renomination six years ago and his name were to appear on the ballot for the primary to be held on August 12 he probably would be assured of victory again this year. The Democratic State Committee, however, successfully barred him from seeking renomination as a Democrat because of his opposition to the party Presidential nominee two years ago. Mr. Bankhead is believed to have the better chance of nomination and if nominated is sure to be elected.

Senators Simmons and Heflin made the prohibition and religious issue against Smith. Senator Norris, although classed as a dry voted for dry Hoover to take the place for the wet Smith, justifying his action by the latter's stand in the "power trust" and other issues which the radicals are interested.

BETS RESENTFUL

Nebraska drys are reported to be resentful against Senator Norris for his conservative Republicans actively lined up against him the reelection of the radical leader seems certain. Senator Norris was prepared to run as an independent after the Secretary of State of Nebraska had held valid the petition filed by nominating George W. Norris, a Democratic dark. A court ruling invalidating the other Norris petitions made it unnecessary for Senator Norris to withdraw from the Republican ballot. In the election, however, Senator Norris, if renominated, must run against former Governor Gilbert M. Hitchcock, who is expected to be the Democratic nominee. The regular Republicans are backing William W. Stebbins, present State treasurer, against Senator Norris in the primaries.

TWO PLANES AIM AT MARK OF HUNTERS

Start of New Endurance Flights Made in New York Almost Simultaneously

ROOSEVELT FIELD (N. Y.) July 20. (AP)—Two planes took off from here tonight, both seeking to break the refueling endurance record of almost 554 hours set by the Hunter brothers in Chicago.

The first, containing Louis Reichers and Robert J. Black, Army Reserve pilots, ascended at 7:34 p.m. (E.S.T.) and the second, piloted by Tex Andling of Rosebud, Tex., and Jack Charleson of Ottawa, hopped off fifty-five seconds later.

Reichers and Black took off yesterday in an assault on the endurance record, but were forced down this morning after about thirteen and one-half hours in the air. The refueling ship, in maneuvering to put gasoline aboard, had damaged the endurance plane's propeller, and a storage battery had overturned, spilling liquid which ate away some of the fuselage.

WOMAN SHOT BY SON DIES

Jersey City Youth Held on Murder Charge

Row Over Choice of Fiancee Cause of Tragedy

Mother Opposed Marriage to Working-girl

JERSEY CITY (N. J.) July 20. (Exclusive)—Royal C. McDonald, 24 years of age, faced a murder charge today following the death of his mother, Mrs. Gladys McDonald, whom he shot in their home here last Tuesday.

The shooting occurred after the mother, who wished him to marry into society, had refused to consent to young McDonald's marriage to Miss Marjorie Hundery, a working-girl, 21, of Bayonne, N. J. One bullet struck Mrs. McDonald in the left temple and another in the side. She died late last night in a Jersey City hospital.

McDonald had taken Miss Hundery and her mother to his home to plead with his mother that she agree to his marriage to the girl. When she refused, declaring that Miss Hundery was not a fit mate for her son, he took the girl back to Bayonne.

Returning in a frenzy of hate he snatched a gun from a front-room drawer and shot his mother down. He surrendered and was held without bail pending the outcome of his mother's wounds.

France and Germany Want Dutch Cloud Squeezer to Work for Them

THE HAGUE, July 20. (Exclusive)—The successful experiments which the Dutch rainmaker, Herr Veraart, carried on recently have received official recognition by several European countries. Germany has already invited him to operate in certain arid sections and now a French agricultural syndicate has invited him to produce rain on a large scale in Algiers, where rainfalls are rare.

The method employed by Veraart in ordinary climatic conditions is to go up in an airplane and sprinkle ice dust on the clouds. This is followed by a heavy rainfall. In a hot climate the same method is employed with a chemical instead of ice dust.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

GUADALUPE FUR SEAL SOUGHT

Expedition Sails From San Diego to Verify Rumors

Thought Extinct for Years, Some Still May Survive

Zoological Society Party Bound for Rock Island

SAN DIEGO, July 20.—In an attempt to verify rumors that the Guadalupe fur seal, generally considered extinct for years, still exists on Rock Island off the Lower California coast, a San Diego Zoological Society expedition, headed by Dr. Harry Weggeforth left this noon, using district tug Koka and the forty-foot auxiliary yacht Seaflower, loaned by Barney L. Effie, for the purpose.

The Guadalupe fur seal was believed exterminated some years ago. The last pair seen for some time were noted in 1892. Then in 1927, long after the species was considered extinct some fishermen caught two more and brought them to the zoo here. Two previous expeditions have proved fruitless but information of an undisclosed nature, and the asserted appearance of a skin on the market from time to time, has led zoo officials to conclude that the present trip may be crowned with success.

The capture of the illusive specimen, however, will not determine the success or failure of the trip. After an examination of the Guadalupe beaches, the major portion of the party will continue south of Scanlon's Lagoon, approximately 200 miles below the border on the west coast of Lower California, where they hope to observe and collect many interesting shore birds nesting there at this time of year. The Koka will be used for this part of the trip, the yacht returning to this port from Guadalupe Island.

Accompanying the party are representatives of the Bureau of Forestry, who will inspect the Cypress trees on Guadalupe. These trees, it seems, have some peculiar moisture-withstanding property, and the forestry experts hope to gain information aiding them in the production of moisture and fungus-resisting strains for mainland planting.

Contractor Gets Fined; Camp Held Insanitary

VENTURA, July 20.—Irving C. Roth, San Francisco contractor, was fined $100 in Hueneme Justice Court yesterday on four complaints charging him with negligence in allowing his construction camp on Anacapa Island to become insanitary.

The man was arrested by Fred J. Rugg, camp inspector with the State division of housing and sanitation, and Max Heinzman, county health inspector, who went to the island to survey conditions.

Roth is engaged in construction of a pier and base for a government lighthouse on the island. The officers charged his camp, which accommodated eighteen men, had crude lavatory facilities, that the men were eating in an insanitary open cookhouse, sleeping in the open, and that no bathing facilities were provided.

Rugg will be here two weeks more checking up on apricot and auto camps, he said today.

At the time of her husband's death, Mrs. Cardie was recovering from an illness, but the shock caused a relapse which resulted fatally this morning.

Joint funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 3 p.m. in the Turner & Stevens chapel. Dr. James Leishman, associate pastor of the Pasadena Presbyterian Church, will officiate.

Mr. Cardie was a retired Cleveland dry goods merchant. Mrs. Cardie was an only sister of Dr. R. W. Reynolds of 227 South Hill avenue.

Ontario-Chino Peach Pool to Total 1200 Tons

CHINO, July 20.—A total of 1200 tons of peaches is represented in the annual Ontario-Chino peach pool, it was announced by pool officials, after making a final check of the tonnage represented and declared the pool closed to further membership. Sixty grower-members signed up for the pool.

Officers of the pool today sent invitations to the canneries to submit bids for the pool. The members are not satisfied with the price of $36.50 offered by northern canneries, and expect at least $30 per ton for their fruit. It was announced that the heat of last week caused the peaches to delay in sizing, and is causing them to color a little ahead of time.

Another meeting, closed to all but members of the pool, is to be held this week, when the canneries' bids will be studied and the pool may be sold to the highest bidder.

LEADING INGLEWOOD MAN DIES AT BEACH

HERMOSA BEACH, July 20.—Thomas Malloy, prominent druggist of Inglewood, collapsed on the beach here this afternoon and died shortly afterward from an attack of acute indigestion. Malloy was a member of a picnic party on the beach which included his wife and four sons. County life guards and the Hermosa Beach fire department tried vainly for an hour to revive the stricken druggist with artificial respiration. The body was taken to the Beaver & Matson undertaking company in Inglewood. Malloy had been well known in Inglewood for many years, where he was associated with his two brothers in business.

MAN MAY BE HELD FOR FEDERAL COURT

GLENDALE, July 20.—Allen B. Stocker, held here on a charge of issuing a fictitious check, may be compelled to face trial in Federal Court before any action is taken against him in the State courts, Federal officials have notified Chief of Police J. D. Fraser that Stocker is wanted on a charge of stealing veterans' compensation blanks and of forging them for large amounts in New York. Stocker was arrested recently in San Francisco after he is asserted to have given a worthless check for $211.50 to William McMillan, president of the Federal Mortgage Company, as part payment on an automobile.

POMONA COUNCIL IN DEFI

Municipal Board Refuses Demands by Northside Water Company and Awaits Its Action

POMONA, July 20.—Refusing demands by the Northside Water Company to construct storage reservoirs in order to fulfill a purported agreement to furnish a "continuous flow" of sewage water to them, the City of Pomona, through an agreement reached at a recent special session of the City Council, adopted a resolution that "the Northside Water Company be permitted to bring action against the city as soon as it desires."

The asserted agreement relates to a contract entered into by the city of Pomona with the water company for the sale to the latter of sewage water from the local disposal plant. A contract also entered into by the city and S. Gamboa of Spadra for the sale of sewage water to him is to be canceled and all the water metered to the water company, according to the decision reached by the Council today.

It is asserted that the contract with the water concern calls for a flow of not less than fifty inches and not to exceed 400 inches, the company assertedly threatening suit if at any time this falls below fifty inches. At the same time, according to city officials, the company has complained that it could not handle the 400 inches maximum at certain periods, hence the demand upon the city to construct storage reservoirs at city expense to enable the company to better control the disposition of the water to its clients.

That the city will attempt at all times to fulfill the letter of the agreement if physically possible, was indicated by Mayor C. C. Caves. However, it is certain that the demands of the water company through its representatives, W. D. Frederick and Fred B. Palmer, that the city construct reservoirs will be refused.

WOMEN PLAN EXPOSITION

San Diego Association Promoting Use of Products Made in That City Occupies Its New Offices

SAN DIEGO, July 20.—With the moving of headquarters of the Woman's 100 Per Cent Association to rooms in the Bridges Building at Sixth and C streets, plans are being made rapidly for the industrial exposition to be given under the auspices of that organization. Displays in the exposition will include all new industries, of which fourteen have been registered, in addition to artistic exhibits by members of the Associated Manufacturers.

The exposition will be held in the rooms formerly occupied by the Bledsoe Furniture Company. Their use for offices and for the exposition was given through the courtesy of Mrs. Bridges's attorney, Gordon Gray. The date for opening the displays to the public will be announced soon.

A. E. Holloway has donated electricity for the exposition, allowing the woman's organization to have display lights until 11 o'clock at night. The donation by the electric company is the result of recognition that converting the building into a scene of activity will add to the city's prosperity, according to Mrs. M. A. Fields, organizing secretary of the Woman's 100 Per Cent Association.

The decorations committee is headed by Maurice Braun. Assisting him are Mrs. Carolyn Dudley, Mrs. Emma R. Saylor, Miss Harriet Erb and Miss Jean Rittenhouse. This committee, exercising keen artistic ability, assures a display of the highest grade, of which the city will be proud, Mrs. Fields said yesterday.

The exhibits will be strictly educational in nature. Data and statistics will be given of firms' investments, taxes paid, pay roll and the support it is receiving, as well as the support that is lacking and which it is hoped to gain through organizing the buying power of the women of the city. In surveying the city's industries, the committees of the Woman's 100 Per Cent Association have reported that the chain-store groceries, which were about 20 per cent supporters of San Diego products, have in seven instances become 100 per cent in their purchasing, promoting and advertising of local food manufactures.

W.C.T.U. IN SPLIT OVER GOVERNOR

San Diego County Body to Decide Tomorrow on Choice of Indorsement

SAN DIEGO, July 20.—With a split already developed in the W.C.T.U. on indorsement of a candidate for Governor, the county organization will meet in Escondido Tuesday to determine its own choice of a candidate, it was learned today. Delegates from the county group returned from Los Angeles, where the State executive board had indorsed Gov. Young as the official W.C.T.U. candidate. Immediately the Los Angeles City Federation repeated a previous declaration in favor of Buron Fitts, District Attorney who, it was said, has made a big start at cleaning up the Angel City.

San Diego will choose Tuesday between the action of the State and city organization, with no "strings" to force it to follow the larger body, local W.C.T.U. officials said.

It was indicated that opinion in the county group was by no means unanimous, when one officer said that she "Thought the members would prefer Fitts," and another declared Young probably would be indorsed in line with the action of the State executive board.

The open-air meeting in Escondido Tuesday will decide the issue, according to Miss Astraea Nickerson, recording secretary of the county W.C.T.U. It will be the regular county executive session.

Candidates all have been invited to be present and state their positions, after which the delegates will determine their choice for county indorsement. State, county and probably city candidates will be considered at the meeting, it was said.

Fawns Crossing Mountain Roads Endanger Cars

MENTONE, July 20.—W. C. Malone, Deputy State and County Game Warden, says that young deer are proving to be a hazard to automobile driving in certain sections of the mountains.

Malone said that many fawn have been found dead or injured along mountain roads recently. Some of the animals have been run down during the day, but the majority of the accidents occur during the night. Twelve deer casualties have been reported. Tire marks near the scene of some of the tragedies show that the automobiles narrowly averted skidding over the grade into ravines below.

Automobile statistics, according to Malone, show that there is really more danger in hitting a small object than colliding with something large and firm, especially on mountain roads. A small object tends to veer an automobile to one side or the other, while a larger obstruction has a tendency to bring the machine to a stop. It has been suggested that signs be placed in the districts where the young deer abound. Malone said that this plan had been tried once before and proved a failure. His solution is to warn drivers through the various automobile clubs and the press. Young deer ranging on mountain highways in San Bernardino county are most likely to be found between Deep Creek and Big Bear Lake on the City Creek Road, according to Malone.

Capt. Krumm in Visit to Tampa

REDLANDS, July 20.—Capt. Theodore Krumm, City Councilman, who left recently on a vacation trip to Florida and possibly to Germany, is now at Tampa. Word has been received at his office here that Capt. Krumm is planning a trip to New York soon, where he will confer with several manufacturers regarding two patents he holds.

Capt. Krumm is especially interested in one of the patents, a hopper device for loading that is automatic and, more than that, is foolproof, he says. By an ingenious counterweight system, as soon as a pack is filled and removed, the counterweight closes the hopper so that none of the material is spilled. He has a model of the device at his office here.

Another device which has caused considerable interest is one which Capt. Krumm saw the need of in his seafaring days. That is of a lifeboat that can be filled and released, no matter to which side the ship lists. Capt. Krumm saw it happen many times when he was a sea captain. Vessels would go down and always they listed to one side or the other. The boats on the side away from the list were useless. They could not be launched. His device places the boat in the middle of the ship and then, by an ingenius arrangement, it can be released and launched on either side of the ship.

While in New York he will confer with several financiers regarding these two devices.

He writes that the weather across country was terrifically hot, but that it had been most delightful in Tampa.

ECLIPSE NOT TO BE SEEN ON PACIFIC

Mt. Wilson Observatory Director Says It Will Not View South Seas Event

PASADENA, July 20.—No Pacific Coast Observatory will take part in expeditions to view the solar eclipse that will be visible in the South Seas region in October, it was announced today by Dr. Walter S. Adams, director of the Mt. Wilson Observatory.

Dr. Adams said the Mt. Wilson Observatory is engaged in so much other important research at the present time that no astronomers could be spared for a long sea voyage.

The next solar eclipse to which Mt. Wilson will send observers will be visible in the Eastern United States in 1932.

The eclipse in October will be viewed by a party in charge of Prof. S. A. Mitchell of the University of Virginia, and by an expedition from the United States Naval Observatory in Washington.

Prof. Mitchell has made the following of eclipses in all parts of the world his special hobby. He has traveled more than 60,000 miles to observe seven major eclipses.

His party will sail from San Francisco on the 21st inst. Its destination will be Niuafou, in the Tonga group of South Sea Islands. The eclipse at that point will be of about two minutes' duration.

Many Notables Sojourning at Laguna Beach

LAGUNA BEACH, July 20.—Leo Podolski, famous Russian pianist and head of the Sherwood Music School of Chicago, is visiting here this week. He won both the Rubenstein and Liszt prizes at the Imperial Academy of Vienna. He has been soloist with the Chicago and San Francisco Symphony orchestras.

S. S. Van Dine, noted as a writer of mystery stories, is a guest at "Green Doors," the home of Antony Anderson. He is in the Southland assisting in the filming of his recent novel, "The Scarab Murder Case," at the Paramount studios.

Gertrude Ross, Los Angeles composer, was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Schwankovsky.

Prof. Steinfeldt, concert pianist and head of the College of Music, San Antonio, and family are guests here. Chico Marsolf, the celebrated Spanish dancer, was a guest during the week.

George Frederick Gleich or "Smoketree" George, as he is known in and around Palm Springs, has brought a collection of desert pictures to this city and is vacationing here. He lives ten months out of the year in the desert, miles from nowhere.

OIL BLAST VICTIM DIES

LONG BEACH, July 20.—John Peats, 33 years of age, of 714 Russell avenue, died in Seaside Hospital here today from burns received last Thursday in an explosion of gasoline at a Shell Oil Company refinery in Wilmington. The body has been sent to the Woods Mortuary, Wilmington.

History Repeats Itself, Parking Story Proves

PASADENA, July 20.—Frenzied motorists who tear their hair and go into tantrums as they circle block after block to find ten feet of parking space, may find solace in the fact that thirty-five years ago residents who hitched up their horses to go shopping experienced the same parking difficulties.

Proof that the mechanical age cannot be blamed for the widespread epidemic of "parkers' phobia" is furnished by a yellowed clipping of a local newspaper unearthed today.

Dated 1895, this clipping recites that "Many complaints have been heard that with an antihitching ordinance in effect and no place except the street for drivers to leave their horses, it is hard to find any way of disposing of an equipage while the owner is shopping. It has been suggested that a vacant lot near the center of town be leased and set apart as a hitching place for teams and saddle horses."

GAMBLING TABLES "PROPERTIES"

Equipment Taken in Raid at Bear Valley Held by Jury to be Only Part of Atmosphere Used in Recent "Old Glory" Pageant Presented There

BEAR VALLEY, July 20.—Dice tables, roulette tables and other gambling paraphernalia, confiscated in a raid in Bear Valley recently, was there merely as "properties" for the pageant "Old Glory," a jury in Justice Clifford Lynn's court in Bear Valley decided yesterday.

The prosecution case collapsed when Stephen Chalmers, author of "Take a Chance Tamarlane," took the stand and testified that the roulette table and other extensive gambling paraphernalia had been requested by him for use as properties in the pageant, which was presented on July 4-7. Scenes in the pageant called for a '49 dance and gambling hall. Chalmers, whose book was dramatised for the pageant, testified that he believed the defendants had procured the apparatus purely as a civic matter to aid the pageant. Pictures used in newspapers to advertise the pageant were taken in the poolroom, in which the gambling tables had been placed and a bar erected.

"It looked realistic enough," the author stated, "but that was what we sought to advertise the production."

The pageant was presented under the auspices of the Bear Lake Chamber of Commerce.

The accused gambling-house operators were H. A. Bynum, James Golding, Dwight Matthiesen, Lonnie Hays and Richard Sides. They were arrested at Bartlett's Camp.

Three dice tables, one complete blackjack outfit and a new roulette wheel, in addition to approximately 400 gallons of liquor, were discovered when the deputies rushed the house. An additional charge of possession of liquor was placed against the group, but this case has not yet been heard.

One of the men arrested at the house, John Duffy, paid a $50 fine the day after the raid when he pleaded guilty to a charge of visiting a gambling house. The jury, however, found that his companions were not guilty of operating the place.

ANCIENT INDENTURE SEEN

Ontario Attorney Displays Lease Made in 1745 When It Was Actually "Indented" in Old England

ONTARIO, July 19.—A. D. Mitchell, local attorney, has the evidence to prove that a crook had to be superlatively clever to forge a document in the eighteenth century. This evidence is an indenture, or legal lease, and gains its name by being indented in the upper portion. There was no carbon paper in those days and a plan was necessary to prevent duplication of the instrument.

When a legal paper was drawn up at that time it was started in the middle of the sheet. The text was written out in full and then the sheet was turned so the writing was upside down. On the blank half of the sheet the identical text was placed, the finished lease thus being in duplicate on the same sheet, one copy always appearing inverted. Then the sheet was cut in the middle, between the two copies, but cut in a manner as to leave notched dips in the edge. Thus both halves could be ascertained as of the same writing by fitting the notched edges together.

Mitchell acquired the document from a friend. It is dated 1745, and is a lease for "Great Oak Acre" in Somerset county, England. In the text the rent is shown as 25 pounds, 16 shillings, and a piece of gold, all of which would amount to about $130 at the present value of the English pound. Rental was to be paid at the rate of 7 shillings, 8 pence, on the days of the two most usual feasts, St. Michael the Archangel and that of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary. The document is about two feet by three feet in size.

PEACH SHIPMENT SETS MARK

Yucaipa Company Sends Total of 174,000 Pounds by Truck, Part of It Bound for England

YUCAIPA, July 20.—Yucaipa Valley Fruit Company made a record-shipment of peaches Friday, a total of 174,000 pounds. It was all moved by truck from the local plant, but part of it was billed to England as its final destination. The foreign consignment was five carloads of apples of the 1927 pack. The remainder of the shipment was composed of plums and peaches and was sent to the Los Angeles market. Other Yucaipa fruits have gone East this year, and this phase of marketing seems to be on an increase.

George Cairns, through firms which he represents, arranged for the shipment to the East of two carloads of Santa Rosa plums last week. One car went to Pittsburgh and the other to Kansas. The shipments were made on an f.o.b. basis of $47 a ton to the grower. This is not a high price, but is considered satisfactory this year by the growers who went into the deal and it is a profit at this figure.

Carl Mellor of Beaumont has been in the valley securing plums on an f.o.b. basis for shipment to Arizona, mostly. The fact that the peach crop is a failure in many sections of the Middle West this year has stimulated interest in shipments to the sections usually supplied by those districts, and it is believed by some growers that when the Hale season begins in Yucaipa an opportunity will be offered for f.o.b. shipments of this fruit.

So far the Yucaipa peach and plum crop is turning out better than expected both as to the yield and the prices. Following the bumper crop of last year, a lighter crop was forecast this year. However, during the rush season of the past two weeks growers have been finding their tonnage exceeding their estimates.

As to the prices, it was recognized that the year was not one for any record-breaking prices on account of the State's big crops and general business conditions. For the most part, however, growers are inclined to agree that prices are "not so bad," and in some cases fruit has sold for a good deal more than expected.

HEALTH OFFICER IN ARGUMENT

Report He Sanctioned Attendance of Children in Theaters Denied

PASADENA, July 20.—Published reports that he told theater officials it would be safe for children to attend theaters here during the infantile paralysis wave were branded as false today by Dr. J. D. Dunshee, city health officer.

Dr. Dunshee intimated that he will demand an investigation of the report that a theater official submitted an article to a newspaper in which the health official was misquoted with a view to encouraging theater attendance.

"Although only three cases of infantile paralysis are in quarantine at the present time," the physician asserted, "I certainly believe that children under 13 years of age should be kept away from theaters and other gathering places."

It was learned today from other sources that the Board of City Directors, after hearing the protests of theater operators tomorrow, is planning to pass an emergency health regulation providing penalties for allowing any small child to attend a local theater.

Attempts of the city health department to wipe out the infantile paralysis wave here before it could develop into an epidemic have resulted in heated controversies. Against the advice of the health authorities small children were allowed to attend the Pasadena Fire Department's Fourth of July show in the Rose Bowl, and Fire Chief Ernest F. Coop was called on the carpet by City Manager R. V. Orbison, who reported that advertisements urging children to attend the show were posted because of a misunderstanding. No new cases of the disease have been traced to children who attended the Fourth of July show, however.

Dr. Dunshee believes that there is no cause for worry here so long as parents use common sense and observe the health department rules, which already have proved their efficacy.

Although there have been twenty-seven suspected cases of infantile paralysis in the last two months, only one child patient died and no cases of crippling through paralysis have been reported, as a result of the health department's promptness in securing the convalescent serum.

Valley Airport Files Data for Last Six Months

VAN NUYS, July 20.—A financial and graphic report of business at the Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport, northwest of Van Nuys, for the first six months of 1930, was given out today by Lloyd L. St. John, president, and depicts a substantial increase over a similar period in 1929. A compilation of all data pertinent to the operation of the industrial airport establishes it as one of the major airports in the country that is showing a steadily increasing business, as well as consistent weather conditions, the report sets forth.

Fixed assets, including the land and improvements, buildings, and equipment, are shown at $928,594.67 of the total assets amounting to $973,257.50. Fixed and long-term liabilities amount to $462,191.25. Figures on the income of the Metropolitan Airport for the first six months of 1929 showed rentals of $14,787.77 as compared with $20,860.40 for the like period of 1930. Interest earned in 1930 of $193.34 is compared with $107.04 during 1930, making the total for last year of $14,931.11 as against $20,967.53 for the past six months.

Graphic reports for business at the port during the first six months of this year mark the same steady increase experienced for the whole year of 1929. During the January-to-July period, which followed the port's opening in December, 1928, the number of planes permanently to base there increased from twenty-four to fifty, while the similar period in 1930 shows an increase from ninety-five to 116. Consistent growth in commercial business is greatly responsible for the port's high rating among air harbors of the country, St. John points out.

A check on weather and flying conditions at the San Fernando Valley port as shown for the six-month period just past shows a record of sixty-six hours of rain as against forty-seven during 1929, with forty-one hours of ground fog, as compared with 62.5 for the first half of 1929.

This entire report, St. John declares, further justifies the great interest shown by the public in commercial aviation in general and the Metropolitan Airport project in particular.

T. G. Hull Will Parade in Santa Monica Fiesta

Veteran of Oregon Trail to Feature Celebration

Pageant Wednesday to Be Five Miles Long

SANTA MONICA, July 20.—Riding in Wednesday's Pioneer Day Parade, sponsored by the Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce, will be T. G. Hull of 1137 Twenty-second street, one of the few living men who came to California in a covered wagon.

Hull, who has lived here for fifteen years, was born in Ohio in 1845, and came west with his family on the old Oregon trail in the same year. The Hull family first settled in Oregon, but four years later came to Sacramento in the gold rush. Hull's mother died on the trail across the continent, and he was cared for by a square dance the rest of the journey.

He was City Clerk of Los Angeles in 1870, and when the tracks of the Southern Pacific met the Central Pacific railroads met at Promontory Point, Utah, forming the first transcontinental line, Hull was present at the ceremonies at which President Grant drove the golden spike which completed the line. On account, he was chosen as technical adviser during the filming of "Iron Horse."

He was a close personal friend of the late Eura Medler, the hundredth anniversary of whose birth marks the end of the Covered Wagon Centennial, proclamation of President Hoover.

The Santa Monica Pioneer Day observance will be featured by a parade, starting at 10:30 a.m., which is expected to be five miles long. The parade starts at Ocean park and Washington Boulevard, proceeds along Ocean avenue to Broadway, following Broadway east to Lincoln, north to Santa Monica Boulevard, and east on Santa Monica Boulevard to Twelfth, where it disbands.

All modes of transportation, from the ox cart and covered wagon to the modern parlor coach will be in the parade, and marchers will wear the colorful costumes of pioneer days.

Business establishments are to be closed during the parade.

Ninety Persons Named in Suit

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 20. The largest suit ever filed here in the Justice Court has been brought by the Corporation of America, naming ninety residents of this district.

This is the fourth suit filed against former stockholders in the defunct Orange County Bond and Mortgage Company, the others being brought by the Hammond Lumber Company, Glenn Beymer and Dudley Chandler. The plaintiffs declare that they have possession of notes owed by the bond and mortgage company which are still unpaid and, according to law, the stockholders are liable for the debts.

According to Judge Chris P. Pann, the suit is the largest ever to come into this court, because it involves so many persons. The claim limit against one person in the Justice Court is $300, the judge explained.

POST DEDICATES NEW HOME

Pico Legionnaires Formally Open Headquarters There With Elaborate Program of Ceremonies

WHITTIER, July 20.—Leland A. Cupp Post No. 341, American Legion at Pico, today dedicated its new home with elaborate ceremonies. The building, which is a frame structure of colonial architecture, was dedicated free from all indebtedness, the men of the post themselves doing most of the construction work under the direction of P. H. Cloer, superintendent of construction.

The new home, which is one and one-half blocks north of Whittier Boulevard, on the Durfee Road, represents an expenditure of about $7500, and consists of an assembly room which will seat from 300 to 500 people, a well-equipped kitchen and men's and women's cloak room.

Considering that there are but forty-six members in the post, to be able to dedicate the building free of incumbrance is considerable of an achievement; this however, was made possible by the men doing most of the construction themselves. The Woman's Auxiliary has aided greatly in the building and the furnishing of the new home.

VENTURA COMPANY SUED

Dissatisfied Stockholder Asks Court to Remove Directors of Schwab Tool Plant

VENTURA, July 20.—Asking the removal of S. R. Robinson, O. P. Yowell and E. K. Lane as directors of the Schwab Tool Company of this city, and also the rescinding of certain purchases of the capital stock of the Lane Tool Company by the Schwab firm, Sam Morris, a shareholder in the Schwab Company, has filed suit in Superior Court against both firms and their boards of directors.

The suits are based on charges that the board of directors of the Schwab Company purchased the stock of the Lane Company when all but two of them, Schwab and Skinner, knew the Lane firm was insolvent and that the stock was of no value.

Defendants named in the complaint are Henry Schwab, Charles P. Skinner, E. K. Lane, S. R. Robinson and O. P. Yowell, directors of the Schwab Tool Company, and S. R. Robinson, E. K. Lane and W. R. Howell, directors of the Lane Tool Company.

The complaint states that on December 20, 1929, Schwab, Skinner and Charles Murdock and J. M. Davis were the directors of the Schwab Company, and that there was one vacancy on the board. On December 31, it continues, Murdock and Davis resigned, and Robinson, Lane and Yowell were elected to fill the three vacancies.

On January 16, Morris asserts, a directors' meeting was held at which to buy all except [illegible] shares of the outstanding capital stock of the Lane company for $40,000. The stock was owned by Robinson, Yowell, Lane, Schwab and Skinner. Morris says he did not know the fair market value of the stock, which had been represented to them prior to the meeting by Robinson and Lane as worth $100,000. In fact, Morris asserts, the Lane company was insolvent and the stock of no value, and that these facts were known to Robinson, Yowell and Lane. Schwab and Skinner, it is said, did not vote against the transaction and the Schwab company paid the $40,000 to Robinson and Lane for the deal.

Dixon, captain of the Davis Cup team, and through the cooperation of Mr. John N. Wheeler of the North American Newspaper Alliance and the Bell Syndicate, I have accepted the invitation to play for the United States on the Davis Cup team in the challenge round against France.
This has been made possible by the Davis Cup committee, through its chairman, waiving until Wednesday, the 23rd inst., its writing rule, which forbids anyone on the team writing articles while a member of the team, thus allowing me to fulfill those portions of my contract which call for stories on the practice games prior to the match.
The amateur rule forbids writing daily news articles on competition in which a player is competing, but this obstacle was met by Mr. Wheeler of the North American Newspaper Alliance and the Bell Syndicate generously releasing me from my contract to write daily stories on the three days' play.
Although I am playing against what in my judgment is the best interest of the future of American teams, I can but bow to the wishes of Mr. Wear and Capt. I regret having to once more enter the various problems of official international tennis, but I will do my best to make good the faith placed in me.

Harry Wesbrook Defeated in Thirty-six-Hole Battle

Annandale Star Bows Under Strain on Final Nine

Messenger Trims Fleming to Cop First-Flight Honors

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

W. L. (Bill) Jelliffe of the Girard Golf and Country Club, who has repeatedly sought admittance to the select coterie of Southern California golf champions in the past only to find the door closed to him, found the latch string out at Griffith Park yesterday when he won the Los Angeles city championship.

HARRY WESBROOK

Playing consistently close to par, as he has throughout the tournament, Jelliffe defeated Harry B. Wesbrook of the Annandale Country Club, 3 and 2, in the thirty-six-hole finals played over the Wilson course.

In Jelliffe, the city finds a fitting champion to follow in the footsteps of Fay Coleman of California, Jack Gaines of Girard and Johnny Joseph Mescall of Fox Hills, who, among others, have held the title in the past. Bill is one of the best match players in the Southland, and played heads-up golf to annex the crown.

Wesbrook's showing in the tournament was splendid, and Eagle Rock's leading citizen deserves a bit of praise for reaching the finals. Harry played brilliantly from the qualifying round through to the finals, and gave Jelliffe a run for the title.

Nicely on the 530-yard first hole in 3, Wesbrook sank a twenty-foot putt for a birdie 4 and a win. He lost his advantage to a par 4 on the second hole, regained it with a par 3 on the 183-yard third hole, and then promptly lost the lead with a five to a par. The next three holes were halved in pars, Wesbrook making a pretty recovery out of a trap to halve the sixth. Jelliffe unlimbered two prodigious drives on the eighth and ninth holes, winning both with a birdie and par, respectively, to be 2 up at the turn.

Wesbrook cut Jelliffe's lead by a hole on the incoming nine. He squared the match on the seventeenth hole after making a fine out of a trap to get his par, but lost the eighteenth to Bill's 4.

The morning card:

Par (Out)	543	444	444	—36
Jelliffe	545	444	434	—37
Wesbrook	453	544	445	—38
Par (In)	344	453	444	—35—71
Jelliffe	444	353	654	—38—75

...rtis Williams of Long Beach Wins State Junior Golf Title in Del Monte Play

DEL MONTE, July 20. (AP)—Curtis Williams, Long Beach, defeated Jimmy Sangster, Los Angeles, to win the California junior golf championship here today, two up, in the thirty-six-hole final.

JIMMY SANGSTER

The 17-year-old boys shot ... golf in the morning round, but ...ster took an 84 in the afternoon.

Sangster was 5 up at the end of the first eighteen holes, but Williams proceeded to take the first four holes in the afternoon.

The next two holes were halved. The seventh also was halved in par 4's, but Sangster birdied to win the eighth in three.

The ninth was halved, putting Sangster 2 up at the turn.

After halving the next two holes, Sangster stymied himself on the twelfth when it looked like an easy birdie or par. He lost to Williams's par 4.

The long thirteenth was halved in par 3's, then Williams squared the match by taking the short fourteenth in par, Sangster overdriving his tee shot.

Williams won the fifteenth in par 4, Sangster the sixteenth in par 4.

On the saucer seventeen Williams holed a long putt for a birdie 2, Sangster missing a four-footer to lose the hole.

Williams parred the eighteenth to win 2 up.

Williams scored a 76 each round, while Sangster had a 71 and 84.

WILLIE MACFARLANE ANNEXES METROPOLITAN OPEN TOURNEY

RAMAPO (N. Y.) July 20. (AP)—Willie MacFarlane, national open champion in 1925, won the metropolitan open golf title today, defeating Johnny Farrell of Mamaroneck, N. Y., in their 36-hole playoff. They had tied at 280 in the regular seventy-two holes of play yesterday. MacFarlane won the title by two strokes, covering the thirty-six holes in 142 to 144 for Farrell. The two metropolitan district stars were all even at the end of the first nine with 70's, but MacFarlane needed only 72 for the final ... against Farrell's 74.

Jelliffe Wins City Golf Championship

CITY'S NEW CHAMPION

W. L. (Bill) Jelliffe of the Girard Golf and Country Club yesterday won the golf championship of Los Angeles, played over the Wilson course at Griffith Park, by defeating H. B. Wesbrook of Annandale, 3 and 2, in the thirty-six-hole finals. Bill, who is sometimes referred to as "Wild Bill" Jelliffe, is demonstrating a recovery shot after a wild slice into the bushes. The club, cut down to suit Bill's needs is his favorite trouble knocker. Below is a study of Bill's victory smile.

STEVE ANDERSON WINS

STOCKHOLM, July 20. (AP)—Steve Anderson, crack hurdler from the University of Washington, turned in the only American victory in an international track and field meet here today. Anderson won the 120-yard high hurdles in 14 7-10s. with E. Weenstroem of Sweden second in 15 2-10s.

George Bullwinkle, middle distance star from the College of the City of New York, collapsed ten yards from the finish line in the 800-meter run which was won by B. Kraft of Sweden. Bullwinkle had led throughout most of the race, but had nothing left with which to meet Kraft's spurt near the finish. The time was 1m. 55s.

H. Koernig of Germany beat Pete Bowen, University of Pittsburg sprint man, in the 100-meter dash in 10 4-10s. Bowen finished two yards behind the flying Teuton with another German, Erwin Gillmeister, third.

The meet will be continued Monday and Tuesday.

BOESEKE AND PEDLEY SHINE

Eric Scores Five Goals in Official Tryout

Elmer Bobs Up With Four as His Share of Win

Team They Play on Wins by 13-to-9 Count

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

PORT WASHINGTON (N. Y.) July 20. (AP)—The first official test match for the American international polo squad, drilling for the series with Great Britain this September, was featured today by the play of the two Californians, Elmer Boeseke, Jr., and Eric Pedley, playing together in the East for the first time.

ERIC PEDLEY

Boeseke at No. 2 and Pedley riding at No. 3, combined to put on a rally that gave the "Whites" a 13-to-9 victory over the "Reds." Boeseke scored four goals and Pedley five for the winning side, which had as its other members Stephen (Laddie) Sanford and young Earl Hopping at back.

Tommy Hitchcock, captain of the American team, still bothered by a strained muscle in his right side, stayed out of the game unexpectedly.

He felt he needed a little more rest and desired not to take any chance of further straining the rib that was hit by a mallet a month ago. He expected to be back in action by the middle of this week.

The two combinations put on an exciting battle in which the Boeseke-Pedley attack, at the finish, proved too accurate for the team composed of Harold Talbott, Earl Hopping the older, Stewart Iglehart and Winston Guest, playing back.

Boeseke put the Whites in front with two straight goals in the second chukker, Guest then led a counter-attack that enabled the Reds to take and keep the lead, 5 to 3. The Whites rallied at the outset of the final half with Pedley, Boeseke and the younger Hopping alternating in a free-scoring melee.

Pedley scored four goals in the last half and was all over the field, riding and hitting beautifully. This teamwork with Boeseke kept the ball continually in Red territory as Guest's defensive work fell off.

It was announced after the match that the international squad had been reduced to thirteen players, composed almost entirely of the younger crop. The veterans, Watson Webb, Devereux Milburn, Cheever Cowdin and Malcom Stevenson, all have declined to be candidates.

The make-up of the squad, in addition to Hitchcock and all of today's competitors except the older Earl Hopping, includes: W. Averell Harriman, H. W. (Rube) Williams, Bobby Strawbridge, J. C. Rathborne, O. H. (Pete) Bostwick. One of the original players invited, Cecil Smith of Austin, Tex., has notified the committee he cannot come east until September 1 and will not, therefore, be considered for the team.

Final selections for cup play will not be announced until the night before the first match, scheduled September 6, at Meadow Brook.

Wrigley Field Lights Tried Out for Game

The lighting system installed for tomorrow night's first night game at Wrigley Field were tried out for the first time last night with everyone apparently satisfied with the test. The battery of 136 giant arcs will again be turned on tonight when the Angels will go through a practice session to familiarize themselves with playing under the lights instead of the sun. A record crowd is expected to see night baseball make its debut at Wrigley Field tomorrow night. Tickets will be on sale at Wrigley Field all day and in the morning and afternoon tomorrow. Fans with reservations are asked to pick up their tickets as early as possible.

SERAPHS SPLIT DOUBLE-HEADER

Angels, Blanked in Morning, Cop Final Tilt, 11-4

OAKLAND, July 20. (Exclusive) After cinching the series when Bill Henderson pitched them to a 1-to-0 victory in the morning the Oaks disappointed a big afternoon crowd by allowing the Angels to defeat them, 11 to 4. Howard Craghead, who blanked the Angels earlier in the week, was pounded for ten hits and six runs in less than three innings.

BILL PETERS

Monte Pearson, who relieved Craghead, did no better, issuing four walks and one two-bagger to help the Angels close their half of the third inning with a 9-to-1 lead.

Martin Dumovich pitched the last six innings for the Oaks and did a good job but Lefty Peters, who did the mound work for the Angels, was a little bit too much for Dumovich's teammates. He allowed eight hits.

The morning game was featured by Henderson's pitching duel with Ed Baecht, leading pitcher of the Angels. Henderson duplicated his performance of the Tuesday game, when he made his Coast League debut by holding the Angels to three hits. Of the three hits today, Sigafoos got two and Moore the other.

Baecht held the Oaks scoreless and to six hits until the ninth inning when after one was out Arlett doubled to left for his fourth hit. Jack Fenton was purposely walked and Ernie Lombardi, who went to bat for Monroe Dean, beat out a slow roller to Parker at third base. Pete Ricci batted for Pete Read and his long drive went over Arnold Statz's head while Arlett scored to end the ball game. Ricci could have made a home run out of the drive but only one run was necessary to win the game. Score:

DANGEROUS DAVE'S CLOUT BREAKS UP SECOND GAME

Portland Protests Stars' 6-3 Win From Homer With Bases Full; Ducks Nab Opener, 13-1

BY BOB RAY

A very potent home run with the bases loaded by Dangerous Dave Barbee, pinch-hitting for Johnny Bassler, gave the Hollywood Stars a 6-to-3 victory over Portland in yesterday's nightcap and also gave Oscar Vitt's hired help the odd game of the series.

DAVE BARBEE

The Ducks hammered the ball all over the lot and the Stars had kicked same all over the premises in the opener to form a combination that produced a humiliating 13-1 thumping for the Sheiks, so that pinch homer by Barbee proved a right welcome wallop and acted as a sort of a balm to the injured feelings of the Hollywood athletes.

Dangerous Dave's mighty clout put a story-book ending on the nightcap, which will go down in the books as the only decently played game of the week. A 4:55 time limit had been set on the game to enable the athletes to catch a train for the Northwest, so six innings was all that the teams could get over in the second game.

Walter (The Great) Mails and George Hollerson had hooked up in a right smart mound duel for five innings, but the Ducks apparently cinched things in their half of the sixth when Homer Summa doubled and scored on two sacrifices to break a 2-to-2 tie.

MAILS WEAKENS

When Mails disposed of Lee and Brannan to start the Stars' half of the sixth it looked all over for Hollywood. But Harry Green worked Mails for a walk and then Bill Rumler aingled to right, the pair going to second and third when Summa fumbled the ball. Where-

YANKEE CUP TEAM WINS

America's Youthful Netters Vanquish Italy in Final Rounds by 4-to-1 Margin

BY SMITH F. REAVIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUTEUIL (France) July 20. (AP)—Dividing the last two singles matches, America's youthful Davis Cup tennis team brushed aside Italy today, four matches to one, and gained the challenge round with France.

George Lott of Chicago gave America its fourth successive victory in the series when he defeated Georgio De Stefani, ambidextrous Italian, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-1, 6-3, but the final point of the tie went to Italy when Baron Humberto L. De Morpurgo, ace of the Italian team, defeated Wilmer Allison of Fort Worth, Tex., 7-5, 6-2, 5-7, 6-4. Today's matches were in the nature of exhibitions, for the United States had clinched the series by winning the doubles yesterday.

GEORGE LOTT

The challenge round against France, holders of the cup for three years, will be played Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Although the final singles matches played no part in the net result, they provided the fans with the toughest tennis they had seen since Allison took the court in the first match against De Stefani on Friday. Again only a handful of enthusiasts saw the matches, for rain threatened throughout the day.

ITALIAN WINS

Both Allison and De Morpurgo banged the ball bitterly in long drives, from the base line in the first set, Allison winning the first three games, but from then on to

Billy Townsend and Joey Medill Battle in Rematch for Olympic Fans Tonight

VANCOUVER BLOND PLANS TO REVERSE DECISION

Joey Logical Favorite but Fans Backing Canuck Slugger to Annex Rematch Bout

BY KAY OWE

Billy Townsend, sensational puncher, makes a second attempt to catch the speedy Joey Medill tonight at the Olympic.

Promoter Jack Doyle gives his patrons their fistic meal a day early this week. Night baseball opens tomorrow night so the two sports are giving each other a break.

This is the first time the Olympic has showed on Monday night for years. Tuesday has long been an institution as a fight night, dating far back into the old four-round days at Vernon.

JACK DOYLE

Doyle has made a practice to hold outdoor shows on Monday night due to the fact it is an off day for baseball in the Coast League.

It was regarded as an upset two weeks ago when Medill defeated Townsend. Chicago Joey was a bad short-end on 2-to-1 odds.

Fans failed to take cognizance of Medill's late record when he defeated topnotchers like Stanislaus Loyaza, Tommy Grogan, Spug Meyers and that type.

Medill is built like a little human barrel. He stands scarcely more than five feet tall. But he is a big man from the waist up. His shoulders would not fit badly on the chassis of a middleweight.

Tremendous strength and natural skill have made Medill pop up at the top of the scramble.

Townsend has made such spectacular showings here that much is expected of him. If he doesn't knock his opponent out he is a disappointment.

When Townsend came down from Vancouver he made some wonderful breaks for himself. Wildcat Carter bit the dust thirteen times in less than two rounds as his premiere.

The next trip out the Canadian figured in the near-double knockout with Armando Santiago. That one put him in the hall of fame—if they have such things in the fight racket—just like the pitcher who tosses one of those no-hit-no-run ball games.

In the return bout with Santiago the blond Canuck won all by himself and stopped him in five heats. That proves, in part, Townsend is a good bet in a rematch.

Medill should be a favorite on account of a clean-cut decision in one mix-up, but the public likes a puncher and is giving Townsend an even break tonight.

The club is starting Les Rammage, a 19-year-old San Diego light-heavyweight, in the semi-wind-up against Jimmy Hanna. After stopping Wally Fraser and Bud Doyle this Hanna figures to be fair game.

But Rammage has a spotless record—twenty knockouts in thirty fights and has never lost a decision. The kid has a chance to make himself in fast company overnight.

Chalky Wright starts off in a tough spot to show in the special. He is a little Negro flyweight with plenty of stuff. Pasadena went crazy over him. Wright faces Sammy Seaman, the boxing will-o'-the-wisp, who took Sid Torres down the line.

Marcelino Lomeli, who whipped Johnny Micell in his last Grand avenue start, boxes Richie Parr in a four-rounder. Parr is just breaking in as a pro but has had considerable amateur experience.

Steve Hamas, protege of Charley Harvey, came all the way from Newark to try out the California fight game. He gets Hugh Shropshire in the opening bout. Hamas was a five-letter athlete at Penn.

YACHT RACE LAURELS GO TO SYNNOVE

Al Rogers's Six Captures Nordlinger Trophy Tilt at Local Harbor

Al Rogers's slick six-meter sloop Synnove has the distinction this morning of being the winner of the 1930 race for the famous Nordlinger trophy. The Synnove won the race on corrected time yesterday from a smart field after a fifty-mile sailing battle. Commodore Owen Churchill's R-sloop Friendship, sailed by Newell Logan, was second, and Vic Dalton's eight-meter sloop, handled by Owen Dresden, was third. Al Christie's six-meter sloop Lanai was fourth.

The winning time of the Synnove was 6:27:11. The Friendship's time was 6:45:43 and the Marin's 6:52:54.

The race was started in a light southwesterly which increased as the afternoon wore on and the boats made the run for home from shiprock in a stiff blow. Rogers handled the Synnove in splendid fashion and was justly entitled to the victory. The Nordlinger Trophy is the second oldest perpetual yachting trophy in Southland boating competition.

MAIA HOME FIRST IN STAR-BOAT CLASH

Eddie Fink sailed the Maia to victory yesterday at Los Angeles Harbor in the star-boat elimination series now being staged by the Los Angeles-Long Beach fleet. Harry Fisher's Dona Bertha II was second, and the Morning Star with Pat Patricia at the stick, third. The Alibi, sailed by Art Ekdale, was fourth.

The race was marred somewhat when the Movie Star II, Judge Rey B. Schauer's boat, and the Dona Bertha II figured in a crash which resulted in the Movie Star being disqualified. The disqualification practically puts the Movie Star II out of the running for the first place prize in the series.

The Maia and the Dona Bertha II are tied in the percentage battle for the series. They have .800 points apiece. The Movie Star has .650, the Alibi .400 and the Morning Star .333.

The same boats will battle it out again next week-end.

TEMPE IV TRIUMPHS IN NEWPORT EVENT

NEWPORT BEACH, July 20.—Walter Hubbard's trim star boat Tempe IV led the fleet home today in the third round of the Newport Harbor Yacht Club's elimination series to decide a representative to the internationals at Chesapeake Bay. Dan Murphy's Sirus was second and the Turtle Star third. J. Bartholmae was at the stick on the Turtle Star.

Hubbard leads the series to date with 48 points to his credit. Joel Keith and his All Star with 41 is second. Tommy Webster and his Tom Robin has 38, as has Bartholmae. The Sirus has 28 digits. The eliminations will be continued next week-end.

Today's race was conducted over a six-mile course in a light wind.

AMERICAN CUP SQUAD VICTOR

at the end of the second set the Italian held the Texan in the palm of his hand. In the third set Allison began to go to the net where he volleyed again and again out of reach of his opponent's racquet.

Even then the Italian led him 5-4 and De Morpurgo reached the match point twice, losing the second only after a disputed decision on a hot drive of Allison's to the base line. It looked in to the referee and linesman, but out to the crowd and there were catcalls and boos until the Italian motioned for a halt.

The incident seemed to lend strength to Allison's arm and he served unreachable aces and drove so hard he ran out the next four games with comparative ease.

They were tired when the final set began. Allison continually overdrove while De Morpurgo rested whenever possible on the base line. De Morpurgo took the first four games then dropped two before Allison's attack at the net. With games at 5-4, Allison made his greatest bid of the day.

LOTT VICTOR

With the game at match point twice he was able with a great stroke to pull it from the fire. He netted an easy one, however, to give advantage to the Italian and the latter on his own service took the final point.

Lott and De Stefani put as much fight into their battle, but it was Lott's from the start. De Stefani abandoned the soft stroking that made his game so deceptive against Allison on Friday and hit like Babe Ruth. So did Lott but the Chicagoan had the greater accuracy and the match never was in doubt.

Allison, the giant killer at Wimbledon, did not play up to form against Italy. He was carried to five sets by De Stefani Friday and beaten by De Morpurgo today. Lott on the other hand, beat De Stefani in straight sets and De Morpurgo in four.

GRANBY (Que.) July 20. (AP)—Joie Ray, veteran Chicago distance runner, and Johnny Salo of Passaic, N. J., led the field into Granby today on the first lap of an international relay race which started from Montreal at noon. Ray and Salo covered the fifty-five miles in 3h. 22m.

Second to finish were Arthur Newton, South Africa, and Peter Gavuzzi of Southampton, Eng., with a total elapsed time of 5h. 23m. 20s. Edouard Fadre, Montreal, and Olie Wattinen, Finland, were third in 5h. 23m. 30s. Trailing this pair by ten minutes were McNamara of Australia, and Lin Bilks of Newcastle, Pa., who were timed in 5h. 42m. 40s.

BILL JELLIFFE ANNEXES TITLE

experience and stamina stood him in good stead, when Wesbrook began to show the strain in the afternoon round. Bill was not up to his usual standard, but Harry was far off his game, and found trouble keeping the ball straight off the tee. Jelliffe added a hole to his lead on the outgoing nine, being 2 up at the end of twenty-seven holes. Both were erratic, Jelliffe carding a 40 against a 41 for Wesbrook.

Wesbrook won the twenty-eighth hole with a par 3, but hooked and sliced his way to three consecutive bogies on the next three holes to find himself 4 down. He won the 583-yard thirty-second hole with a par 5, but the next two holes were halved to end the match.

The afternoon card follows:

Jelliffe (Out)	544	445	554—40
Wesbrook	553	554	455—41
Jelliffe (In)	444	463	544—38—78
Wesbrook	355	553	555—41—82

Ike Messenger of Griffith Park defeated H. S. Fleming of the Pasadena municipal course, 1 up in nineteen holes to win the first flight silverware.

Playoffs were also staged yesterday for those who tied in the qualifying round. Henry Caris was awarded the low net trophy in Class A. Fred Clark won in Class B, and R. F. Kettler was the winner in Class C. Elmer Williams won the award in the consolation round playoff.

Trophies were presented by Van M. Griffith, president of the City Park Board.

MESCALL SPARKS WIN EXHIBITION MATCH

Johnny Mescall, club champion, paired with Wally Sparks to defeat Harold Hiser and Martin Sykes in an eighteen-hole exhibition match at the Fox Hills Country Club yesterday, 1 down. Mescall and Sparks had a best ball of 69, against a 70 for the Fox Hills professionals.

Miller May Get Surprise in Go

Romeo Le Mon, Santa Ana welterweight, may prove to be a surprise package for Benny Miller, local sensation, when they clash Friday night at the Hollywood Stadium if some of the latest reports circulated around Cauliflower Alley are anywhere near correct. Le Mon, looked upon when the match was made as an unknown, now looms as a formidable rival for Miller. The Santa Ana boy's record shows victories over Young Harry Wills, Frankie Forbes and other tough fellows.

Le Mon has been fighting at the smaller clubs and in that way has not attracted the attention of local fight critics. He gets a chance to swing into the limelight in the Miller buot.

Red Humphries and Jimmy Alverado clash in the semi-wind-up. Young Papke, Legion favorite, fights Frankie Abendino in the special.

SEVEN FOUR-ROUNDERS ON MAIN-STREET BILL

Pete Pacheco, welterweight; Tommy Elks, lightweight and Gene Mullen, junior welterweight, all Main-street favorites, will appear in the three top spots on Carlo Curtis's Saturday-night boxing program at the downtown club. Seven four-round bouts will make up the card.

Joe Peregrina, Mexican middleweight, returned to Main street last Saturday night to take a decision over Jack Venable. In a second six-round feature Johnny Chrismas drew with "Red" Stephens. Making his fourth start as a professional Augie Curtis won his fourth straight start when he knocked out Jack Killeen in the first round.

BROWN'S NINE WINS

Joe E. Brown's Stars defeated Buster Keaton's Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Lions yesterday at the M.-G.-M. park by a 3-to-0 score. Powers, hurler for the winners, pitched his third straight shutout in as many weeks. Joe E. Brown, second baseman, and Pat O'Shea starred for the winners. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Joe E. Brown's Stars	3	10	0
Buster Keaton's Lions	0	5	2

THE Sportlight BY GRANTLAND RICE

(Copyright, 1930, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

THE GAME.

Always uphill—there is no other way
That leads to any goal worth coming to;
That is the price the few who win must pay
In weary slogging all the long years through;
And often from the peak they'll look and find
How fair the valley is they left behind.
What men will give for growing wealth and fame—
What price they pay to scale the rugged sleep;
How bitterly they play the harder game
For rugged nerves and haunting ghosts of sleep;
To wonder what they'd give from all their power
For just one dream—one friend—one care-free hour.

THE DIFFERENCE

There are many who wonder why it is that a ball player will fade gradually out of the picture, declining a trifle year by year, while a boxer seems to collapse at one sitting.

Two years ago Sammy Mandell looked to be a worthy lightweight champion and last Thursday night he had fallen below the second-rate line.

One answer is that a ball player practices his profession steadily. He works at his game in competition from late March to October. He runs into no long spells of idleness where rust and softening flesh pull him back.

Babe Ruth at 37 is still close to his best form while Sammy Mandell at 26 is a worn out has-been, all through.

Dempsey was an athlete when he met Firpo in 1923. He was nothing like the same athlete when he met Tunney in 1926. Three years of rest and rust had made a terrific change. Suppose Babe Ruth or Bill Tilden laid off for three years without playing a game of baseball or tennis under actual fire? Dempsey was 28 when he met Firpo. He was 31 when he faced Tunney for the first time. If Ruth or Tilden had retired at the age of 28 to re-appear in action at the age of 31 they, also, would have hit the soapy chute with a rush.

THE PROOF

No one could ever accuse the late Harry Greb of consistent training. But Harry Greb kept moving at a fast pace through over twelve years that included more than 400 ring battles because he knew few open intervals. He kept in shape by fighting, week after week.

Max Schmeling, busy through the later part of 1928 and the early part of 1929, looked to be a first-class fighting man when he left. He lays off a year and drops 40 per cent of his stuff. There was a big slump in his speed, his timing, his general coordination. And Schmeling is only 23 or 24. If he lays off another year he will be a set-up for any one of six or eight heavyweights and a punching bag for at least two or three by 1931.

You can't make any of them believe this, because each one thinks he is different. But they all find out the same old answer.

It's surprising how swiftly they can slip—once they start. Few who saw Mandell face Jimmy McLarnin not so long ago could have believed that the wiry midwesterner within two years would be as far down the hill. If he had been up in the thirties there might have been a reason.

Few eyes can see the deterioration that goes on inside, the complete extinguishment of the vital spark. The fuse burns out suddenly and there is nothing left.

Various Classes

The boxer or the fighter is the poorest conditioned of all those who figure in major sport. He's under less competitive fire. He has longer periods of idleness. He spends less time upon getting in shape, and keeping there. How many fighters have you ever heard of who adopted anything approaching Bill Tilden's five months' campaign before he came to Wimbledon?

The ball player is in condition to give a better average performance than any other athlete because he starts around the first of March and sticks to the job daily for the next seven months.

A number of people marveled that Bobby Jones could go through the strain of four hard competitions—the Walker Cup, British amateur, British open and the United States open and finish as he did. On the other side of the argument there was the hardening or seasoning process under fire, which also means something. Bobby Jones, after a long rest, might have found it beyond his reach to get those three birdies on the last five holes at Interlachen after running into trouble on two others. When he hit the stretch and stumbled for a moment he had the campaigning back of him to get on his feet and turn on the steam. You only learn in action—that is, the real stuff that counts on the winning side.

The Sure Tip

Of all the things you've learned in golf
This is the surest bet—
No one has ever raised his dome
And seen a good shot yet.

The Cubs have been counted out of the pennant race more than once this season, but no ball club handled by Joe McCarthy can be counted out until the last gun is fired. There is entirely too much iron in Mr. McCarthy's soul. And added to this he still has too much left in the way of good pitching and hard hitting, which is a combination no one yet has been able to laugh away and make it stick.

"The French," says an exchange, "have only Cochet and Borotra left to defend the cup." Which is something like the poor dub who had only $1,000,000 in the bank.

Although it must be admitted that Cochet will have to be an entirely different performer from the Cochet of June, who suddenly seemed to have stepped into a pool of glue.

The next move should be to match Al Singer and Kid Chocolate against Primo Carnera, either side would have to take off weight—the first two working together on the same night.

DULL WEEK FOR BOXING

Benny Bass and Tony Canzoneri Clash Tonight in Feature Bout at Philadelphia

NEW YORK, July 20. (AP)—Another dull boxing week finds Benny Bass's ten-round clash with Tony Canzoneri the outstanding bout on the national schedule.

Bass and Canzoneri head an all-star show at Philadelphia tomorrow night. They have met once before,

TONY CANZONERI

Canzoneri gaining a close decision over the Philadelphia slugger in fifteen rounds in Madison Square Garden that gained general recognition for Tony as featherweight champion of the world. Since then Tony has lost his 126-pound crown and Bass has won one—the somewhat synthetic junior lightweight title.

Supporting the Bass-Canzoneri bout will be another ten-rounder between Ray Miller, Chicago lightweight, and Frankie Hayes of Philadelphia.

Boxing returns to Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, Wednesday night with Al Brown, recognized in some States as bantamweight champion, and Battling Domencio Bernasconi of Italy in the ten-round feature bout. Harry Smith, Harlem Negro middleweight, takes on Babe McGorgary of Oklahoma in the ten-round semifinal. The first ten brings together Eddie Mack, Denver junior lightweight, and Marty Goldman of New York.

Tommy Grogan, Omaha lightweight, and Bruce Flowers, New Rochelle, N. Y., head the card at the Queensboro Stadium Tuesday night.

Other bouts on the national schedule include:

Monday — At Philadelphia: Matty White, Philadelphia, vs. Joey Hatfield, Philadelphia, and Allie Wolff, Brooklyn, vs. Tony Tedesco, Philadelphia, all six rounds. At Coney Island Stadium, New York, Jack Gross, Philadelphia, vs. Eddie Benson, New York, and Ted Sandwina, Sioux City, vs. Al Walker, New York, all heavyweights, each ten rounds. At Dexter Park, Brooklyn: Eddie Murdock, Tulsa, vs. Freddy Hubert, New York, welterweights, and Willie La Morte, Newark, vs. Blas Rodriguez, Mexico, bantamweights, each ten rounds. At Louisville: Paul Swiderski, Syracuse, vs. Al Friedman, Boston, heavyweights, ten rounds. At Boston, Braves Field: Paul Pantello, Chicago, vs. Babe Hunt, Ponca City, Okla., heavyweights, ten rounds.

Thursday—At Cincinnati: Bat Battalino, Hartford, vs. Cecil Payne, Louisville, featherweights, ten rounds.

WESTERN AMATEUR GOLF TOURNEY OPENS TODAY

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, July 20. (AP)—Under a broiling sun and thorough a lashing wind that combined to hike scores disastrously high, contenders for the western amateur golf championship struggled through their final practice rounds over the tree-lined Beverly Country Club course today.

The drive for the title now held by youthful Don Moe of Portland, Or., opens tomorrow with the first half of the thirty-six-hole qualifying test, and will close with the thirty-six-hole championship struggle via the match play route Saturday.

All favorites except Johnny Goodman of Omaha, conqueror of Bobby Jones in the 1929 national amateur at Pebble Beach, Cal., unpacked their war clubs and toured the championship course today. Goodman, wired he was "golfed out," and would not compete.

Cyril Tolley, 1929 British amateur champion, regarded as a doubtful starter, checked in and said only a continuance of the heat wave, which has ranged between 90 and 100 deg. over the course for the past few days, would stop him. The big Britisher, a respected foe in any kind of a tournament, was on his game and ranked as one of the big favorites in the young and somewhat erratic field.

Most of the golfers either failed to post their practice scores today, or turned in cards around the 80's. Charles (Chick) Evans, of Chicago, eight times winner of the western crown, carded a 73 over the par 71 layout yesterday for the best round to be turned in so far as known.

Evans has been off his game for several seasons because of poor putting, but appeared to be back at his old tricks during the practice rounds. He may be hard to beat in match play.

Don Moe experienced considerable difficulty with the undulating greens, but his game, slightly off since the Walker Cup matches, appeared stronger.

Other early favorites tonight, in addition to Evans and Tolley were T. Philip Perkins, former British amateur champion, who now resides in New York; Keefe Carter, Oklahoma City, former champion, and runner-up last year at Kansas City; Bob McCrary, of Des Moines, trans-Mississippi champion; Jack Westland, 1929 French amateur champion, and present Chicago district title-holder; Gibson Dunlap of Los Angeles, who burned up Pacific Coast courses during the spring and who finished fairly high in the national open at Minneapolis; George Dawson, Dick Martin and Johnny Lehman, Chicago Stars.

The field numbered 215, and out of it were certain to gallop several dark horses to give the defending champion a hard battle.

Lamanski Blanks Reds in Morning Game

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20. (AP)—Seattle and the Missions divided a closely fought double-header today, the Indians behind Lamanski blanking the Reds in the morning game, 6 to 0, and the Missions taking the nightcap, 6 to 1.

Lamanski limited the Reds to five hits scattered through as many innings and fanned six Missions to tuck away the opening game. Almada, Seattle outfielder, got a home run. Seattle got six hits off H. Pillette in the afternoon, but was unable to bunch them to make scores.

PANTHER WANTS TWO MAT BOUTS

Lutze and Marshall is Demand of Joe Malcewicz to Lou Daro

If Joe Malcewicz beats Don George Wednesday night, he will ask Promoter Lou Daro to get him bouts with Nick Lutze and Everette Marshall, the only two other wrestlers who have beaten him here. Malcewicz was nationally recognized as the greatest nontitle - holding wrestler from 1924 to 1929. He slipped a bit after Gus Sonnenberg won the title from Lewis, but following his appearance here early in the year, he started on a comeback campaign which he expects to bring him to the top in a short time.

Malcewicz was twice awarded decisions over reigning champions, but his claims were never recognized in all sections of the country. He beat Earl Caddock a few days before the Iowan lost the title to Joe Stecher in New York, January 30, 1920, and he was awarded Stecher's title in Boston, in 1926, when the Nebraskan jumped out of the ring on the Utican and refused to wrestle.

Daro declared yesterday that he will match the winners of his two feature events, or select the wrestler making the best showing Wednesday night to top his next mat program.

Rovers Defeat Buccaneer Four

Dr. H. H. Wilson, Will Rogers, Clair Brunson and Carl Beal played heads-up polo yesterday at the Uplifters' Field to ride off with a 12-to-7 victory for the Rovers over the Buccaneers. The Rovers, splendidly mounted, played a fast game, which proved a little hard for the Buccaneers to keep in step with. Rogers and Wilson were the outstanding point-getters for the winners.

Snowy Baker and Lionel Pedley played nice games for the losers, but they were never quite able to match the fast pace set by the better mounted Rover four. Line-ups:

Shamrock V Held Up by Rough Seas

LONDON, July 20. (AP)—The Daily Mail tonight reported Sir Thomas Lipton's yacht Shamrock V had been forced to take shelter in Brixham Harbor, Devonshire, this evening, from rough weather in the channel.

After remaining all night under the lee of the Isle of Wight in Spithead Roads, the yacht made another start this morning on her trans-Atlantic voyage to the United States. She was under convoy of Sir Thomas's steam yacht Erin.

ERVAST SETS NEW RECORD AT BORDER

Baron Long's Entry is Winner of Three-Horse Race

AGUA CALIENTE (Mex.) July 20. Ervast, fleet 4-year-old from the stable of Baron Long, clipped the track record for five furlongs here this afternoon to win the spring special, a three-horse race. Ervast, showing a return to the form which carried him to eight straight victories as a 3-year-old, won easily by three lengths. Beth Hogan got the place and Nusakan the show. Only three started.

Ervast dashed the distance in 58 3-5s., one-fifth second under the old track record. Beth Hogan went out to make the pace with the rise of the barrier. She lasted in front until they started rounding into the stretch. Here Georgie Woolf let Ervast down a notch and he came on the outside to win going away easily. Nusakan caused a long delay at the barrier and never was a contender.

The Zaragosa Claiming Handicap, second of the summer race meeting stake events, went to F. Walter's Irfaneh. The 5-year-old mare, which took down a purse as late as Saturday afternoon, gained the verdict in the last twenty years over Bon Fille this afternoon. Outrun in the first part, Irfaneh came to the outside in the stretch to win.

Bon Fille, followed the early pace of Shasta Pear and came to the front in the stretch when the latter tired but could not resist the final challenge of the winner.

Scimitar, James N. Crofton's veteran route-goer, walked off with the Montezuma Handicap, secondary feature on the program. Just a week ago the son of Hourless came in the stretch on the seven-furlong dash to nip Hatrick right near the finish. He won by half a length with Sunspero third. Time for the seven fur

CITY'S OLDEST PIONEER IN LINE

T. G. Hull Will Parade in Santa Monica Fiesta

Veteran of Oregon Trail to Feature Celebration

Pageant Wednesday to Be Five Miles Long

SANTA MONICA, July 20.—Riding in Wednesday's Pioneer Day Parade, sponsored by the Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce, will be T. C. Hull of 1137 Twenty-second street, one of the few living men who came to California in a covered wagon.

Hull, who has lived here for fifteen years, was born in Ohio in 1845, and came west with his family on the old Oregon trail in the same year. The Hull family first settled in Oregon, but four years later came to Sacramento in the gold rush. Hull's mother died on the trail across the continent, and he was cared for by a squaw during the rest of the journey.

He was City Clerk of Los Angeles in 1870, and when the tracks of the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific railroads met at Promontory Point, Utah, forming the first transcontinental line, Hull was present at the ceremonies at which President Grant drove the golden spike which completed the line. On one account, he was chosen as technical adviser during the filming of "The Iron Horse."

He was a close personal friend of the late Ezra Meeker, the pioneer of the fiftieth anniversary of whose birth marks the end of the "Covered Wagon Centennial," designated by proclamation of President Hoover.

The Santa Monica Pioneer Day observance will be featured by a parade, starting at 10:30 a.m., and is expected to be five miles long. The parade starts at Ocean avenue and Washington Boulevard, proceeds along Ocean avenue to Broadway, following Broadway east to Lincoln, north to Santa Monica Boulevard, and east on Santa Monica Boulevard to Twelfth, where it disbands.

All modes of transportation, from the ox cart and covered wagon to the modern parlor coach will be in the parade, and marchers will wear the colorful costumes of pioneer days.

Business establishments are to be closed during the parade.

Bears Praise Jesse Hill

BERKELEY, July 20. (Exclusive)—University of California baseball fans can well appreciate the phenomenal success which young Jesse Hill, former University of Southern California outfielder, is enjoying with the Hollywood club of the Pacific Coast League.

Upon the occasion of their last visit here the Trojans whipped the Golden Bear nine by virtue of some classy outfielding and hitting by Hill. This game meant the championship of the State College Baseball Association and Hill was the big factor in the Trojan triumph.

New Yorkers Swat Out 13-4 Triumph Over Cubs

Brooklyn Handed Walloping by Cardinals, 15-6

Reds, Braves Split; Wilson, Berger Hit Homers

NEW YORK, July 20. (AP)—The Giants spotted the champion Cubs four runs in the first two innings today, but walloped their way to a 13-to-5 victory. As the Cardinals clouted out a victory over Brooklyn the Cubs kept pace with the Robins.

Both starting pitchers were hit lustily but Mitchell who relieved Fitzsimmons for the Giants, blanked the Cubs for the last six innings to get credit for the victory.

Fred Leach led the Giants at bat with four hits, one of which was a home run. Hack Wilson found Fitzsimmons for his twenty-seventh homer of the year in the third inning. He was the first man at bat. Score:

BROOKLYN, July 20. (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals pounded four Brooklyn pitchers hard to inflict a 15-to-6 beating on the slipping league-leaders today. Their seventeen hits included home runs by Watkins and Frisch. Wright hit a home run for Brooklyn.

The Robins got off to a two-run lead in the first inning, but the Cardinals pounded Clark out of the box with a seven-run assault in the second frame, after which the St. Louisans were never headed.

Catcher Al Lopez of Brooklyn and Pitcher Rhem of St. Louis were both put out of the game by Umpire McGrew early in the proceedings. Score:

The terrified sentry returned to his post, and Tarzan could hear him telling of the ghostly prophecy.

OIL and MINING

ELWOOD FIELD TO BE TAPPED

Pipe Line to Ventura Will be Started Soon

Gas Will Augment Supply for Los Angeles

Conduit Planned Largest of Three Installed

Work will start within forty-five days on a $600,000 natural gas pipe line between Ventura and the Elwood oil field. It will be built by the Southern Counties Gas Company.

Survey of the project is under way and rights-of-way now are being obtained for the sixteen-inch line, which will extend thirty-seven miles to hook up Elwood with the three gas lines leading from Ventura to Los Angeles.

AUGMENTS SUPPLY

The new supply line, it is understood, will augment the quantities of gas now being pumped from Ventura. The three lines running from Ventura to Los Angeles are a twelve-inch line of the Southern Counties Gas Company, a fifteen-inch line of the Ventura Fuel Company and a twelve-inch line of the Southern California Gas Company.

If the gas supply from the Ventura avenue field is not sufficient to keep the present lines running at full capacity the new line from the Elwood field near Santa Barbara will be put into use.

REPORT CONFIRMED

While it is said by officials of the gas company that this latter action is problematical, depending on conditions in the Ventura-avenue field during the "peak" months of winter, they have confirmed the report that the contract probably will be let in August for the new line and that work probably will start September 1.

Plans for the fuel line are being prepared by the General Pipe Line District of the Southern Counties Gas Company, which handles transmission lines and production from Gaviota to Glendale.

TOMBSTONE ORE STRIKE SPURS HUNT

Many Claims Reported Staked in Area Since Recent Discovery

TOMBSTONE (Ariz.) July 20. (Exclusive)—Mainly due to developments known on the Tombstone Extension property, there has been a local boom of mine locations. Within twenty-five days were filed forty-seven locations, thirty-two of them in this section.

Much work is being done on the Dragoon mountain property of the Keystone Copper Mining Company, with recent opening of a large body of silver-copper ore on the 500-foot level. The main shaft is being deepened from 500 to 1000 feet.

The Tungsten Production Company, managed by J. G. Clark of Boulder, Colo., announces its intention to build a mill at its King mine, in the Little Dragoons, fourteen miles from Benson. The corporation is operating in Colorado and at Lovelock, Nev.

Near Bowie, the Silver Strike Mining Company, managed by W. J. Schilpin of that place, is nearing completion of a 500-foot tunnel, to cut an outlined ore body. A still longer tunnel is to be started soon. Surface improvements include five miles of mountain road, a reservoir and bunk houses and offices.

SANTA FE FIELD ACTIVITY WANES

Operations at Lowest Point in Eight Years

Number of Active Projects Twenty-seven

Total Drop Since December 24, Last, 283

The Santa Fe Springs oil field's operations have reached low ebb this month, showing the biggest decline in field activity since 1922. An accurate check of field operations shows that from a peak of 310, active projects on December 24, 1929, the number has declined to twenty-seven. These include projects that are being plugged back, and several to be redrilled. Five are new jobs.

According to the major oil companies, the only thing that could possibly revive operations in that field would be the successful completion of a deeper well—one that would be located nearer the top of the structure. So far, deep tests have been dismal failures, such as Oscar Howard's Hathaway No. 7 in the extreme southwesterly portion of the field, and the Texas Company's Patterson No. 10-A.

CHANCES GOOD

The latter developed an interesting oil sand formation as it was nearer the center of the structure, but somewhat to the west of it. Reports are that Union and Texas have as good a chance as any company to develop deeper production than the Hathaway zone should they decide to drill up in the center of the field.

The marked decline in field operations has gone hand in hand with the depletion of the various producing sands, according to figures compiled by the umpire's office. No production is being obtained from the old Foix zone, although it has ten shut-in projects that are good for a little oil if allowed to produce. The Bell zone is averaging about 937 barrels of oil a day, while the Meyer zone is putting out 14,408 barrels daily. The Hathaway zone is by far the better of any of the eight zones. It is yielding approximately 41,000 barrels per day, while the lower Clarke sand is flowing 2969 barrels daily, the O'Connell sand is yielding 33,819 barrels daily and the Buckbee sand is putting out 10,887 barrels daily.

QUIET FORECAST

All of the major oil companies say that no new locations are contemplated in the near future, for Santa Fe Springs. Of the twenty-seven active projects, the General Petroleum Corporation has five, Standard has three, Texas Company has three, Union has two and there are thirteen miscellaneous operations.

Throughout the entire Santa Fe Springs field, there are 518 producing wells, 335 of which are in the deep sand. There are seventy-nine shut-in producers which will probably remain inactive until expiration of the oil curtailment agreement.

STATUS OF DELANO PROJECTS REPORTED

DELANO, July 20. (Exclusive)—In its Williams No. 1 on Sec. 17 27-23, on Semitropic Ridge, the Shell Oil Company is down 4100 feet, drilling in a shale formation. The Hancock Oil Company, in No. 1, Sec. 23 26-27, Jasmine district, is idling at 2665 feet.

DRILLING AHEAD

LERDO, July 20. (Exclusive)—The Shell Oil Company's Lee No. 1 on Sec. 23, 28-26, in the Lerdo Mesa district, is drilling ahead through the sand and shale formation at more than 4810 feet.

MINES AREA ACTIVITY TOLD

WICKENBURG (Ariz.) July 20. (Exclusive)—At Swansea, the American Smelting and Refining Company, E. C. Lane, manager, is handling 250 tons of ore a day through a remodeled flotation mill, with better percentage of separation of copper noted by means of change in the reagent chemicals. It is reported that recent exploratory work has found much better grades of ores.

In the Rouse section, the Gray mine, north of Vicksburg, is being worked by John Ramsey and William Clark, who are shipping a carload of high-grade gold ore. A fifty-ton experimental mill is to be erected on the Calari property, in charge of S. J. Curtis of Bouse. Over $100,000 will be spent in development of this property and of the near-by Old Maid. Dr. E. Williams heads a California syndicate that has leased the old Mudersbach property, from which profit is expected in Coast shipment of iron ores that carry fluxing material of unusual value. Value also is known in gold, silver and copper.

In the Congress district, north of here, Joe Lain, manager of the Bishop and Beehive mines, states that high-grade and milling ore have been cut in a tunnel and that a seventy-five-ton mill soon will be in operation on the produt. In the same area the Gossin Mining Company of Los Angeles has contracted with Prescott owners for development of the Klondyke and Weepah mines.

Near Salome, the Consolidated Arizona Mines Company is reported to have developed an oxidized copper body of 150 feet in thickness.

Two ancient steam mine locomotives, used forty years ago in hauling ores in the Mayer section and again from the Congress mine, have been donated as exhibits to museums in Prescott and Phoenix.

HOBBS OPERATORS IN PACT

Output of Field to be Cut from 4,710,000 Barrels Monthly to 1,050,000

SANTA FE (N. M.) July 20. (Exclusive)—Proration of the output of the Hobbs oil field in Southeastern New Mexico has been agreed upon by the twenty-four oil operators interested in the Southwest's newest oil field.

The field's production will be cut to 35,000 barrels a day, or 1,050,000 barrels monthly. The potential production of the field now is estimated at 4,710,000 barrels monthly.

The oil operators in making their agreement provided that no well shall be "shot" unless necessary; no oil is to be put in storage; no well is to go on air or gas lift; and no well is to be operated in a manner which would waste gas or dissipate the pressure of the field.

The agreement is to be in force for six months, at which time any changes which are desired may be made or the present agreement renewed.

The twenty-four producing companies are to be prorated equally. Wells will be gauged for their potential flow to arrive at the total potential production of the field. The prorationing will be based on 75 per cent market outlet of average potential production and 25 per cent market outlet of acreage. The acreage divisions will be in units of forty acres each.

What prorating means to the future of the boom town of Hobbs is now the question of most interest to New Mexicans. Many predict that the town's population of approximately 8000 where a year ago there was not over 200, will shrink with the coming of prorating to 5000 or 6000 persons. Others believe that Hobbs will grow steadily to a population of 20,000 in a year's time.

In any event Hobbs citizens are rejoicing over their recent victory in the matter of schools, having gained consent to the expenditure of $150,000 on school buildings on a plea of emergency. The school census of Hobbs last year was thirty-five. Today it is 900, with more coming.

In the meantime late news from the oil town notes the beginning of another fray between the twin municipalities that make up Hobbs. There is Old Hobbs and New Hobbs, both of which are generally considered as one by outsiders, but sturdily maintain their civic individuality among themselves.

The school board of New Hobbs intends to file suit over the expenditure of the money for the new schools enjoining Old Hobbs school board from any direction of the funds.

New Deep Test in Lost Hills Area on Slate

LOST HILLS, July 20. (Exclusive)—The Lost Hills district of Kern county will soon have its second deep test drilling job in action, following the announcement by George F. Getty, Inc., that it will sink a well on Sec. 12, 26-20. At present the Universal Consolidated Oil Company is down 800 feet on its No. 49 on Sec. 32, 26-21, and is setting twenty-four-inch surface casing.

Lost Hills long has been a shallow-producing territory. It was not until some months ago that it attracted the attention of deep testers. On the same section where it now is drilling its No. 49, but a few yards from the present job, Universal some months ago drilled to 5000 feet, but was forced to abandon the hole because of mechanical troubles.

Operations at Tucson Mining Estates Told

TUCSON (Ariz.) July 20. (Exclusive)—A small mill is to be placed on the Bunker Hill mine, at Sombrero Butte, north of Tucson, with machinery for deepening the main shaft an additional 300 feet.

Tom Young has leased the Great Eastern mine, forty miles from Casa Grande, from Mrs. Elizabeth Elliott and has installed new machinery for active operation.

Calizona Mines, Inc., of Los Angeles, J. B. Mester, manager, is to assume operation of its property in Santa Cruz county and is installing new machinery.

SITUATION AT COPPER QUEEN TOLD

Daily Production Since Open Pit Operation Was Dropped 4500 Tons

BISBEE (Ariz.) July 20. (Exclusive)—The porphyry ore production of the Copper Queen branch is around 4500 tons a day, now all hoisted at the Sacramento shaft, since abandonment of open-pit, steam-shovel operations on Sacramento hill. There now is a lesser output of waste or leaching-pit material and the greater part of the output is concentrated. Some of the ore goes direct to the Douglas furnaces, to afford a desired silicious mixture in the charges.

Shattuck-Denn is unwatering its 900-foot level of the Shattuck property and will push development on that level. There also will be further exploration on the Williams unit on the 2200-foot level.

An option on patented gold property near this point has been taken by the Lone Butte Mining Company, following expert inspection. H. F. Lietzow of Warren will manage development work.

In the Colossus mine in the Hauchucas, a property for years operated by Josiah Bond of Alto, nine feet of commercial ore has been followed for fifty feet. Gold values sample $30 a ton, with copper averaging up to 15 per cent. A long tunnel is proposed, to cut the ledge at 800 feet of depth.

MINE NEWS OF BARSTOW AREA GIVEN

Items of Interest from Various Enterprises in Field Reported

BARSTOW, July 20. (Exclusive)—Hook & Shapley, milling the silver dump at the Waterman ranch, have been shipping several car loads of high-grade barium concentrates to Los Angeles. They have developed a new industry.

Miners are driving a deep tunnel through Ord Mountain to tap the gold and copper deposits known to exist there.

J. W. Wood of San Bernardino is shipping clays from the Stone deposits east of Barstow; and mineral deposits from Baker district. All shipments go to Los Angeles.

Down the steep runway of Cave Springs toward the southern end of Death Valley and within hailing distance of Saratoga Springs, George Rose may be found at his daily task of extracting gold and other precious metals from his mines. His reduction plant is capable of concentrating values of at least $50 each day and he and his buddy are shipping sufficient of the concentrates to return twice what a good miner could earn in wages, and even more.

Trona, fifty miles north of Barstow, has on its pay roll more than 1000 skilled men workingf at the potash and borax mines, and is adding an addition to the present plant.

Dr. Jones of the Kramer laboratory claims to have developed two more rare minerals—Kyanite and Dumortarite, rare minerals of green and blue colors, used extensively in the manufacture of spark plugs.

Smelter Shuts Down in Sinaloa

NOGALES (Ariz.) July 20. (Exclusive)—Word has come of the closing of the 100-ton smelter at Mazatlan, Sin., of the Compania Mexicana de Minerales, S.A., due to the condition of the metal markets.

The plant was blown in last December, for treatment of silver-lead ores, secured from the company's property and from custom offerings. Resumption will depend upon bettered demand for the product.

MINE CREW LAY-OFF LOOMS

AJO (Ariz.) July 20. (Exclusive) It is reported that 200 of the 800 employees of New Cornelia branch of Calumet & Arizona at Ajo are to be laid off this month, with the closing of the sulphuric-acid leaching plant, from which the company's initial copper product came.

Lower costs are to be secured by concentration of treatment in the remodeled flotation mill. There is expectation that the leaching vats again will be utilized at some later date, when there shall have been development of an additional store of oxidized ores. The ores from the lower levels are sulphureous and better adapted to concentration.

New Cornelia has completed its program of water development, with an ample flow assured from deep wells on the plain, tapping what appears to be a veritable underground river. The new development is seven miles north of Ajo, concreted fully, with the pumps placed at 600 feet depth.

Title to the G. Richard Ballas property, near this point, has been cleared by a release filed in the Pima county records, eliminating any claims that might have been possessed by C. C. Julian of Los Angeles or by the Julian Merger Mines. For a while the mine was under option to Julian, who renamed it the Silver Plume and who placed some machinery upon it.

When this machinery was moved to another Julian promotion, near Wickenburg, Ballas secured a judgment for $3000 damages, this by default in a Tucson court. The property now is under option to W. Stewart Button of Riverside, Cal.

KERN OIL QUEST BRANCHING OUT

Two Wildcat Areas in Field Get Attention

Carissa Plains Reported as Most Active

Cuyama Valley Section Also Being Prospected

BAKERSFIELD, July 20. (Exclusive)—With the development of proved oil properties retarded by the conservation campaign fresh incentive is given to the wildcatter and prospector to seek new fields.

At present the Cuyama Valley and Carissa Plains areas west of Maricopa are receiving the attention of major and minor oil operators. Real development work will be under way there soon. The Carissa Plains district, held in large tracts, is the most active.

During the past few months numerous aerial surveys have been made of the entire district. Geologists and engineers have tramped all over the hills, seeking information which will guide them in spudding in prospective oil wells.

Several tests have already been made of these districts, the Panorama Oil Company, Carlisle Oil Company and E. G. Lewis each having drilled test holes. The old Vishnu well produced a small flow of gas.

Those who have faith in the districts believe that the failure of early drillers in not getting production was due to lack of finances as the wells were not drilled to great depth.

There is a wildcat being drilled on the Stubblefield ranch in the Cuyama Valley and two others are going down on the Klipstein ranch, the Elmer Oil Company doing the work. Dr. G. Kay Johnson, owner of considerable acreage on the plains, recently sold some of his holdings to Los Angeles operators who are planning to start activities soon.

George H. Cavanaugh of San Francisco, is the owner of 160 acres on Section 9, 11-26, where drilling will shortly begin.

Drilling Will be Resumed in Imperial Well

According to an official announcement made yesterday the Imperial Valley Petroleum Corporation is resuming work with the drill in its old wildcat well thirty-five miles northwest of Brawley. The hole suspended at 3215 feet, and is now going ahead under a contract to take it down 5000 feet.

The well has had gas and oil showings at intervals on the way down to its present bottom, company officials say, and they now plan to complete the project. It is strictly a community enterprise in which many prominent business men of the valley are interested.

PROTECTION OF LEASE PLANNED

Pacific Western to Drill on Kettleman Tract

Company Seeks to Prevent Loss by Drainage

Offset to Shell's Dixon No. 1 Being Graded

To prevent its lease from possible drainage, the Pacific Western Oil Company has just started operations on the north dome at Kettleman Hills. It is grading location for a well to be drilled on the north one-half of the northwest quarter of Sec. 1, 22-17, as an offset to the Shell Oil Company's Dixon No. 1 on an adjoining section due north.

New activity on the north dome at Kettleman Hills also may be expected soon by the Continental Oil Company, since it has received a modified agreement for its government permit. According to word received from Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, Continental may drill at least three wells on Sec. 2, 22-17. These may be drilled to the top of the oil sand, but cannot be completed until notice is received that more production is needed.

Under the terms of the co-operative unit agreement which may eventually be adopted by operators at Kettleman Hills, the Associated Oil Company's Whipley No. 1 on Sec. 35, 21-17, and the Superior Oil Company's Huffman No. 1 on Sec. 29, 21-17, may be brought in. Both are making good progress with the drill in oil sand. Each of these projects is offset by other wells.

California Oil Production in June Declines

The total production of crude oil in California for June amounted to 18,020,795 barrels, an average of 600,693 barrels per day. This is a decrease of 13,644 barrels per day under May production.

Total stocks of crude and all products in Pacific Coast territory decreased during the month 3,389,282 barrels. The total stocks at the end of the month were 184,342,252 barrels. The total stock decrease for 1930, up to June 30, was 421,481 barrels.

Fifty-two wells were completed during the month with an initial daily production of 42,522 barrels, compared with sixty-four wells completed during May with an initial production of 34,954 barrels.

HAPPY VALLEY AREA DUE FOR OIL QUEST

The Red Head Oil Company, composed of Seattle (Wash.) capitalists, has acquired prospective petroleum acreage in Happy Valley, near Olinda, in Shasta county, and purchased a drilling outfit. Drilling is scheduled to commence soon. Surface indications are considered encouraging.

GLOBE MINE OPERATIONS SUMMED UP

Old Dominion Improving Plant; Magma Smelter in Temporary Shutdown

GLOBE (Ariz.) July 20. (Exclusive)—Old Dominion is installing new grinding machinery and new classifiers in its mill. A pump shaft is being sunk from the 2000 to the 2600-foot level and a winze is to be sunk on the west side from the 2200 to the 2600-foot level, for better ventilation.

At Superior, the Magma smelter is reported to have ceased operation till the 25th inst., this for improvement work and to further cut down copper production.

H. S. Bach of Los Angeles is president and manager of the Apache Silver Mining Company of Superior. On the property has been recent installation of much new surface equipment and there has been construction of a necessary road. The company will sink to depth and crosscut to ore outlined in surface workings.

The Christmas Copper Company has continued shipment to the Hayden smelter of about twenty-eight tons of concentrates and 100 tons of ore a day. There has been completing of a new 600-foot shaft, with hoisting equipment transferred from the Iron Cap mine, near Globe.

The mill of the Stargo property, near Morenci, is being moved to a mine north of Phoenix. It is of seventy-five-ton capacity.

Several asbestos mines in this county are reducing production and have laid off the larger part of their forces.

NEW PIERS AT ELWOOD PROJECTED

Permit for Two Large Projects Sought from War Department

Application has been made to the War Department for permission to build at the westerly edge of the Elwood oil field two new ocean piers which will be longer than any heretofore built along the coast for the drilling of oil wells.

These piers, according to reports, are to be connected together and one will connect with the pier of the Signal Oil and Gas Company on the Appleford permit. It is expected that by making cross connections the permit holders will make it possible to drill wells in checkerboard fashion on the three permits, without building new piers for each row of wells.

One of the piers is to be built by C. E. Boone. It will be twenty-two feet wide and 2362 feet long, on State Tideland Permit No. 208. The other is planned by L. G. Dreyfus on Permit No. 99. It will be twenty-two feet wide and will extend into the ocean for 3270 feet.

DEVIL'S DEN OIL QUEST PENDING

Richfield Planning Test for Deep Production

Company Has Large Tract Under Lease in District

Drilling Operations Slated to Start at Once

Under an arrangement which has just been made by the Richfield Oil Company, the old Devil's Den district, approximately eight miles northwest of Bakersfield, is to be given another test by substantial oil production.

The district has for years been a producer of gassy oil at shallow depths. There have been a number of wells, scarcely more than 100 to 125 feet, which yielded a grade of oil prized by ichthyol, an expensive product used in certain pharmaceutical compounds. A small refinery was built by San Diegans, refined the product for a time.

Other wells yielding small quantities of petroleum were drilled to greater depths of a few hundred feet, but failed to become substantial producers, and there has been little work there for several years. Richfield has leased the property, what is regarded as a promising structure, and is planning to start work on a well there at once.

The company holds leases on Sec. 11, 13, 14 and 15, and also 80 acres of Sec. 23, which it controls through its subsidiary, the Universal Consolidated Oil Company. The first well will be drilled on Sec. 14, where the drill will explore to the depth of production at depths deeper than has ever been found there heretofore.

Useful Products From Gas Field Waste Planned

In connection with the study of the best methods for the conservation of natural gas under circumstances such that it cannot be used directly for fuel, the United States Bureau of Mines, at its Pittsburgh Experiment Station, has investigated its use in the production of formaldehyde.

This compound has extensive use in the manufacture of synthetic resins such as bakelite, from which is fabricated a multitude of useful products. Early work showed that traces of formaldehyde are formed when mixtures of methane (the principal constituent of "dry" natural gas) and air are strongly heated.

Later work showed that certain gaseous catalysts such as the oxides of nitrogen enormously increased the yield of formaldehyde. The present work has shown, however, that until further developments are made, this method is not practicable because of the excessive cost of the nitrogen oxides required to produce a given amount of formaldehyde.

SHASTA COPPER ESTATE CLOSED

Mountain Mining and Engels Suspend Work

Smaller Companies Also Join General Shut-down

Activity in Area Chiefly at Gold Properties

SACRAMENTO, July 20. (Exclusive)—Low copper prices are cutting heavily into California's yield of the red metal and forcing closing of numerous properties. The Mountain Copper Company, Ltd., Shasta county's premier producer, has closed all its properties at Iron Mountain, and the Engels Copper Company has suspended activities on its properties near Portola. Smaller corporations have laid off their forces, and the search for new deposits of copper has practically ceased.

The Siskiyou Syndicate, operating the Quartz Valley gold properties near Fort Jones, has acquired the Hull Gulch group and placed a small mill in commission on good ore. The corporation owns the Cub Bear, Blue Jean and other properties, and is reported arranging for more vigorous activities. The Quartz Valley is producing steadily, with most of the ore of decomposed character.

With the Argonaut and Kennedy [illegible] reporting important gold strikes and the Central Eureka, Lincoln and other companies producing heavily, the gold-mining situation in Amador county is steadily improving. Lower costs of machinery and supplies has facilitated more economical operations and prospecting is more active in the hills around Jackson, Amador City, Sutter Creek, Drytown and other historic camps than at any time in [illegible] years.

The Sacred Mound Company, operating the old California Butte mine at Sierra City, is reported to be mining excellent ore. The corporation is said to have cleaned up more than $7500 from a recent run of the mill, with a large tonnage of profitable ore exposed. The property is developed by an 80-foot crosscut tunnel and a series of drifts.

Round Mountain Wildcat Idling

ROUND MOUNTAIN, July 20. (Exclusive)—Gerrard & Phillips are drilling their No. 1 well on Sec. 32, 11-39, in the Round Mountain unproven area. Total depth is 1650 feet, 200 feet more hole than when the project was rejuvenated some months ago and drilled ahead.

Since then a drilling implement has been stuck in the hole and efforts of fruitless effort have attended attempts to extract it. The well has casing set at 360 feet.

OIL SITUATION IN TEJON FIELD TOLD

GRAPEVINE STATION, July 20. (Exclusive)—The Tejon district has one well drilling and another about ready to start. The Elmer Oil Company's Tejon No. 1 on Sec. 18, 30-30, is down 6260 feet, in a sand and shale formation. J. J. Ritchie has the rig up for his No. 1 well on Sec. 23, 11-19.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

Qualitative analysis will be given in this department of The Times to correspondents on ores and minerals free of charge. Make each sample of an ounce or so in weight. Be sure to write a letter stating what tests are desired and give the approximate locality from which samples were taken. Do not pulverize the specimens. Give your name and address on paper wrapped with samples.

Not Beryllium Ore

GRANT'S PASS (Or.) June 28.—Question: I have something new—a high-grade beryllium ore of milk-white color and we have large deposits of it; enough to supply the world.

A chemist in Portland, Or., claims he has worked out a formula to recover the metal on a commercial scale for about $2.80 per ton ore. Very few chemists have a formula to recover beryllium cheap enough. This ore requires a white heat for over two hours. Powder the ore very fine, and mix it with potassium carbonate, and you will recover the metal. There is more than one metal in this ore; I was told it carried palladium also. Beryllium is worth $250 per pound. X.

Answer: The United States Geological Survey refers to beryl as glucinum-aluminum silicate, and contains 14 per cent glucina (glucinum oxide.) Glucinum is a rare metal, and it was first discovered in beryl, from which the alternative name beryllium is derived. Beryllium or glucinum Symbol Be; is of atomic weight 9.3 and it can be purchased at from $35 to $45 per pound. We regret that space will not permit further reference to the metal.

The samples submitted by you do not give even a trace of beryllium, or palladium, by three different analyses. The sample is quartz and is practically all silica with the exception of a little iron. It is about as pure quarts as we have ever had submitted to us.

The claims set forth in your communication are most extraordinary! They are on a par with the process by which gold was obtained (?) from the waters of Mono Lake, Cal., and likewise on a par with the process of the fake platinum gangs, which for the past quarter of a century obtain platinum (?) in such rocks as hornblende.

Let 'em alone and they'll come home and bring their "tales" behind 'em!

Flake Platinum Absent

BARSTOW, June 29.—Q.: Am sending you two samples of ore from the camp at Goldstone, thirty miles north of Barstow. Would like to know their contents. No. 1, in panning, leaves a very heavy streak; thought possibly it might be platinum. Would be glad to know if this ore carries any valuable metals. B.

A.: Both samples analyze very much alike. They carry quartz, more or less zinc, limonite and altered pyrite. Native gold in traces only and no reaction for lead. In panning, the whitish string seems to be impure baryte stained with a little iron. For other gold and silver values please consult assayers.

Two Samples

NEWBERRY, June 29.—Q.: Kindly give us analyses of the inclosed samples and oblige. O.

A.: No. 1 is a ferruginous mixture of calcite with some dolomite and slight reaction for strontium. On No. 2, you state—"Think it is a silver ore." Mineralogical silver not present. For other gold and silver values consult assayers. Better analyses are made when "approximate localities of samples" are given.

Four Samples

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—Q.: Please go over the inclosed samples and let me known through In the Earth column what they are and if of any commercial value. These samples are from the Harquahala hills in Arizona. G.

A.: No. 1 is milk-white impure quartz containing traces of micaceous iron (hematite.) No. 2 is impure dolomite, seamed with calcite sparingly. Silica present with quite a per cent of iron. No. 3 is a mixture of iron oxides, dolomite, copper in low percentage, and looks as if it might react for traces of nickel. No. 4 is also impure dolomite, seamed with calcite sparingly; azurite traces. No sample tested for zinc.

Three Samples

CASTAIC, June 30.—Q.: Do any of the three samples carry gold or silver? Come from places quite far apart. Thanking you. R.

A.: No. 1 carries a trace of native gold found in the limonite. Nos. 2 and 3 free gold absent. For other gold-silver values please consult assayers.

Two Samples

LOS ANGELES July 1.—Q.: The samples herewith were taken from a mining property about five miles northeast of Mokelumne Hill, Calaveras county, Cal., at a point two miles east of the Mother Lode, as shown by the Geological Survey map. I shall appreciate any report you may give through your chemistry column. H. K. M.

A.: Sample No. 1 is micaschist—free gold absent. No. 2 consists of four pieces of differing minerals which should have been submitted as four samples and are quartzitic rocks. Together they react for more or less pyrite, blende, garnet, marcasite, and no native gold in the blackish-yellow specimen.

Amphibole

INDEPENDENCE, July 3.—Q.: Under separate cover I am sending you one sample of rock which I wish you would classify and notify me as to commercial value through Los Angeles Times. X.

A.: The sample might be confused with cyanite, but it is simply a variety of hornblende. Commercial value of such mineral is problematical.

Free Gold Absent

LOS ANGELES, July 3.—Q.: Samples were found near Kelso, Cal., and are from the surface. I shall be very grateful for any information regarding same. Is the blue-green color in No. 2 copper or silver? Have been reading your column for fifteen years. L.

A.: No. 1 is an altered quartzitic rock showing "slickensides" on one side. It carries more or less iron manganese oxides and represents doubtful commercial values. No. 2 is probably altered olivine carrying traces of copper sulphate (blue color) with traces of malachite. Probably a low percentage of zinc in this sample.

Wales Travel Plans Denied

LONDON, July 20. (AP)—Sir Godfrey Thomas, private secretary to the Prince of Wales, today described as "pure invention" a story that the Prince intends to visit the United States and have a "camping holiday" in Canada this year.

Early editions of the Sunday Express published the story, saying the Prince planned the trip and would have Sir Philip Sassoon as a companion.

ARABS PROCLAIM DAY OF MOURNING

JERUSALEM, July 20. (AP)—The Arab executive committee here today proclaimed next Sunday a day of morning, it being the fortieth day after the execution of the 1929 riot murderers. The proclamation urged Arab villagers to visit the tombs, according to Moslem custom, on the fortieth day after death. The government restricted mourners to the pious acts usual on such occasions, prohibiting processions, public assemblies and political speeches. Meanwhile 2000 native Christians gathered on Mt. Carmel to celebrate the festival of the prophet Elias.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

POR EL PROF. R. GUERRERO

Encargado de la Sección Española de Este Diario

En el segundo párrafo de mi Plática anterior dice "spaña" por "España"; en el noveno, "nadd" por "nada", y en el último, "unbismo" por "un abismo".

"Sevilla arde en fiestas", comienza diciendo el artículo transcrito en mi Plática anterior. En este caso, el verbo "arder" connota las ideas de abundancia, de brillo y de entusiasmo; es como si dijéramos, "Sevilla está llena de brillantes y locas fiestas"; "Dazzling feasts are in full swing in Seville".

El verbo "arder" se usa expresivamente en español para denotar el entusiasmo, el fervor, la exaltación, la irritación de las pasiones, etc.: "Ardía la santa mujer en amor divino"; "No le habíes hoy de negocios a mi padre, pues está que arde por el fracaso de su última empresa"; "Encontré muy grave la situación política en España; está la cosa que arde"; es decir, se teme que estalle algún movimiento de un momento a otro.

"Nunca más apropiado el 'tópico' que en la presente ocasión", nos sigue diciendo el señor Spottorno y Topete. Califica el escritor de "tópico" la expresión "arder en fiestas", pues llámanse en retórica "tópicos" o "lugares comunes" aquellas expresiones vulgares o triviales que cast todo el mundo emplea en determinadas circunstancias.

El escritor había con entusiasmo de la iluminación de la feria de Sevilla, y dice que es "algo fantástico". Estoy cierto de que muchos de mis lectores han leido descripciones de esas alegres fiestas que anualmente se celebran en Sevilla por Pascua Florida. Algunos hasta las habrán presenciado en la propia Hispalis, a orillas del Betis caudaloso. Para los que ni las hayan visto ni leído de ellas transcribo la siguiente noticia tomada de la Enciclopedia de Espasa: Se celebran las ferias de Sevilla los días 18, 19, 20 y 21 de Abril, y del 28 al 30 de Septiembre, en el extenso Prado de San Sebastián, junto a la estación del f.c. de Cádiz. La famosa feria de Abril se celebra en Sevilla con una animación inusitada. Dispónese el ferial entre el río, que por su margen izquierda bordea el parque de María Luisa, el barrio de San Sebastián con sus bellos jardines, el barrio de San Bernardo y los más hermosos jardines de Murillo del barrio de Santa Cruz, los del Alcázar Real y la Puerta de Jerez. En este recinto levántanse las típicas casetas, con sus blancas lonas y olorosas guirnaldas, donde se aposenta en estos tres días las gente ávidas de diversión, y cantando y bailando como en su propia casa, dejan transcurrir las horas haciendo circular de mano en mano las cañas de dorado vino. Por las calzadas circulan largas y apretadas hileras de carruajes, lujosos automóviles, ricos coches tirados por briosos caballos enjaezados con madroños de tercidpelo y doradas campanillas, jinetes de clásico traje corto caballeros en ágiles corceles; y, por los paseos, bajo el toldo de verdor de las acacias adornado con guirnaldas, banderas, gallardetes y farolillos de colores, discurre una compacta multitud, a cuya alegría se mezclan los pregones de los vendedores de baratijas, frutas, turrones azucarados, y los de los que anuncian los circos, figuras de cera y otros espectáculos populares que se exhiben en barracones, junto a los que aparecen los típicos de las buñolerías. Frente a este ferial se halla el de ganados, en el que, en amplios corraletes, se exponen potros, bueyes, asnos, corderos, etc.

Todo eso, dentro del cuadro de la encantadora ciudad del Guadalquivir, y animado por el regocijo de su gente alegre y dicharachera, resulta delicioso para el espectador. Con razón dice Lon Rdch lo siguiente de la feria de Andalucía: "Tiene la ciudad de la Giralda todo el prestigio de la belleza y de la gracia; en sus callejas llenas de luz y en sus plazas inundadas de sol, como en sus jardines eternamente floridos, se refleja todo el encanto de la tierra y la alegría del carácter; parece especialmente formada para el placer y la fiesta. Por eso acuden a ella desde los países más lejanos, millares de turistas, gustadores de arte, devotos de las tradiciones, amigos de la fiesta o simples curiosos, atraídos por su fama, para gozar sus delicias y admirar su primores. De todo lo demás, poco o nada importa a estos peregrinos de un día, llevados a tierras andaluzas por el prestigio de unas procesiones sin semejanza y la fama de una feria sin rival. Pero en Sevilla hay que admirar algo más que eso . . . En nuestro tiempo ha llegado a ser Sevilla una de las primeras ciudades industriales y productoras de España . . . Al lado de los insignes monumentos que levantaron los alarifes árabes y mudéjares y los artistas del Renacimiento, se alzan grandes fábricas y se desarrollan y progresan numerosas industrias. Y en las primeras horas de la mañana y al atardecer, las estrechas callejas sevillanas son como hormigueros de trabajadores que van a su labor o vuelven a sus hogares . . . Todo lo típico, todo lo pintoresco de Sevilla invadido por el trabajo. Y el Betis famoso, inspirador de los poetas, supremo elemento de belleza en la tierra sevillana, es al mismo tiempo la más importante arteria comercial de España, por donde caminan al mar y a otros países muchos productos del suelo de la patria y de las fábricas y minas de la ciudad y la provincia sevillanas . . . ¡Oh, hermosa paradoja de Sevilla, ciudad bendita de la alegría y de la belleza!"

Rail Workers in Ireland Call for General Strike

DUBLIN, July 20. (AP)—A resolution calling for a general strike on the Great Southern Railway system of Ireland unless dismissed workers are immediately reinstated was passed tonight by a mass meeting of Irish railway men.

The strike scheduled to begin at midnight tomorrow will tie up rail traffic all over the southern and western part of the Irish Free State.

HAND ON DIAL SEVERE JUDGE

Slight Twist Condemns Station Features

KHJ Offering Two New Morning Numbers

Secretary of War Listed on KECA Program

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m. World-wide News at 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

No judge is more exacting than the dialing hand in passing on programs which radio stations send before the tribunal of the air.

The hand in turn is controlled by the vacillating moods of radio owners throughout the land. A slight turn of the dial and the trap is sprung—stamping another feature a failure in radio. By the same token the hand chooses to welcome that which pleases it—returning night after night to that which it likes.

Radio stations speed their messages trusting they will find favorable verdicts and that the dialing hands will reach out in welcome. Nights spent in planning, rehearsing and spending are sometimes swept away in an instant. Some features considered "sure fire" are condemned and some "orphan" wins approbation.

The dialing hand is the compass by which radio guides its course.

EARLY FEATURES ON KHJ

Two news features shortly after the sun bobs up are on KHJ. Hale and Derry at 7:30 a.m. in a half-hour of comedy patter and songs, while In He Right comes on at 8 a.m. with his joy spreading, so that you may start for work with a smile or a song. At 6 tonight, those wishing symphony music can dial KHJ for thirty minutes of the Don Lee Symphony, under the baton of Christian Sprotti, while the ensuing half hour from 6:30 to 7 brings Columbia's ace of organists, Jesse Crawford. At 7 p.m. Raymond Paige brings an Inglewood Park concert half hour that should please. The political event of the evening is a talk by James Rolph, Jr., at 7:30 from KFRC. At 8 the Blue Monday Jamboree train pulls into the station with "Not a laugh in a carload but hundreds of them," for a two-hour layover replete with humor dealing with traveling on railroads, including discussion of half-wits purchasing tickets, the difficulties of an upper berth, itineraries —and the lady who holds up the ticket line "chatting" with the ticket seller. They'll toot a locomotive whistle to give atmosphere.

KFI at 6 p.m. presents a chain program of diverse selections, including three numbers from the opera "Bartered Bride." In contrasting vein are tunes reminiscent of old Vienna in a variation on Kreisler's "Viennese Melody." The politically inclined can hear Gov. Young at 7 p.m., while 9 p.m. offers Virginia Fiohri in a program of songs, to be followed at 9:30 by the Packard Concert Orchestra with Miss Fiohri as guest soloist, in the cream of concert repertoire. Duci De Kerekjarto, violinist, is scheduled for 10 o'clock in a trio with Blanche Crossman, contralto, and Zhay Clark, harpist.

HURLEY TO SPEAK

KECA at 4 p.m. will offer Patrick Hurley, Secretary of War. His subject will be "The Development of Inland Waterways." General Motors Family Party at 5:30 p.m. offers George Gershwin, composer, as guest pianist. Olive Kline, Phil Dewey and others will present a half hour of Gershwin music—some of which has never been published. At 9 p.m. Ray Van Dyne's orchestra, with Jean Dunn, soloist, promise an hour of blues music and songs—all shades of blue and harmony.

KNX at 8 p.m. finds "The Devil's Humor" as the title to a radio playlet. At 8:30—the Lubovski Violin Choir in a repertoire of classics and at 10 Gus Arnheim and his entertainers, featuring a trio, saxophone choir and the Rhythm Boys, which will bid for your dial with plenty of speed and dance music.

KFWB offers the lovers of Philbert Nevin's composition a treat at 8 p.m. with a musical portrait of the composer. Musical interludes will be provided by Ray Martinez's Orchestra, with Lewis Meehan, tenor soloist. At 9:30 p.m. the Olympic Auditorium will broadcast the prize fight between Jack Medill and Billy Townsend. It is a rematch forecast as a real battle.

KMTR at 6 tonight will offer Lloyd S. Nix, ex-City Prosecutor, in a short talk. At 9 tonight the Salon Quintet plays 30 minutes of light classics, while the Banjo Boys at 9:30 treat with a request program.

MANY HURT, ONE DEAD IN RAIL WRECK

Train Leaves Track After Crashing Into Auto on Grade Crossing

ELIZABETH (N. J.) July 20. (AP) Forty-eight persons were in hospitals and one man was dead today, victims of a wreck of a New York-bound Pennsylvania Railroad train near Elizabeth station last night.

The locomotive and tender were overturned and two coaches crashed down an embankment at a trestle after the train struck an automobile on the tracks at a grade crossing recently unused, a few blocks from the station.

John Craig, Brooklyn, a passenger, died of a fractured skull in Elizabeth General Hospital early today. All the others are expected to recover.

Sixty-eight persons were treated at hospitals after the wreck, but twenty of them were permitted to go home.

Held as material witnesses in connection with the collision were James W. and Arthur Allcroft, and William McNair, all of Elizabeth, who were said by police to have abandoned the automobile when they saw a collision was inevitable. They were found at the home of the Allcrofts.

No charges had been placed against the three men late today. Police said they reported a fourth man was the driver of the car.

SHE'S AMANUENSIS OF SPIRIT AUTHOR

Mrs. Pearl Curran Rogers

REAL 'GHOST WRITER' HAS QUEER LINE

Authoress Here Asserts Tales Dictated to Her by Baffled Spirit

Mrs. Pearl Curran Rogers of St. Louis, who is here for the summer as the guest of Mrs. A. B. Smith, 227 South Lucerne Boulevard, is the possessor of a gift for writing that is hers only by proxy, for it manifests itself through a personality known to her as Patience Worth, who speaks to Mrs. Curran as she is more generally known, in a still, small voice, which tells her what to write.

"I am not a spiritualist in any sense of the word," she said. "I don't believe in it and am not interested enough to want to study about it. I don't throw a trance or become hypnotized or anything of that sort. I am not a medium nor is there anything spooky in connection with what I do. I can't explain it myself—I don't attempt to—yet the fact remains that for some reason or other, I seem to be the instrument through whom Patience Worth is making herself heard."

And this is the story Mrs. Curran told of the beginnings and development of the phenomenon, which has attracted the attention and study of scientists and psychologists throughout the country, and which as yet, remains unexplained.

It began seventeen years ago as a diversion, Mrs. Curran said, in which the operation of a ouija board served as the medium of expression and which was regarded by Mrs. Curran merely as so much twaddle. But at length when Patience became so insistent, she began to make a record of everything she said, discarding the ouija board and discovered that Patience still continued to speak to her.

Urged by her friends, Mrs. Rogers invited a number of scientists to witness the manifestation and from this grew the interest and study which has attempted to find an adequate explanation. At the same time the Holt Publishing Company was attracted by the material and published some of Mrs. Curran's first books and poems.

"When Patience wants to say something," said Mrs. Curran, "I first see a brief moving panorama of the subject pass before me and then immediately a soft and wonderfully sweet voice speaks and I repeat only what it says to me. I don't feel any differently than I do normally. I am conscious of everyone and everything around me and this thing, call it what you will—secondary personality or the subconscious—has in no way altered my life from that of a very normal wife and mother of two daughters, with the same interests, social contacts and activities of any other normal woman."

Patience Worth, she says, is an English woman who lived in about 1649, whose mother was a weaver of linen. Patience herself has told Mrs. Curran of this and she believes she is projecting her personality back into the world today in order that she can do the things which she wanted to do and could not when she lived. Investigation of this person by C. S. Yost, editor of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, who went to England himself to gather information, has corroborated the fact that there was a Worth

Extra Force Will be on Job to Serve Belated

All persons who intend casting a ballot at the State primary election on August 26, next, must be registered not later than midnight next Saturday, according to an announcement made by Registrar of Voters Kerr.

In order to cope with an expected last-minute rush of registrations, Kerr stated he will maintain deputy registrars in his office at 330 North Broadway from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily throughout this week and until midnight next Saturday. A deputy registrar will maintain the same hours at the Main-street entrance of the City Hall.

Total county registration to date is set at 761,339, of which 427,804 represents those in the city of Los Angeles and 333,535 those in other territory.

OTHER ELECTIONS

Kerr also announced that tomorrow Los Angeles city municipal improvement district No. 76 and Los Angeles county sanitation district No. 2 will conduct elections. Other scheduled elections are:

THREE DEAD OF INJURIES IN TRAFFIC

Two Men Die in Week-end Car Crashes, Third, Hurt in June, Succumbs

Two men are dead, another is not expected to live, and two more were seriously injured in traffic accidents reported to the police over the week-end.

Nemesio Zarazgoza, 35 years of age, of 323 North Broadway, was killed almost instantly late yesterday when the roadster in which he was riding with three companions went out of control on Mission Boulevard and after crashing into a parked sedan was crushed against a power line pole.

Riding in the car, which was driven by Thomas Ruazol, 30, employed at the Beverly Hills Hotel, were S. Prijolos, 1414 South Hope street, and M. Perbeguras, 834 East Ocean avenue, Long Beach. Ruazol was badly injured internally and is not expected to survive, according to surgeons at the General Hospital. The other two suffered fractured ribs and bruises.

Several hours after he was injured in a collision between his automobile and another car at Mountain View avenue and Hope street in Walnut Park yesterday morning, Carl G. Lauman, 24 years of age, of 3055 Hope street, Walnut Park, died at the Huntington Park Hospital.

The other machine was driven by Ray Wall of 404 Cordova avenue, Alhambra, according to a Sheriff's office report. He was not injured, the report stated.

Injuries received June 7, last, when his automobile was forced off a highway near Torrance by another machine, yesterday resulted in the death of J. Kurino, 42, of R.F.D. 205, Long Beach. It was reported to the Coroner's office. Kurino died at the Torrance Hospital. The body was removed to the Stone & Meyers mortuary in that town.

FLASHER SIGNAL ASKED

The Board of Public Works has asked the City Council to appropriate $303 for the construction of a bumper post and caution flasher at the pedestrian safety island at Virgil avenue and Temple street. The matter was transmitted to the Traffic and Street Lighting Committee.

BEACH LURE AGAIN STRONG

Throngs Swarm on Sands Despite Cooler Weather; Drowning at Long Beach Mars Day

Undaunted by an appreciable drop in the temperature, which registered a peak of only 76 deg., crowds again yesterday swarmed to the beaches. A bright sun unaccompanied by cooling breezes in the early morning hours augured another hot day and sent week-enders in large droves scurrying seaward to escape the anticipated heat. But, true to the Weather Man's predictions, moderate temperatures continued to prevail, the high point of 76 reached by the mercury being 10 deg. less than that of the corresponding date last year.

Of all the surrounding beaches, Long Beach reported the densest crowds of the day. There the nine-mile strand attracted an estimated throng of 225,000, more than half of whom took a dip in the surf.

Despite the large numbers of bathers, however, only one fatality marred the day. Sinking just as helping hands reached out to rescue him, Frank Karabellos, 18 years of age, of 520 East Thirty-second street, was drowned while swimming at the foot of Tulare street, Long Beach. The body has not been recovered.

With Joe Leon, 19, his chum, 3657 South Arlington avenue, Karabellos was striking out for a diving-raft

RAIL FEUD RECALLS EARLIER DAYS

Climax in Espee Right-of-Way Fight Scheduled for Today

Scenes at Center of Conflict
Above—Steam shovel with which lumber company undermined tracks laid by railroad. Below—Barrier and danger sign erected against Espee.

A RAILROAD right-of-way feud such as marked the early days of railroad building has been brewing in Los Angeles for the past week, and today will reach the climax in San Francisco. A hearing in the Federal Court there will determine whether the Southern Pacific Railroad Company has the right to maintain a spur track on the property of the Sudden Lumber Company in the 2800 block on South Alameda street.

About five years ago, according to Attorney Philip S. Ehrlich, an agreement expired between the lumber company and the railroad covering the operation of the spur track. Since that time representatives of the lumber company have tried unsuccessfully to have the track removed.

After all demands had been refused by the railroad company, Ehrlich sent 100 laborers to the site on the 10th inst. They tore up the Southern Pacific's tracks, threw the rails over the fence, erected a barrier gate, posted warning signs and hung out red lanterns.

Last Monday the railroad company countered the move with a force of 200 laborers with instructions to restore the track. This time the lumber executives were caught off guard, but quickly rallying aid from the Consolidated Rock Company, lessors of the property, a steam shovel was pressed into service. As fast as the track laborers laid their rails, the steam shovel ate out the earth beneath them.

The struggle ended temporarily last Monday afternoon when the railroad officials here were notified of the San Francisco injunction. A decision on the injunction hearing is expected in the Bay City today.

Trade Chiefs to Pow-wow Here Friday

Many business leaders in Southern California will convene in bimonthly meeting of the southern council of the California State Chamber of Commerce here, Friday.

The session will convene at 9:30 a.m.

Standing committee groups will discuss agriculture, aeronautics, conservation, industry, street and highway safety, publicity and highways. Featuring the meeting will be a report by B. B. Meek, Director of Public Works, who will make his final report of Southern California recommendations for addition to the Secondary Highway System for the next two years.

Dr. T. C. Young of Glendale, regional chairman, will preside.

Merger Formed With Beach Club

The Commercial Club of Southern California has formed an affiliation with the Sea Breeze Beach Club of Santa Monica whereby all members of the former organization automatically become members of the beach club today, it was announced yesterday by W. G. Lane, president of the Commercial Club.

HEARING ON ZONE PLAN SCHEDULED

City Council to Consider Hollywood Cemetery Front Petitions August 4

A public hearing on the petition of the Hollywood Cemetery Association to zone for business purposes its Santa Monica Boulevard frontage between Gower street and Van Ness Boulevard will be conducted by the City Planning Committee of the City Council at 2:30 p.m. August 4, it was announced yesterday by Councilman Webster, chairman of the committee.

The City Planning Commission has approved the application, after having conducted a hearing about a month ago. Certain restrictions have been placed upon the development by the commission. A central entrance of 200 feet will be retained, while two buildings, each 200 feet long, may be erected. Plans for the buildings must be submitted to the commission for approval.

TEACHERS CALL DOWN GROWN-UPS WHO CUT UP

It's the old folks who need parental guidance rather than the youngsters, in the opinion of four New York teachers, three of them principals, who arrived on the Dollar liner President Polk yesterday. They are on leave from their schools and will make a seven months' tour around the world, with leisurely stops, including one of seventeen days in California.

"Take this ship, for instance," said one. "The youngsters are irreproachable. It's we grown-ups who think we're cut-ups who ought to be locked up and disciplined, and the older we are the crazier."

The three companions voiced agreement. They are Mrs. Mary Donahue and Misses Anna E. Clemency, May Rigney and Henrietta Fox.

FLINT SLAYER TESTS START

Alienists at Work on Keaton in Psychopathic Ward

Daily Examinations Planned in Sanity Investigation

Witnesses in Shooting Will Give Stories Today

Daily examinations and tests for evidences of insanity will be given Frank D. Keaton, slayer of Motley Flint, in the psycopathic ward at the General Hospital, and the three alienists appointed by the court intend to keep the prisoner under close observation all week, it was learned yesterday.

A preliminary test, which included a physical examination, was conducted yesterday and will be continued today, the psychiatrists say. Reports of their findings, however, will not be made public until Keaton's trial gets under way before Superior Judge Schauer on August 1, next.

All information obtained by Drs. Charles Allen, Edwin Waite and Edson Steele, named by Superior Judge McComb to examine Keaton at the request of Public Defenders Vercoe and Neeley, will be available to Drs. Thomas J. Orbison and Victor Parkin. They have had the Flint killer under observation at the request of the District Attorney's office.

QUIET PRISONER

Keaton, who was removed from his cell at the County Jail to the psychopathic ward, is lending stoic assistance to the alienists and, according to his jailers, is an exceptionally quiet prisoner.

Eyewitness accounts of the courtroom tragedy will be given today or tomorrow by half a dozen persons when they are called before Dep. Dist.-Attys. Burgess and Russell, who are preparing the case for trial. Among those from whom statements will be taken by the prosecutors are Superior Judge Collier, in whose courtroom Keaton a week ago fired the three fatal shots; Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Selznick, friends of the slain man and over whose shoulders the shots were fired.

DEFENSE PLANS UNCERTAIN

Final decision on the appearance of Attorney Paul Barksdale D'Orr as chief defense counsel for Keaton probably will be made early this week. Mrs. Miriam Keaton, wife of the slayer, is attempting to straighten out some of her husband's financial affairs with a view to obtaining the services of the former Shuler attorney.

Employment of D'Orr, which was tentatively discussed last Friday by Mrs. Keaton and friends, has not reached more than the preliminary conferences, according to the attorney, who expects some final word on the matter today or tomorrow.

Tenth Street Project Veto Up Tomorrow

The Public Works Committee tomorrow afternoon will take up Mayor Porter's veto of the final ordinance for the paving and improving of the Olympic Boulevard and Stanley avenue district, a two and one-half-mile link in the city-wide Tenth-street project.

It is expected that a determined effort will be made to assemble ten votes to over-ride the Mayor's veto, thus defeating any effort to delay or hamstring the project. The Mayor acted upon a 13 per cent protest.

W. H. GOFF FUNERAL RITES WILL BE TODAY

Funeral rites for William Homer Goff, Los Angeles paving contractor, who died of pneumonia Saturday at his home, 1921 Apex avenue, will be conducted at 1 p.m. today at the W. A. Brown chapel, 1815 South Flower street. Interment will be in the Masonic section of Forest Lawn mausoleum. Mr. Goff, who was 52 years of age, came to Los Angeles in 1905 from Pennsylvania. He was a Mason and an Elk. Besides his widow, who was called home from the East by her husband's illness and arrived Thursday, he leaves several relatives in New York and New Jersey.

AIR TRAVEL INSPECTORS KEPT BUSY

Oranges Held Contraband in Seven Instances by County Officials

Since the inauguration on March 1, last, of airplane-inspection service by the office of County Agricultural Commissioner Ryan, 324 planes, carrying 2369 passengers and 3496 pieces of baggage, have been inspected, it is revealed in a report made by Deputy Commissioner Gorton, in charge of the work.

The report discloses, incidentally, that out of the 324 planes inspected 45 per cent were on time, 11 per cent were from fifteen minutes to one hour and one-half early, 30 per cent were from thirty minutes to three hours late and 7 per cent were more than three hours late. Another 7 per cent did not come in on the day scheduled, arriving the following day.

On seven occasions contraband oranges were seized and in one instance lemon peels found on the floor of a plane were classified as contraband. The inspection service is maintained at the field of Western Air Express in Alhambra, of the T.A.T.-Maddux Line at the Grand Central Terminal in Glendale and of the Pacific Air Transport at Boeing Field in Burbank.

GUERNSEY WILL BE BAR'S HONOR GUEST

With Louis G. Guernsey as the guest of honor, the judiciary campaign committee of the Los Angeles Bar Association will meet today at the Alexandria. Mr. Guernsey has just returned from the East. He will again take charge of the work of the committee, which has been handled during his absence by Andrew F. Francisco.

SHULER RULE LAID TO FEAR

Nix Says Minister's Power Over City Hall Rests on Dread of Broadcast Criticism

Describing Rev. R. P. Shuler as "a showman before he is a reformer, and a reformer before he is a clergyman," City Prosecutor Nix fired another barrage last night in the word war between himself, the Trinity Methodist minister and Mayor Porter in a fifteen-minute radio address.

Nix told in detail events that followed his radio talk of a week ago in which he asked for suspended judgment by the people on Shuler over the holding as evidence in the case of the slaying of Motley H. Flint a pamphlet—"Julian Thieves"—written by the minister. He told of his resignation requested by the Mayor and of his losing both "respect and confidence in Shuler" after a visit to the minister's office.

"Mr. Shuler prates much about moral leadership; but I don't think that the moral leadership has much to do with his peculiar eminence in this city," Nix declared. "It is the reluctance to be exposed to his reckless and extravagant criticisms that leads perfectly courageous and substantial men and women from crossing swords with him.

"I am sure this is the main source of his remarkable power at the City Hall. Naturally few persons would acknowledge it. But there is scarcely an employee or an official in any

HOT weather means more than a wilted collar and a fussy temper.

For instance, Monday . . .

Ordinarily, Monday is a lean day for cafes. Last Monday was a big dinner day for all neighborhood cafes—this because women without servants didn't want to flirt with the cook stove.

The work of waitresses increased three or four times because of having to fill water glasses so many times.

Night gasoline sales leaped because everyone who had a car got out of superheated houses to ride during the evening. By the same token, electric light consumption dropped.

SUN COLLAPSES

If you didn't like it, the hot weather probably benefited your health owing to the great quantity of water absorbed. During the hot weather in places like Imperial Valley, it is estimated that every person drinks two gallons a day.

Sunstroke is almost unknown in the sense that people suffer from it in the East. But both animals and men collapse from the heat in the desert regions. Horses can't stand it; but mules endure it.

Foremen on the desert jobs can always tell when a mule or a Mexican is about to go under. He suddenly begins to work and move at a furious pace. When they see undue enthusiasm, they promptly go out into the field and yank him off the job.

HORSE ANCESTORS

A recent archeological find in Idaho indicates that the horse developed on the American continent from his primitive three-toed forbear. In that case, what became of the horses in the middle period?

Until a comparatively recent date, there were no horses of any kind in America. The Indians never heard of them until the knights and soldiers of Cortez arrived in Mexico with their Barb war horses.

In fact, the horse is so recent that the "word" for a journey in the Indian sign language is to draw your spread fingers in front of you—indicating a dog drawing a travois.

POTS OF GOLD

It is curious how gold sticks in the same place.

At Magdalena in the State of Jalisco, Mex., a peasant plowed up a pot of gold containing $50,000 worth of gold coins the other day.

Magdalena is the little town on the edge of the barrancas where the mines of the Aztec Emperor Montezuma were supposed to be located. Whether or not they were there, the district has been famous for mines ever since.

OUR REAL ESTATE

No one should take too seriously—as they evidently have—some anguished remarks in this column about vacant lots for sale.

I have no anxiety about lots. California real estate is the best investment—and the surest—in the whole world.

It is a mere matter of arithmetic. You have only to see the visiting cars from other States to realize that people are pouring in here. Los Angeles lies in a comparatively small valley. It can't help filling up—with an attendant rise in values.

LAND PROMOTER IN COURT TODAY

Samuel Mooes Will Appear for Sentence

Convicted of Fraud in Sale of Arid Acreage

Misrepresentation About Water Charged

Having been convicted of five counts of using the mails to defraud, Samuel Mooes, land promoter, is to appear today before United States District Judge James for sentence.

Testimony in the trial of Mooes, which ended last week by a conviction on five counts, showed that he had sold "mountain tops" to about 2000 persons, asserting that the land, located in the northerly part of Imperial county, would benefit from the Boulder Dam. It was brought out by Assistant United States Attorneys Redwine and Davis that the land is too high in altitude to obtain any such benefit.

Mooes, it was shown, purchased about 34,000 acres of railroad land at 50 cents an acre and sold most of it for from $5 to $7 an acre, assuring investors of benefits to come.

PROFITS VANISH AS LAW RULES

Canny Scheme to Sell "Gas" And Have it, Too, Gets Operator In Bad

Additional profits accruing to Maynard Burgard, operator of a gasoline service station at 4346 West Pico street, as a result of selling short measure gasoline were wiped out in Municipal Judge Northrup's court when he was fined $50 for violating the State weights and measures law. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

Burgard was arrested by Deputies Parish and Hoppes of the office of the county Sealer of Weights and Measures when a citizen complained that he had paid for more gasoline than he received. The deputies drove into his station and bought five gallons of gasoline, they reported, and Burgard used the return valve on his visible pump to return one gallon to the tank before putting the remainder in their car.

A vivid description of the stirring performance by Graham McNamee, talking reporter, accompanies the film.

The issue also includes views of the return of Helen Wills from England, where she won the Wimbledon tennis title, a tank-house fire in Chicago, a bicycle race at Hackensack, N. J., water-walkers on skis shooting the rapids in Austria and an aerial circus at Atlantic City.

The schedule may be obtained by calling up the Newsreel Book at REpublic 3171 and inquiring about Newsreel No. 57.

NEGRO BANDITS GO ON RAMPAGE

Two Steal Sedan and Then Terrorize Motorists

Other Hold-up Men Active Over Week-End

Miniature Golf Course One of Places Robbed

Robbing the proprietor of a garage of an expensive sedan and $10 in cash two Negro bandits terrorized motorists for several hours late Saturday night and obtained more than $100 in cash. Although the objects of search by police patrols in four police divisions and of two beach cities the men are still at large.

Other week-end bandits robbed drug stores, service stations, a miniature golf course and a market. One man was beaten and thrown to the road after being robbed and two youths snatched a purse from a woman and then escaped in a car driven by a confederate.

GARAGE ON WILSHIRE

The bandit raids started shortly after Isaac Washington, proprietor of the Manhattan-Wilshire garage, Manhattan street and Wilshire Boulevard, reported to police that two armed Negroes had robbed him of $10 and a sedan.

A few minutes later victims of the two men appeared at police stations and reported the following losses: E. L. Legate, driver of a Los Angeles Railway bus, robbed of $25 at Laurel Canyon Road and Sunset Boulevard shortly after he reached the end of the bus line; L. Guebere, chauffeur of 701 Camden Drive, was robbed of several dollars at Beverly Boulevard and Charing Cross Road, and Mrs. Blanche Davenport, 944 Twelfth street, Santa Monica, was robbed of $12 at California and Electric streets, Venice, when the two Negroes forced her car into the curbing.

Jess Graham, transient, was beaten and robbed of $4 by three men who took him into their car at Fifth street and Towne avenue on promise of procuring work for him. The men took him to a deserted spot near Lincoln Park, robbed him, beat him and then threw him from the car.

PURSE SNATCHED

Mrs. J. R. Maguire, 235 West Forty-second Place, was the victim of a purse snatcher as she was walking to her home late Saturday night. Mrs. Maguire was stopped by two youths who leaped from a parked car and snatched her purse, which contained $35. The two men fled in a car driven by a third man.

C. Iscoditz, manager of a drug store at 5427 Central avenue, was robbed of $50 by a lone bandit, who threatened the manager with a revolver when demanding the contents of the cash register.

John Cummings, 658 McArthur street, San Pedro, was robbed of $10 at Pacific Boulevard and First street, San Pedro, by a robber who stopped the victim and asked for a match. Holding a gun against Cummings he searched him, took $11 and then returned $1.

George Duhegg, manager of a golf course at 7103 Sunset Boulevard, lost $15 to one man who entered the course office and demanded the contents of the cash drawer at the point of a revolver.

Two armed men in an old car took $88 from E. R. Brand, manager of a service station at 2901 Fletcher Drive, and escaped. Brand told officers that the bandits waited until he was closing and then forced him into the darkened station before robbing him.

Three youthful bandits, one of whom became excited during the hold-up and dropped his revolver to the street, robbed Eleanor Lippert, night manager of the Milton Green Market, 3669 Beverly Boulevard, early yesterday of $65.

Louis Fremont, proprietor of the Prudent Drug Company, 800 North Vermont avenue, was held at bay by a robber who took $90 from the cash drawer. The man, who was shabbily dressed, according to police, was evidently a drug addict and attempted to search the store for narcotics, but was frightened away when a car stopped in front of the store.

department who will take the risk of saying anything that might be displeasing to Shuler. And the feeling is always abroad in the City Hall, that you never know when one of the Reverend Bob's stool pigeons may not be about to carry gossip to his ears. It is amply demonstrated that he knows the most obscure and trivial things that happen in the City Hall.

CONTROLS HALL

"My recent experience with the Mayor," said Nix after describing Shuler as the first political boss of his type, "amply demonstrates the absolute control Shuler has over this city administration. I do not believe the Mayor would venture any important action without Shuler's approval.

"I know that no action was possible in my office without the Mayor's approval, and I feel reasonably certain that the Mayor's approval or disapproval was forthcoming only after he had received Shuler's directions.

"Too many people know that frequently persons desiring attention from the administration have consulted Mr. Shuler before they consulted the Mayor."

BRIEGLEB BELIEVES PAMPHLET WAS "PLANTED"

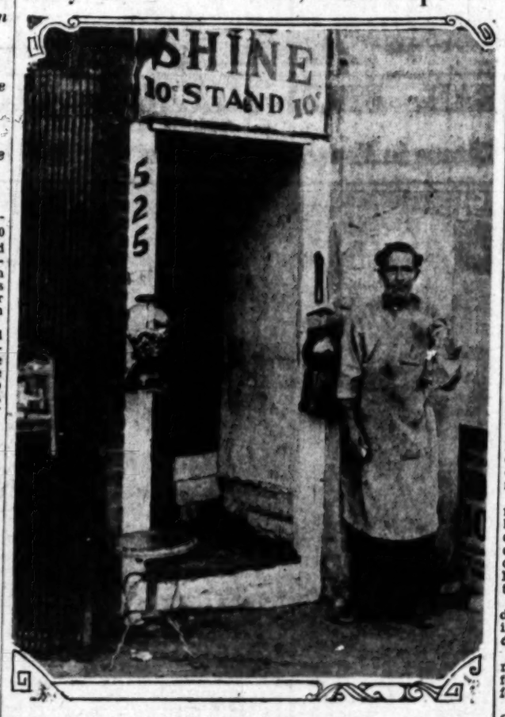
Belief that the Shuler pamphlet assertedly found in the pocket of Frank Keaton when he was searched following the slaying of Motley Flint in Judge Collier's court last Monday, "was planted" was voiced last night at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church by Rev. G. A. Briegleb. He declared that Keaton was not inflamed to the murder of the banker by having read the pamphlet written by Shuler but that his lust for money had driven him insane.

That it might have been planted either by police officials or by enemies of Shuler was his explanation.

R. C. W. Friday, candidate for Superior judge, Office No. 7, objected when the minister—in discussing candidates for public offices—declared he did not feel that "a man who had been disbarred" from practicing law was the one to elect to the bench. Friday declared that he had not been disbarred, but that he had

SHINE STORE CITY'S SMALLEST

Only Three Feet Wide, but Prosperous



F. Gomez at Door to His Shop

THE largest store in Los Angeles probably can be easily located, but it is another matter to find the smallest. F. Gomez, 528 North Main street, thinks he owns it and claims the championship until someone comes along with one tinier than his.

It is located on the south side of the ancient mission opposite the Plaza and is three feet wide, eight feet high and ten feet long. Gomez has been located there for nine years.

He keeps a small stock of goods for sale, but his main business is connected with the use of muscle applied to shoetops with a cloth. In other words, he "shines 'em up."

He sells shoe laces and shoe polish, copies of The Times, carries a small stock of candy and gum and sells quite a quantity of peanuts of the "double-jointed California" variety.

"Everything is jake," he said cheerfully about business conditions yesterday. Despite the loss of one arm he can do an excellent job of shoe polishing, his customers aver.

family living in the time and place described by Patience, Mrs. Curran says.

In fourteen years, Mrs. Curran said, she has written more than 3,000,000 words of manuscript and thousands of poems and six books have been published, with more to follow. Most of her writing is done in old English, some of it closely resembling the Chaucerian style. As a rule she dictates what she hears to a stenographer and often it comes to her by letter rather than by word. This most frequently happens, she said, when it comes in the very old English word forms or dialects of the old shires of England, and often after they have been written down, it is necessary to do research work to find out their meanings.

Mrs. Curran says that she has never had a college education, nor has she made a study of English literature, history, old customs or habits, and yet many of her stories are replete with pictures of English life and manners which have been pronounced authentic by experts. For instance, "Hope Trueblood," she said, passed as a novel by an English author, and "The Sorry Tale," which had an historical background, was investigated by Roland Usher, head of the history department of Washington University in St. Louis, and was pronounced correct in every detail.

"I believe that science is just now getting a few faint glimmerings of new revelations and knowledge of the powers and functions of the human mind," Mrs. Curran said. "It is crawling toward new discoveries and I feel that this strange thing that has happened to me may provide data which will help scientists a step or two on their way."

Dr. Walter Franklin Prince, head of the Boston Psychical Research Society, made an eleven-months study of the case of Patience Worth, on which he wrote a 500-page book, and his final summation of the case was:

"Either our concept of what we call the subconscious must be radically altered, so as to include potencies of which we hitherto have had no knowledge, or else, some cause operating through, but not originating in the subconscious of Mrs. Curran must be acknowledged."

Standards for Trade Classes Being Prepared

Teaching programs, which have been developed out of more than 100 conferences held with trade teachers during the past three months, will be ready when school opens September 2, according to William S. Kienholz, director of vocational education in the Los Angeles city schools.

"We are establishing a fundamental type of instruction to be given wherever a particular trade is taught," E. B. Dale, co-ordinator for the vocational department, explained. "Wherever automotive shop work, printing, sheet metal or any other trade is being taught, we want the basic training program to be identical in every school. Should a boy move from one section of the city to another, he can continue the trade begun in the school from which he was transferred."

BURIAL FOR BROTHER OF JUDGE SET

Funeral of Helm Schmidt, Saugus Rancher, Will be Conducted Tomorrow

Funeral services for Helm Schmidt, rancher of Saugus and brother of Superior Judge Ruben S. Schmidt, will be conducted at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the Garrett Brothers' mortuary, 921 Venice Boulevard.

Mr. Schmidt for many years was engaged in the restaurant and cafeteria business in Los Angeles, but several years ago took up the life of a rancher. He was in excellent health almost up to the moment of his death last Saturday, when he was seized with a stroke from which he failed to rally.

He was 55 years of age and was born on the southeast corner of what is now Wilshire Boulevard and Mariposa avenue. He was the son of Gottfried L. and Hulda F. Schmidt. He leaves, besides Judge Schmidt, his widow, Mrs. Anna Josephine Schmidt; his mother; a daughter, Helma; three sons, Homer, Earl and Helm, Jr., and two sisters, Mrs. W. P. Hatch and Mrs. J. H. Sparks, both of whom reside in Los Angeles.

Burial will be in Inglewood Cemetery.

about 100 yards from shore when he shouted for help. Leon raced to him and held his head above water while Russel Brewster, 23, 924 West Fourth street, Long Beach, swam to the rescue. As Brewster reached the struggling pair Leon, himself fatigued, relaxed his hold of Karabellos and the latter sank in thirty feet of water. Brewster dived repeatedly in a futile effort to locate the youth.

Three persons were rescued from drowning at Redondo. They are Fanny Monteleone, 25, 512 Cottage avenue; Mary De Vircilio, 30, and Tony Ragone, 30, of 418 Bernard avenue. They signaled their distress while swimming about 300 yards off shore and lifeguards brought them back. After responding to artificial respiration treatment they were able to go home.

Brighton Beach, newly opened area on the western side of Long Beach, accounted for 25,000 of the Sabbath Day crowd, in which were noted many groups of colorfully garbed foreigners such as Russians in blue blouses and Hindus wearing varihued turbans.

The relative humidity yesterday ranged from 89 per cent at 5 a.m. to 61 at 5 p.m. At noon it was 54.

Today and tomorrow, according to the Weather Bureau forecast, there will be continued moderate temperatures with moderate west winds on the coast. Mornings will be cloudy or foggy.

IMPUTED MOTIVE IRKS BRIDEGROOM

Leo J. Green, pictured yesterday with his bride as ship arrivals, resented the imputation that he'd followed a professor's advice in wedding the boss' daughter. Himself holder of two degrees, Green branded such advice as "sensationalism of a saphead." He said he is a member of the firm of the Troy Dyeing and Cleaning Works at Roxbury, Mass., and not an employee, and that he married "for happiness, certainly not for position or material gain."

Lots Transfer Canceled as He Testifies Wife Refused Him Love and Caresses

Love pangs of a 70-year-old bridegroom were revealed at trial of William J. Racine's suit which Superior Judge Falk decided in his favor. Racine, an incompetent, through his guardian and son, W. L. Racine, sued his wife, Ada B. Selighter Racine, for cancellation of instruments of record on two Los Angeles lots valued at $20,000. The elder Racine asserted that he had the lots recorded in his bride's name on her promises of love and affection.

They met March 16, 1929, at which time, the complant sets forth, Racine was 70 years of age, and his future bride was 58. They were engaged April 19, 1929, married June 5 and separated July 2. Racine says that he had title to the realty transferred to Mrs. Ada B. Selighter Racine for the period of her life, and showed her the record to obtain her consent to marriage.

During the twenty-seven days of marital association, Racine asserts, his wife refused him love and caresses. The septuagenarian added that she said she wished he was out of the way, and daily cursed him. This, he asserted, caused him to be ill and to lose eighteen pounds.

At the trial was introduced a diary kept by the elderly bridegroom, in which were entered records of disappointments over rebuffs.

Mrs. Racine in her answer denied all the assertions of lack of affectionate treatment. Judge Falk found for Racine.

THE LANCER

California at present is the joyous habit of the city governments of slapping on special assessments for unnecessary "improvements." When you buy an automobile, you have a definite knowledge of the ultimate cost of upkeep. When you buy a lot, it may cost you anything that the fervid restlessness of the City Council develops. The least we can demand of the city government is that it act upon a settled plan of development so you can know years ahead what is coming.

Our city Councilmen depend upon sudden inspirations.

ROMANTIC UNION ANNULLED

Mrs. Love L. Wilbur was so entranced by the soft moonlight and romantic scenery of Honolulu that she neglected to inform herself regarding the previous marital experiences of Frank Wilbur, who, to the tune of ukuleles, asked her to marry him, she testified in Superior Judge Archbald's court. "I found out later that he already has a wife," said Mrs. Wilbur. Judge Archbald annulled the marriage.

HUMANISM DECLARED NO PANACEA FOR MAN'S ILLS

...d. Knopf Terms It "Distorted Phase" of Jesus's Teaching; Idea Old as Gospel

...Humanism is not a new idea, but a distortion of one ...of the teaching of Jesus is the opinion of Prof. Carl Sumner ...recently returned visiting professor of Yale University and ...of the faculty of the University of Southern California, ...delivering a series of addresses on "The Mind of Christ and ...Thought," Sunday mornings at the Church of the Mes... ...Wilshington Boulevard and Van Ness avenue.

...ism is not a religion, but a method," he said. "Good as ...s it goes, it stops short of man's ...ds. To assert that 'there ...definitely except what man ...can do' is to erect a ...structure upon a rather flimsy ...ation. Human sentiment is ...that is not the only study.

"Humanism is as old as the Gospel. Religion must not lose itself entirely in the supernatural. Vital religion does concern the welfare of the race. The Humanistic emphasis is perfectly proper as an emphasis, but woefully defective as a panacea for the ills of humanity. Christian teaching has always contained these elements, even though ignored, but it has contained additional dynamics as well.

"The danger of Humanism is in assuming that a half-truth is the whole truth. Man is a social animal, but he has a deep hunger for something beyond the neighbors and a table of logarithms. Humanism gives nothing new. The mind of Christ touched all its elements of good, and swung far beyond into the realm of divine dynamics without which the commendable aims of Humanism are unrealizable."

HEALTHY BODY HELD SIGN OF REVERENCE

Dr. Sheldon Shepard, speaking yesterday morning at the First Universalist Church on the subject of "Self-Control," said in part:

"A reverent individual should seek to learn and obey the laws of his body with the same spirit in which he partakes in any other worship. The body is the temple of the Spirit, for in God we live and move and have our being. Can there be any worse blasphemy than to allow the body to become filled with poison, or to develop destructive habits of weakness, bad posture and disease? God is honored by a clean, strong, competent body. God is honored by a reverent, serious, healthful attitude toward the temple of the Spirit. Some of the worst sins are rarely catalogued in the catechisms. Such as overeating, slouching, constipation, irregular hours, shallow breathing, thoughtless eating, indifference toward the laws of health. There is worship in the search for God through seeking to learn the principles of right living and to maintain harmony with them."

FAREWELL TRIBUTES PAID MAJ. McCLELLAND

Farewell services to Maj. Robert McClelland, for four and a half years associate of Col. W. H. Gooding of the industrial department of the Salvation Army, were conducted at the Temple, 832 West Ninth street, last night. Sheriff Traeger, Col. Gooding and Adjt. Frank Howell spoke. The music was provided by the Lions' Club quartet.

Adjt. Howell spoke in part as follows:

"More and more am I convinced that the old world needs the gospel message, both in sermon and in song. When I stand here and see my brother Lions, and realize their friendship for me, and know that they believe in me and my work, my heart is full of joy. And when I hear them sing it is with a joy which I cannot express. There is this about the work of the Salvation Army. It stands for the preaching of the gospel, and also for the helping of men who are down and out. When you do both you are doing the work of the Christ. And we do this very thing. I shall always remember these four and one-half years spent in Los Angeles. When I am in the north it will be with many pleasant memories that my mind will come back to this city and to you, my friends."

HARMONY DECLARED NECESSARY TO PEACE

Swami Dhiranda, speaking at the Figueroa Playhouse yesterday, said in part:

"Without sacrifice cheerfully and wisely made peace within and peace with others can never be retained. Trust is a step to the temple of peace—trust in one's self without too much self-sufficiency and trust in others with a rational check. Passivity is not peace, nor is it a state of being blase. What people ordinarily call peace is a temporary mental restfulness—perhaps a pleasing lull between disturbances. It gives us strength, but does not take us to the goal, though it is highly necessary. True peace results from harmony."

SERMON DELIVERED ON PREDESTINATION

Brahmachari Nerode, speaking at the Mt. Washington Center, explained the esoterics of predestination yesterday. He spoke in part as follows:

"Every man has a destiny which he must fulfill. This destiny is governed by the immutable laws of the spirit. Not even a sparrow falls without the knowledge of the law. Man happens to encounter only occurrences which are attuned to his particular nature and plane of consciousness. The more he is rooted in the Spirit, the more it will be evident to him that he himself conjures up the events in the unconscious, long before they befall him. He creates his destiny in the depth of his soul."

UNDERSTANDING CITED AS SPIRITUAL BASIS

"Understanding is a wellspring of life unto him that hath it." These words from Proverbs constituted the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Life," yesterday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

One of the Bible texts, referring to Christ Jesus, stated: "And He said unto His disciples, Therefore, I say unto you, take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall put on. The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, presented this statement: "When understanding changes the standpoints of life and intelligence from a material to a spiritual basis, we shall gain the reality of Life, the control of Soul over sense, and we shall perceive Christianity, or Truth, in its divine Principle."

Protests on Oil Drilling Mount

Protests against leasing submerged lands off Venice municipal beach for oil drilling purposes, now under consideration by the Board of Playground and Recreation Commissioners, continue to come in to the City Council.

The latest protests are from the Culver City Chamber of Commerce, the Del Rey Property Owners' Protective Association and the Venice Women's Christian Temperance Union.

In addition to a number of ordinances adopted, granting drilling permits for privately owned properties the Council received from the City Planning Commission approvals of twenty-nine applications, on large and small lots. These were referred to the City Planning Committee for consideration and report.

OLD HOME TO BE RESTORED

Restoration of the old Phineas Banning home in Banning Park, Wilmington, to the same condition in which it was in 1835 when the late pioneer made it famous for its California hospitality, is engaging the attention of the Los Angeles Park Board, which has been commended in a resolution passed by the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce for the effort.

The building itself is little changed from what it was almost 100 years ago, but the old California-style furniture has been removed and the par kdepartment is making efforts to restore it. It has become scattered among different legatees of the Banning estate. Where the furniture cannot be restored replicas have been suggested by the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce.

The house and property were purchased a number of years ago from the Banning estate for a nominal sum for park purposes and since then the playground department has established recreation facilities on the grounds.

Today's Bible Text

Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves.—Phil. ii, 3.

IN UNION IS STRENGTH

Sweden and Norway are indicating their willingness to join a European federation. The possibility of cresting a United States of Europe is not as remote as some diplomats think.

UPSETTING THE DOPE

We are told that "it is not good for man to live alone," but a San Francisco bachelor lived 103 years, had never been sick and died only after he had fallen downstairs. But, perhaps if he'd had a wife he wouldn't have fallen.

AFTER MANY DAYS

The Y.M.C.A. was good to Elmer Sperry, the inventor of the gyroscope, when he was a kid and now by his will he leaves the organization a million dollars for further spending money. There was a deed that counted.

RIGHTS OF JAPS

Atty.-Gen. Webb holds that under existing law and treaty the Japanese may lease California property for commercial and residential purposes for as long a term as they wish. They may not acquire title, but they can have all the rights which a lease may confer. So that's that.

DISTANCE

Hubble and Humason of Mt. Wilson Observatory compute the distance of a nebulous speck in Ursa Majoris at 75,000,000 light years. In miles, in round figures, it would read like this: 450,000,000,000,000,000,000. And they say the indications are that such a distance is relatively small in comparison with what lies beyond. That's eating up space, Mr. Einstein!

GAME OF GOLF

The Smiths and Joneses seem to have it over everybody else on the links. In the American open Bobby Jones pulled out a winner, but MacDonald Smith and Horton Smith were hot on the trail every minute and at times were in the lead. Over in Europe the Smiths were also very much in evidence in the three tournaments in which Bobby shone. They are hard boys to get away from. At that MacDonald Smith is not exactly a boy. He was runner-up in the national tournament twenty years ago and is still going like a prairie fire. Horton Smith is only 22 years old and may yet push Bobby out of the picture.

MRS. EDISON SAYS:

Mrs. Edison said over the radio recently that "Unless the women of America make a decided effort to return to the business of home-making, the most vital institution of the country is threatened." She admits that there is drudgery in housekeeping, but also says that about 98 per cent of every business is drudgery.

Home-making demands the highest executive ability, a good purchasing agent, an economist, a chemist in cooking and a gracious hostess. A wife must also be an artist, a musician, a connoisseur of literature and have sufficient background to entertain herself, her family and her friends. These and other statements are Mrs. Edisonianisms.

And for years we have been told by others who have been viewing with alarm and looking fiercely into the future, that the home was threatened by the divorce evil, the automobile and the motion picture!

However, it is probable that the modern, independent, athletic, cultured, business woman makes a better mother than some of the wasp-waists, fainting pieces of flimsy helplessness of other years, who did not know what it was all about.

It is difficult to go as far as Mrs. Edison and withdraw womanhood altogether from commerce, government and industry and stuff her back into the cubby-hole kitchen for parboiling again.

Nor can we work up much terror over the threat to the home; for deep in the heart of almost every woman is the desire for a home and children prattling about her. Nature takes care of these things. Natural instincts will put the prophets of evil to rout.

NATIONAL ORIGINS

The National Origins immigration law, opposed by Presidents Coolidge and Hoover because of its asserted inequity, has been in effect a year with only occasional ebullitions of objection to its working. It is still unsatisfactory, however, to considerable portions of the population and there is no indication that its inequity has been cured. This inequity arose from the fact that accurate calculations of the actual composition of the population, such as the "national origins" theory required, were impossible and the quotas had to be fixed arbitrarily.

While, at the last figures given out, about 10,000 visas remained unused of the total quota of 150,000, most of these figures were for a period before May 15 and it is believed the entire 150,000 entered the country, or at least obtained visas to do so. A few visas are always unused. Assuming that actual immigration followed the quota proportions, 56 per cent of that in 1929-30 came from Great Britain, Northern Ireland and Irish Free State and the next largest percentage came from Germany, which contributed 17 per cent, while Poland was third with 4¼ per cent Italy was fourth with 3¾ per cent and Sweden fifth with 2¼ per cent. Nations with 2 per cent or less were Netherlands, France, Czecho-Slovakia, Russia and Norway. The remainder of the world contributed a lump total of 8 per cent.

This is a vast difference from the last prewar fiscal year, 1913-14, which saw 1,096,249 immigrants pass the portals. Of these 26 per cent came from Italy and 23 per cent from Russia, while the British and Irish contribution was but 6½ per cent and that from Germany 3¼ per cent.

Nonquota immigration for the year included about 65,000 from Canada and 15,000 from Mexico. This immigration was balanced, in part, by emigration of approximately 35,000 aliens to Europe, 6500 to Mexico and a small number to Canada. The net addition to the population for the year from immigration was thus approximately 188,000.

The effect of the new quota system on numbers of immigrants was to cut the total about 10,000, but to change the distribution materially. The reductions were largely in immigration from the Scandinavian countries and from Germany, which had a relatively higher ratio in the quotas based on the 1890 census. This has been the cause of some of the dissatisfaction with the new law. Under the quotas based on the 1890 census, for example, Germany had 31 per cent, Sweden 5.8 per cent and Norway 3.92 per cent, as compared with 17 per cent, 2.25 per cent and 1.5 per cent under the present law. On the other hand, the British and Irish quotas in the 1924 law were only 38 per cent of the total, as compared with 56 per cent now.

The change in distribution was, however, one largely between countries of Northern Europe. The northern group of countries obtained 85 per cent of the quota by the 1924 law, while their proportion under the national origins law is about 82 per cent—a change that is not vast. Poland, rated as a southeastern country, was the principal beneficiary of this minor shift, getting a 4¼ per cent quota under the present law as compared with 3.63 under the 1924 law.

The present quota law is the third to go into effect. The first immigration restriction law admitted immigrants in the proportions that the foreign-born appeared in the census of 1910. This law gave Northwestern Europe 60 per cent of the total. The 1924 law changed the proportions to those existing in 1890, among the foreign-born. The principle of the "national origins" law is entirely different, basing quotas on the supposed contribution of each country to the entire national stock. No quarrel can be had with such a principle, but the difficulties in the way of carrying it out correctly were and are enormous.

TOURISTS TROOP IN

In a recent issue two remarkable headings topped adjoining columns. One said, "Few tourists visit Europe." J. F. Sartori, president of the Security-First National Bank, had just returned from Europe and reported conditions on the continent.

The other heading in juxtaposition and in seeming answer to the first was, "High Jump in Tourists." It referred to the standing broad jump of Americans in the East over the Great Divide to California.

Travel into California in June in automobiles jumped up 22.6 per cent over that of the same month last year. A total of 104,398 motorists breezed and wheezed across the State line in 37,285 cars. These out-of-State visitors arrived 2725 a day under their own power. Nor does this list include those entering by train.

Mr. Sartori explains the falling off of tourist travel to Europe by the stock market disaster of last fall. It is also possible that the criticism of Uncle Sam by Europe has not had a tendency to attract visitors. The welcome has not seemed to be very warm.

The remarkable influx into California is a partial answer to the depression of continental travel. Evidently the lack of funds is not the only barrier to an ocean voyage. Can it be that the census has had something to do with it? Has the world awakened to the presence of the young giant of the Pacific? Are the easterners coming to see what it is all about? Are they trooping in to have some share in the tremendous expansion of the Pacific Slope? There is little doubt but that the advertising both unconscious and paid for has been having its effect. Maybe some of the losers in Wall street are coming West to recoup their fortunes in the Golden State. And then maybe they have just found out that the scenery of the high Sierras offers a natural beauty and ruggedness not surpassed, if equaled, anywhere.

Anyhow, sightseers are pouring in a hundred thousand a month.

WEAK ON MURDERS

London is the greatest city in the world, but it is asserted that there were only ten murders in the metropolis last year. We have towns of 50,000 inhabitants that can do better than that and a real city like New York or Chicago may sometimes do that well in a single day.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

HEYWOOD BROUN, who is right well known as a colyumist back East, tells this story on California and New York's Mayor:

Jimmy Walker attended a banquet at which the preceding speaker was a distinguished California educator. The native son was extolling the glories of his home land and making our own Empire State seem pallid in comparison.

California, according to the orator, was more richly blessed in everything. In particular it had more universities.

"I, myself," remarked the speaker, "have attended no less than five colleges, all of them in the State of California."

"That," said Jimmy Walker, "shows the difference between the coast and here. If a New Yorker can't make the grade the first time he quits and goes to work."

Wonders of California

Lee: Harry Carr says that in some Los Angeles stores shop girls are trained never to sell a man a hat for his wife.

Gosh! Are there still men who dare to attempt to buy hats for their wives—in California?
—D. Thomas.

Spirits Say Just Bright Things

It happened on an "A" car as it was coming down Hill street. An intent woman was reading an article about Conan Doyle and his promises to communicate with his family from the next world. The two men sitting back of her had caught a glimpse of the article over her shoulder and had begun discussing it and a man across the aisle from them had put in a word, so that practically everyone in that section of the car had been more or less interested.

Suddenly a voice came from the top of the car: "How do you do?"

Everybody looked around. No one could tell who had spoken or to whom the words were addressed. Only the woman who was reading was so absorbed that she failed to notice the inquiring glances of other people.

Everyone thought, though, that some one had suddenly recognized a seatmate, somewhere in the car, and he had merely overhead a wind-carried scrap of conversation. After one look about, the passengers lost interest.

But then the voice came again: "How do you do?"

That time even the reading woman started and looked quickly about. Everyone looked about. A stout, stupid-looking man looked awed and mopped his forehead.

"How do you do? How do you do?" the unplaceable voice repeated.

"Do you think it's a ghost?" whispered the man beside the woman who had been reading.

She did not answer, but arose at the next stop to leave the car. As she paused on the platform the voice called, from somewhere close to her:

"Hello!"

The conductor jumped. For an instant it looked as if he were about to get off with her.

"Golly!" he exclaimed. "The number on the front of this car is 231 I ain't superstitious or nothin', but—"

We suppose it was the prank of a ventriloquist, as we're not the least bit superstitious. Still, we don't blame the conductor.

Knocking Is Dangerous

Leeside: "Knock" and it shall be opened unto you may not be written over every door, but it surely is over the gateway to Trouble.—Guy Fuller Prunz.

The Unfailing Sign

Prosperity really must be coming back. Yesterday we heard a woman complain that it is almost impossible to get good domestic help within reason.

Why Rich Grow Richer, Poor Poorer

And it surely pays to have an efficient maid. She will answer the doorbell and turn away the high-pressure salesman who, if you answer the bell yourself, will soak you for another three years of those easy payments which are so hard to make.

They Drag Out

It's really the first hundred payments that are the hardest. It only seems like 100 years.

Yucca in Its Glory

Now is the time to go into the hills and see the yucca in full glory. From our dining-room window one can see fully a score of those stately candles, though the nearest are half a mile away. For yucca blooms stand out like flags and are not hard to find. Anyone climbing any of the trails up Mt. Wilson will see scores of them.

We think this shows that Southern California people are growing more respectful of native plant life. Every day those trails are tramped by hundreds, every Sunday by thousands of hikers. And often one may hike for miles without meeting a ranger. Yet the yuccas are protected—by native affection. Anyone who would cut down one of those splendid spears of bloom would feel the scornful disapproval of everyone who saw him with it and would be lucky if he were not reported to a ranger.

Maybe that shows that all the hammering we mere scribes have been doing has had some effect. And a few more years of such protection and our near-by mountain trails will be ablaze with yuccas at this season.

COMING STRONG

The men who do the counting assert that during June no less than 105,000 persons arrived in California by motor car. The check is said to be a reasonably accurate one. It is easy to watch the incoming roads. The number is said to be 22 per cent greater than the same month last year and proves that America still has the California habit. Folks climb into the old bus and head for the West.

WANT TO COME IN

In its renewed independence it is likely that Iceland will be the next contender for a place in the League of Nations. The island has only about 80,000 inhabitants, but they are lusty citizens filled with patriotism and can make good in any company.

A KINDRED SPIRIT

By James J. Montague

Americans have not yet discovered that the charm of life consists of periods of leisure.—Andre Maurois.

The copy books I used to con
Decried the vice of shirking,
And urgently enlarged upon
The many joys of working.
So industry became my aim,
I made my efforts snappy
Until my back and arms were lame,
Yet rarely was I happy.

But when a fishing rod I took,
And fled my daily duties
To wade along a singing brook
In quest of speckled beauties,
And, to excuse my idleness,
A string of fibs invented,
Life seemed to me a grand success
And I was quite contented.

And now Monsieur Maurois declares,
That this hard-working nation
Should sometimes lay aside its cares
And seek more recreation.
He intimates that labors cloy,
That we should find life brighter
And gain more time to spend in joy
If we would make them lighter.

His words my sentiments express;
I learned the road to heaven
Ran down the vale of idleness
When I was six or seven.
Let pedagogues say "Pooh" or "Bah!"
To this great truth, and flout it;
I'm satisfied Monsieur Maurois
And I are right about it.

THE WASHINGTON WASH

BY STRICKLAND GILLILAN

Who would think that to me, who was never even accused of being psychic, A. Conan Doyle would choose to deliver his first honest-to-goodness message from the other side? You never can tell. I never even met Dr. Doyle. Once I was threatened, by a lecture washstand (it was too small to be called a bureau) with the job of accompanying him on a lecture tour, to speak after the great Englishman; but the plan flopped.

Yet when he passed over and his disciples began expecting messages from him, I was the one who really got the dope.

Yesterday morning when I was trying to get the end of a broken shoe lace through a hole, I heard a rustling in the room and when I looked up there was a large transparent shape. I had seen enough pictures of the author of Sherlock Semi-Detached Holmes, to note that it was, indeed Doyle. Quick Watson (the well-known needle) not being present to take over the job, I tried to be friendly and sang out:

"H'lo, Doc! Howsaboy? How are all the other shades and shadesess? Seen anything of Harry Houdini, or has he managed to get out—he was a great boy for that!"

With characteristic British dignity the spook retained a magnificent silence for a few minutes. Then he cleared his throat and said:

"Your levity is excused on the ground that you are doubtless disturbed at my unexpected appearance. I am coming to you because of all those who write about Washington and the people making up the government's personnel, you seem to be freest from bias and conventionality. Over here we are not sticklers for formality. For instance, I was just playing mumble-the-peg with George Washington when Charlemagne and William the Conqueror came along and took our pen knife."

"Seen any of our old American boys over there?" I inquired. "If so, please tell me what they think of what is going on right now in the affairs of the government they helped build and start to running."

"Why not? For instance, George Washington said he was tickled to death at the firmness of President Hoover in refusing to permit Charley Dawes's unexpurgated remarks about Earl Buckstooth and Lord Helpus and Sir Lionel Skittles to be placed before the Senate even in executive session where things are most public. George said that the Senate should be satisfied with permission to know individually (as the President offered to arrange for) everything in that lot of papers whose divulgence would overturn the lentils. I believe he put it some such way. I don't know what Washington meant by all he said, but over here one's memory is ext'rordnarily clear, and I do recall quite vividly that he used these words: 'Along with the rest of the American people I was concerned for quite awhile lest the engineering profession was not to be done credit by the incumbency of one of our crawft, but he is showing the stuff we engineer chappies are made of—raw-THER!'

"He went on further to say that the present-day Senate was something he wouldn't express himself about unless I would take a long walk with him down to a secluded cove along the shore of the Jasper Sea, where we would be entirely unheard. But I will quote him in this one phrase: 'If I had known what was to result from the adoption of that Constitution, I'd have adjourned the convention in midsummer and gone fishing, instead of staying there and holding the boys to the job.'

"Dr. Doyle," I asked, as I gave up being Scotch at last, threw the broken shoe lace out of the window and started to put in a new one, "I suppose you meet Webster, and Clay and Hoar and Underwood and Burton and others of the former Senators, don't you?"

"No. As a matter of fact I inquired about the former statesmen from America, and was told that most of them were in hiding. Particularly those of the more recent years and especially those from the United States Senate. I am told they feel inordinately sensitive because of the fact they came from earth so lately as to be open to an accusation of having been contemporaries of the crowd now 'mussing things on the hill,' as Gabriel so quaintly puts it. The other shades are riding those fellows so unbearably, badgering them so unmercifully, that they hardly dare show up for their meals. I—"

Dr. Doyle stopped. I was taking off my shoe to see what had become of the tongue, at the time, and I looked up to show him I was still attending. But—no Doyle! And I'd missed the chance to ask him the very things I'd wanted to know and that you've always wanted to know, about the after life. He may never come again—it just spoiled my day.

The wet-and-dry question is the step-child of the family, to the politically ambitious of the country just now. Nobody dares be seen abusing it, but nobody knows for sure whether he is to be free from its unwelcome and embarrassing presence for as long as an hour at a time. Toward that question, every man in office and wishing to do some uninterrupted constructive statesmanship, as well as every candidate for office, feels as apparently did the husband of the wife who had been ailing constantly for twenty years or more, getting no better, getting no worse. One day when asked "How's your wife?" he replied with a sigh: "She ain't no better and she ain't no wuss. I suttinly do wish that woman would get well—or something." Nobody dares be caught trying to kill the question, and nobody wants to play with it, though it come and plead for a romp with just anybody, any time. It knows no fear, no awe of any time or place. Time, that notorious tattler, may tell, but so far nobody knows what or when or how or—scariest phase of all—who!

Wanted—By any Senator, information leading to a discovery as to how opposition to the naval pact will go down, with the voters. Almost any price paid for dependable data on this. Sail-trimming done accordingly. The campaign is dangerously near. We go direct from whatever we do to this naval pact, to face the people. Address, in confidence if you dare risk it, the United States Senate.

Here's a truth—'tis a pleasure to pen it,
As any good scout will allow:

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

WASTED OPPORTUNITY

[Detroit Free Press]

Last December, Senator Caraway was propheaying the enactment of antilobbying legislation by Congress as a result of disclosures to be brought about by his Senate lobby investigating committee. At the time, both the national lawmakers and the country seemed to be moderately interested in the matter and disposed to listen with open mind to anything the committee might develop. But it is highly probable that today there is more general criticism of the Caraway committee and its methods than there is of the lobbyists it was designed to expose and put out of business. The reckless way in which it took up matters that were none of its business, attempted to bulldoze witnesses, and went into purely political matters, and its final discomfiture at the hands of Bishop Cannon so discredited the body, that the nation is likely to be highly suspicious of any legislation its members may undertake to father hereafter.

The history of the Senate lobby investigating committee is a singularly instructive story of misuse of time and opportunity.

THE CITY AND A CITIZEN

[New York Herald Tribune]

It is a little startling—and it is a little shocking that it is startling—to learn that Chief Magistrate McAdoo died, after more than fifty years of public service, leaving an estate of "less than $5000." "Less than $5000," is a technical phrase; the estate was, we understand, barely more than a tenth of that.

We are so accustomed to the spectacle of men who leave the public service for fat private jobs, or in strange, mysterious ways pad their bank accounts out of all relation to their salaries, that it is worth pausing to reflect upon the example of a man who served on beyond the traditional three-score and ten with no thought but to do his job. Attorney for his county Board of Health, member of the State Legislature, member of Congress for four terms, Police Commissioner of New York City, chief city magistrate for twenty years—it is a long and an honorable record.

NATIONAL SCHOOL OF ART

[Washington Post]

The growing interest in American art is manifest in the demand for a national school of the fine arts in Washington. For many years patrons of art have dreamed of a national institution devoted to its cultivation, and now their dream is spurring them to action. The movement is timely. America is making rapid strides in the creation as well as the appreciation of art. Europe for centuries has been the artistic center of the world, but America is now making a strong bid for that distinction. Cultivation of the arts nearly always follows the attainment of national prosperity. The United States is in a better position to foster artistic creation than any other country.

LET'S ABOLISH ART

By The Foothill Philosopher

Standing by my side and watching a man at work painting a picture of a eucalyptus tree, a friend said to me, "Why doesn't that big fellow get a job doing something useful and cut out that foi-de-roi? Aren't there enough pictures—especially poor pictures, like he paints—in the world already?"

Probably there are plenty of pictures in the world, maybe too many, I told him. And maybe the man should get a job at "something useful," I admitted. And I proposed that we abolish all art—pictures, music, dancing, sculpture, poetry—and poets. There are far too many pictures, good and otherwise, too many statues, too many songs, too much dancing, too many books. We don't need any of them or the men and women who create them. In fact, we don't need even to paint our houses or automobiles. We don't need stained-glass windows in our churches—and maybe we could even do without the churches in which we are taught to "worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness." Our clothes should all be plain white or black or gray. In this we should imitate Mother Nature, who never expresses her love for beauty in various forms and colors, but who makes the pinions of all birds gray, the wings of all butterflies dark and the petals of all flowers brown. Nature has no love for the beautiful and why should we? Let us abolish beauty, in so far as possible, from nature and art and establish a civilization based on the philosophy of utilitarianism. Let the farmers, merchants, bankers and mechanical experts manage everything. Let even our coins be known only by size and number, with no pictures upon them of flowers and wreaths and lovely women and heroic men.

Let us have no more phonographs nor radios—unless they be simply for use in announcing the issuance of new stocks or to tell us of the latest make of soap. Let us have no more operas, no more dramas, no more motion pictures. By all means, I told my friend, let us abolish art and bury beauty in a drab casket in the cemetery of the Commonplace, and let there be no sermon on immortality preached at her passing, no snow-white tombstone erected to her memory, no bright blossoms placed upon her grave. Then will the world be happy, indeed, and men and women shall live and die unhampered by the esthetic, untouched by any aspirations for more abundant life.

And when I finished talking, my friend smiled and changed the subject. Probably, like Tom Sawyer, "he see he was git."

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Air Pilots' Theory?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

Theodore A. Woolsey, who has been flying since 1915, is teaching a free class in aeronautics theory for pilots at the Frank Wiggins Trade Evening School, 216 West Venice Boulevard. The class meets in room 224, on Wednesday and Friday evenings, 7 to 9.

The course is aircraft engineering in every phase of designing, building and flying. All of the ground work is for flyers and includes air dynamics, aircraft construction, meteorology, air navigation and a thorough study of the regulations of the aeronautics branch of the United States Department of Commerce.

This is one of the few classes at the Trade School that does not require a long wait on the waiting list. Only people connected with some phase of air transportation are admitted; but for them the only expense is $1 registration fee, payable when enrolling. Residents of the county are welcome to this school and in special instances, men and women from more distant towns may arrange for this free instruction.

Utilities Board Approves Abandonment Plea

Rail Commission to Hold Hearings in Case

Area Said to Be Adequately Covered by Busses

Approval of the plan of the Glendale and Montrose Railway to abandon its service has been given by the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation in response to a request by the California Railroad Commission for an expression of the board's attitude on the proposal. The Railroad Commission is to hold a hearing of the railway's application for abandonment of the service and removal of the track on Colorado Boulevard, Broadway and Wilson avenue, between Eagle Rock Boulevard in Eagle Rock and Glendale Boulevard in Glendale.

Engineers for the utilities board say that the Pasadena-Ocean Park line gives service over the same route in Glendale, that the Los Angeles Railway gives service as far as Colorado Boulevard and easterly on that boulevard to Townsend avenue, while the Pacific Electric and Motor Transit Company serve other points of the Glendale district.

The engineers' recommendation that if the Glendale and Montrose railroad is abandoned some company should be permitted to give service in the district was approved by the board, which stated it would take the matter up in the near future.

RITES FOR EDITOR SET FOR TODAY

Harry A. Glasscock Had Managed Bishop "Herald" During Water Disputes

Funeral services for Harry A. Glasscock, formerly editor of the Bishop (Cal) Herald and well known in newspaper circles of the Pacific Coast, who was found dead in a downtown hotel Saturday, will be conducted at the mortuary in the Hollywood Cemetery today at 11 a.m. Only members of the family will be present. The body will be cremated.

Glasscock came into prominence during the controversy between landowners of the Owens River Valley and the City of Los Angeles over water rights. His opposition to the methods employed by Los Angeles to obtain the water rights in the valley were vigorous, but after several years he was won over to the plan and gave the support of his newspaper to the project. He had recently been engaged in newspaper work in Phoenix, Ariz.

Mr. Glasscock was 49 years old and leaves two small daughters, two sisters and a brother.

NOTABLES PAY SPEED FINES

Gary Cooper and James Kirkwood, film actors, and Art Goebel, aviator, were in too much of a hurry, their attorneys admitted in Municipal Judge Valentine's traffic court. The three were arrested at different times for exceeding the speed limit. Cooper pleaded guilty to driving forty-five miles an hour in a twenty-mile zone on Sunset Boulevard on the 11th inst., Kirkwood to forty in a twenty-mile zone on the 8th inst. and Goebel to thirty-eight in a twenty-mile zone on the 2nd inst. Each was fined $5.

I have been pinched at times for pulling off some public crimes, and I admit it's been me sore when taken before the courthouse door, and sentenced by the lordly beak to stay durance vile a week or ten or fifteen bucks for keep past the city trucks. Like you cussed the busy cops and their vain and foolish yawps; and the cops kept on my trail and kept me chasing to the jail. I saw that this would never do when I'd been pinched a few times or two. Thereafter, by daily walk, I tried another line of talk; I took the whole thing as a jest, and said the cops were of the best, it was a pure to be fined by jurists of honest mind, it was a pleasure to be jailed by cops whose aim never failed."

Sentiment for the re-election of County Assessor Hopkins is running strong in Pasadena, according to reports from the Hopkins headquarters. John S. MacDonnell, president of the First National Bank of Pasadena, says: "Mr. Hopkins is a very fine man and should be retained in the office of Assessor as long as he will remain." William H. Magee, vice-president of the Bank of Italy and manager of the Pasadena branch of that bank, said: "We certainly want to see Ed W. Hopkins re-elected Assessor. It would be poor business to make any change now."

A group of local attorneys, headed by Leo V. Youngworth, has taken over the running of the campaign for the re election of Superior Judge Fleming, believing that he should not be encumbered with this work in addition to the regular duties on the bench. Phil Dodson was named as head of the campaign forces and headquarters were opened at 211-212 Grant Building.

Among gatherings recently addressed by Frank M. Smith, Republican candidate for Attorney-General, were the Women's City Club and the Sunrise Club. At the former he discussed the duties of the Attorney-General and at the latter he took up the question of reapportionment.

Sponsors of Superior Judge Crawford announced a long list of prominent men and women of the city who have volunteered their services for his re-election. He served on the bench in Police Court for nine years and now is completing his six-year term on the Superior Court bench.

Unanimous indorsement of Mrs. Sarah E. Kellogg for election to the Assembly from the Fifty-first District was announced this week by officers of the Republican County Central Committee, following the monthly meeting at Alhambra.

Mrs. Kellogg's campaign is in full swing this week, following the appointment of more than a score of committee chairmen in the various cities and towns of the district. With R. Gordon Boyd, active figure in men's brotherhood circles in Hollywood, as chairman, a committee of ministers and church laymen of Southern California has been formed to work for the renomination of Gov. Young. It was announced yesterday by Marshall Stimson, chairman of the Southern California Young campaign committee.

Charles A. Son, Republican candidate for Attorney-General, was one of the speakers at the City Club Saturday before the League of Women Voters.

Sheriff Traeger, who is seeking re-election to the office he has held for the last nine years, will be the speaker today at the noon luncheon of the Belvedere Gardens Women's Business Club. His subject will be "Crime and Crime Prevention." Mrs. Evelyn White, publisher and East Side society leader, will introduce Sheriff Traeger. Merle Picha will preside.

A banquet in honor of Judge Valentine will be given tomorrow night in the main dining room of the Alexandria by more than 500 of his admirers, who will assemble to wish him success at the coming election.

Judge Valentine is a candidate for Judge of the Superior Court. The arrangements for the banquet are in charge of Mrs. M. H. Schumacher, who announced that there will be no speeches during the evening. Entertainment will be furnished by a score of radio and motion-picture players who are friends of Judge Valentine.

With three major speaking engagements scheduled for the next ten days, Milton K. Young's campaign is gaining momentum, it was reported yesterday at his headquarters, 610 National Bank of Commerce Building.

This noon the Democratic candidate will address the members of the Women's City Club at their luncheon in the Playhouse Theater Building, 940 South Figueroa street, Mrs. Robert D. Shields will preside.

Edwin T. Keiser, former State Real Estate Commissioner and active figure in Southern California politics for many years, has accepted the chairmanship of the Los Angeles city campaign committee for Gov. Young's candidacy for renomination, according to the announcement of Marshall Stimson, Young chairman for this section of the State. Mr. Keiser will direct the Young city campaign from headquarters at 601 South Grand avenue.

Taking their stand on his promise that the Sheriff's office will be unhampered by the influence of the underworld, the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Bell has voted unanimous indorsement of Clyde Plummer for the office of Sheriff of Los Angeles county. The communication was signed by Mrs. Stella M. Ingram, president of the organization, according to C. Harold Hopkins, manager of Plummer's campaign headquarters in the Subway Terminal Building.

Accused Banker to Plead Today

Accused of misapplication of bank funds, Robert Clifton Sturgis, former teller of the Broadway and Florence branch of the Security-First National Bank, is to appear before United States District Judge James today for arraignment and entry of plea. At the same time A. Clark Richardson, accused of aiding in the asserted misapplication, will be arraigned.

It is charged that Sturgis misapplied about $1000 of the bank's funds. Bail for each has been set at $1000.

Hotel Operator Faces Charge of Murder Attempt

Charges of assault with a deadly weapon to commit murder have been placed against Bruce Keefe, 62-year-old hotel proprietor, following an asserted attack by him on a patron of his hotel. Miss Cora Smith, the victim, was removed from the hotel at 835 Sunset Boulevard to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital where surgeons found she has a possible skull fracture.

According to Officers Long and Mitchell, who arrested Keefe, the latter knocked on the door of Miss Smith's room Saturday night, and when she answered is said to have struck her on the head with a hammer. Other hotel guests called police and when Officer Mitchell attempted to arrest him Keefe slashed at him several times with a butcher knife, the officer said.

The blood-stained hammer was found in an upper room of the building and was ordered sent to City Chemist Rex Welch for examination. Keefe denied that he struck the woman.

Fees for Hall Use Protested

Protests that the County Board of Supervisors is collecting illegal revenue in the form of rent from veterans' organizations for the use of Patriotic Hall, Sixteenth and Figueroa streets, were augmented yesterday by a letter from M. A. Young, official of Leonard Wood Camp, Spanish War Veterans.

Mr. Young pointed out that the building was erected out of proceeds of a county bond issue, and that its use for any other purpose than providing free meeting places for war veterans and their organizations, is contrary to law. The letter will be forwarded to the County Counsel for an opinion at the meeting today.

The position pays $175 per month, the same as a Councilmanic secretary, and is exempt from civil service.

Mrs. Brewster for a number of years was a stenographer in the District Attorney's office under the Keyes regime, but transferred to the City Hall when Fitts became District Attorney.

Pacific Coast Stands Out as White Spot, Declares Visitor From Boston

Business interests of the Pacific Coast have no reason to complain of a depression, in the opinion of Tressler W. Callihan, manager of the general agencies of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company, a Los Angeles visitor from the home office of the company in Boston, who yesterday said that the Pacific region stands out on the economic map of the United States as the one white spot.

"The life insurance business is a very good barometer of business as shown by the entire United States," Mr. Callihan said, "and I think most of the economic authorities of America agree that the Pacific Coast has felt less of the current depression cycle than any other section of America."

Mr. Callihan explained that the first general symptoms of unemployment or unhealthy industrial conditions are always felt by the life insurance companies in a slackening of new business, more frequent policy lapses and policy loans.

"With all supposed depression," Mr. Callihan said, "our business for July is ahead of that of last year. I have talked with many business men who feel that the conditions are now definitely on the upgrade."

Following an inspection of Southern California agencies of his company, Mr. Callihan will go to San Francisco and Seattle, returning to Boston by way of Canada. He was met here by H. J. Garretson of San Francisco, West Coast supervisor for the company.

FOUR HUNTERS DUE TOMORROW

Municipal Airport Selected as Landing Field

Endurance Flyers Promised Rousing Reception

Mayor Issues Proclamation; New Flight Talked

Definite choice of the Los Angeles Municipal Airport as the official landing spot for the four Hunter brothers, when they arrive here tomorrow, two of them flying the record-breaking City of Chicago and the other two Big Ben, the refueling ship that made the flight possible, was announced yesterday by the official reception committee, of which Mayor Porter is chairman.

Formal proclamation has been issued by the Mayor asking all citizens who can so arrange their business to be on hand to give a civic welcome to the boys who hung up a record of more than 554 hours in the air, making themselves the world's supreme endurance flyers.

The Mayor's proclamation also suggests that various sections of the city be suitably festooned in honor of the birdmen who stayed aloft for such an extended period.

This morning Irene Hunter, the sister, who planned the meals for her eaglet brothers, is due to arrive via the Santa Fe, together with Clyde Elliott, manager of the Hunter quartet.

Chief of Police Steckel has arranged for ample policing of the airport to handle the throngs anticipated to welcome the flyers, while Fire Chief Scott has assigned the Fire Department Band to be on hand to give the boys a musical welcome. The Mayor has also chosen a civic reception committee.

Plans to have the Hunters attempt a 1000-hour flight here are being considered by Howard Hughes, film producer, and Sid Grauman, the two impresarios responsible for bringing the four flyers to Los Angeles.

Grauman has arranged for a special performance of "Hell's Angels" dedicated to the flyers Wednesday afternoon, at which the Hunter boys will make their first Pacific Coast bow to receive California plaudits for their achievement.

TREE SITTER WANTS HUNTERS TO VISIT HIM

From his improvised perch in the pepper tree that has been his home since last Thursday morning, Salvadore C. Scarpitta, Jr., 11-year-old aspirant for the world's tree-sitting endurance title, yesterday requested that the four Hunter brothers pay him a visit on their arrival here this week.

"Hey, Norm," he called down to Norman L. Speer, Jr., 6, who, with the percher's sister, Evon, 5, is performing the necessary refueling tasks, "d'you s'pose the Hunters'll feel like comin' out here for a couple minutes and lettin' me have a look at 'em?"

"Sure," piped the faithful refueler. "Why not? . . . Ain't you settin' a record yourself? . . . Why, they'll be gald to come . . . Jes' wait an' see . . . I'll fix it."

"Oke," replied "Sal-the-Sitter," as he chooses to be known, now that he has become a figure to be reckoned with in the field of freak achievements. Then he settled back on his blankets and prepared to pass the eighty-first successive hour among the branches that overhang his dad's home at 2684 North Beechwood Drive, Hollywoodland. The eighty-first hour went by at 6 p.m.

Accordingly "Norm" took steps to see that the Hunter brothers are tendered a formal invitation when they land here in the City of Chicago. If the Hunters accept the invitation, "Sal-the-Sitter" will put on a special bathing exhibition in their honor. To accomplish this he dons his bathing suit, while some of the many assistant refuelers hold a blanket about him; then he lets "Norm" turn the garden hose on him from the ground.

The interest of science will be served at the tree-sitting zone today when a doctor examines "Sal." The ambitious percher says he feels "swell;" but Papa Scarpitta has become a bit apprehensive and is eager to have a physician pronounce him fit in spite of the tedious ordeal.

IMPROVEMENT APPROVED

The final ordinance for the improvement of Oakden Drive at Laurel Canyon Road has been adopted by the City Council.

Of Interest to Women

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

Events on this side of the Atlantic concerning the cuts in book prices have not left the Left Side of the Seine in Paris untouched.

The arguments of publishers over whether or not they are going to climb down from their $3 and $5 prices has caused much speculation in Montparnasse and the Latin Quarter as to the probable effect on writers. If books are to be sold at $1, or a price thereabouts, what may the poor scribblers expect?

Gelett Burgess, fiction writer, believes that book production, in the event of a falling price, will be cut more than half. The number of volumes coming from the presses today is astounding, he says, and anyone, it seems, can get anything published on any subject. This condition, Burgess thinks, will be changed if the cheap-book idea is adopted generally. As far as good writing is concerned, in his opinion, it will profit, for the poorer-grade product will drop out.

No writer, according to the reasoning of Mr. Burgess, will be able to find a publisher unless he can inspire the latter with the belief that his book will sell at least 20,000 copies. The number of titles that sell 20,000 copies are few and far between.

"However," writes Montparno, in the Paris edition of the Chicago Tribune, "we cannot see that greater scrutiny on the part of the publishers will squelch a lot of the trash that is running in a steady stream from print shops. The public is more likely to buy 20,000 copies of a mediocre book, or even a bad one, than it is of a well-done or important volume. Nay, the best are the light sellers; the light sellers are the best sellers."

The uncertainty is providing a topic for much conversation and in some spots there is a certain amount of uneasiness.

Edward W. Titus, the Paris-American publisher and editor of "This Quarter," has returned to the French capital following a visit to London.

Fannie Hesslip Lea, who is widely known for her travel tales, and the poet, Margaret Wildemer, have been dipping into terrace life while "de passage" in the City of Light.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Tobermann of Hollywood were among the Americans present at the opening of the Excelsior Lido's Chez Youa in Venice last week.

Princess Zurlo and her mother, Mrs. William Henshaw, of Los Angeles, entertained with their annual Fourth of July luncheon in Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Eisenberg of Santa Barbara have been touring Belgium, Holland, Scotland and England, following a three-week stay at the Hotel Continental in Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Newman, who toured the British Isles and afterward visited Paris, Le Touquet, Frankfort, Munich and Oberammergau, have arrived in Vienna. They plan to remain there for two weeks and then go to Vulpera, in Switzerland, for three weeks, afterward going to Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Pettitt, who are motoring through Europe, have arrived at the Hotel Adlon in Berlin. They have visited France, Spain, Italy, Austria and Czecho-Slovakia and their itinerary takes them next to Sweden, Norway and Denmark, then Holland, Belgium and Switzerland. After returning to Paris they will go to England, Ireland and Scotland, sailing home from England at a time not yet decided.

Mrs. Thomas Wilson has arrived in Paris after a visit to Berlin. She is stopping at the Hotel George V.

Miss Alice I. Ireland, Miss A. Bertha Ireland and Miss Gertrude Watson have been stopping at the Pup Palace Hotel in Carlsbad, Czecho-Slovakia.

Louis Pozzo and John Samuel Mosher were among the recent Los Angeles arrivals at the Hotel Savoy Majestic at Genoa, Italy.

Mrs. William Davey of Beverly Hills, touring Europe, is stopping at the Hotel Adlon in Berlin. She passed ten days in London, then visited Antwerp, Brussels, the battlefields, Holland and Hamburg. On leaving Berlin she plans to go to Lucerne and Ville d'Estes, then to Italy, the French Riviera and on to Paris for a month's stay, sailing home on the liner Bremen.

Mrs. John Butler Woodward of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and Mrs. Henry W. Dunning of Beverly Hills, who are stopping for several weeks at the Hotel Continental in Paris, plan to make a tour of England, Italy, Germany and Switzerland in July and August.

Mrs. Sippy Norton of Hollywood has taken an apartment at 14 Rue de Naples in Paris and has as her house guest Miss Alice Stafford of New York. Mrs. Norton entertained for Carl Livingston and Charles Blum of San Francisco during their Paris visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Turner Hoag of Hollywood are at Baden-Baden, registered for a month at the Stephanie Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. George Leslie Smith have been for several weeks at Monte Carlo, as are also Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Scott and Mrs. Georgia Keating Kennedy.

UNUSUAL DANCE PARTY GIVEN

Sports Attire Worn at Novel Event

Miss Mildred Diane Wagner

ONE of the charming parties of the season was the buffet supper and sports dance given by Miss Mildred Diane Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Wagner of 213 North Arden Boulevard, 200 members of the junior and senior classes at Marlborough and their escorts being bidden, all the guests wearing sports attire. The young hostess was assisted by her parents and sister, Miss Juanita Wagner, who left the 18th inst. for Louisville, Ky. Miss Mildred Wagner entertained the 8th inst. with a charmingly appointed party honoring her sister, keeping open house afternoon and evening.

Miss Mildred has been one of the most active sophomore students at Marlborough, taking part in several dances at the spring festival and other activities of the school year. She will be graduated next June.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfit for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, artificial arms, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, three women, nursing, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, stves and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

GUIDE HANDICAPPED CHILD TO OTHER FIELDS OF ACHIEVEMENT

Most of the questions with which we deal week after week are so similar that we feel safe in offering advice. Just occasionally one crops up which demands food for real thought and arouses doubt as to our ability to cope with it. The following question is such a vital one that I feel we should have more opinions than mine, especially as it is the result of learning but not experience. I should be very happy if mothers of physically handicapped children would write and tell me how they handled the problem with their children. I would like experience and results, not theories.

"I have written you several times in the last few years, Mrs. Eldred, and gained much from your replies," says Mrs. L. L. L., "but while I have read almost every word in our paper you have written I have never seen this question asked or answered.

THE AFFLICTED CHILD

"What comforting words, or explanations, can one give a child who is afflicted? Should the mother be the first to tell him so that he won't be shocked? It seems that this should be handled before school days so that he will be prepared for it. Have you any more to add? I realize that much depends upon how the child will accept this, and we are doing all we can to right matters with operations. May my boy have peanut butter? Does it replace meat in the diet?"

Any child over 2, or even as early as 18 months can have peanut butter on bread. It should be mixed smooth with milk or cream—otherwise it sticks to the roof of the child's mouth, being too concentrated for the small child. All nuts are, in a measure, substitutes for meat.

MOTHER'S PART

I wish you had made the nature of the child's affliction clearer for, if noticeable, it is hard to understand why he would need to be told to avoid a shock. I feel perhaps that you meant what explanation could be given for his uniqueness.

Is there one? If there isn't, I should say: "I don't know."

Throughout his life I should give him every opportunity to excel in some other physical way. We usually find (and this is Adler's psychology) that the child with some organ inferiority compensates by making extra efforts in some other direction. Thus he builds up his self-respect and takes legitimate pride in other achievements.

Children in early school life are cruel, they probe tender places and bring heartaches to children who are different. You are right to prepare him for this. Also, if he is striving harder in some other fields, the teacher and children will be quick to notice it and remark upon his achievements. If he can't run fast, perhaps he can sing or draw better, or do woodwork better. Find the field in which he can excel despite his handicaps, and encourage him to become outstanding.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

by Honore Booth

FASHION EXPERT OF HARPER'S BAZAAR

NEW YORK, July 20. (Exclusive) East coast, west coast, long rollers are roaring up sandy beaches and intrepid bathers are hurling themselves into the surf. North and south, clear mountain lakes echo to the splash of the divers. I went to the beach to see what is being worn by smart women and gleaned the following practical and amusing notes.

Much turquoise and clear light blue, very cool and summery, and very flattering to the young figure. Navy, black and white still good for swimming suits, but cleverly used in combinations of colors or with such interesting cutting as to make them very new in feeling. Some prints. Browns and greens, browns and yellows, coral. Wool jersey is a favorite fabric, and there is also some silk jersey for warm weather. Linen and shantung make many beach pajama ensembles, and terry cloth in colors, is used to line after-the-swim beach coats.

BEACH ACCESSORIES

There are wonderful great striped towels in the most magnificent color combinations. Some of them are made with two small slits through which a short tie may be worn around the shoulders and fastened in front as wraps. The Mary Nowitzky beach bridge table which stands on short legs only about a foot above the sand is with us again this summer. A house in New York offers a metal bridge board, legless, which folds up when it is not being used. This has slits in it for holding the cards as they are dealt, and for the subsequent tricks. For a blowy day it will delight the ardent bridge fan who hates to be deprived of either his game or his sunburn.

Beach bags are miracles of invention. Some are made to match the pajama ensemble which you bring to the beach in them. They are outfitted with mirrors, combs, change purses, powder puffs, all in separate compartments. Then there is room for your cigarettes and for the matches, so you may smoke tobacco rather than sand. They are almost invariably rubber lined. One I saw is of basque linen, many are prints, or heavy, solid colored grosgrain.

SEEN AMONG THOSE PRESENT

I noted an amusing pair of "gob" trousers which were worn over a plain black wool jersey swimming suit. They were of corduroy, a clever material for the beach and very degage, in a biscuit shade. More sophisticated was a jade green pajama ensemble, whose rather short printed coat was lined with quite light green terry cloth.

A welcome item for the many bathing suits with light and white tops is a new bandeau made especially for bathing. It is as low in the back as it can be made, cut like an evening model. The material is white flannel, which I am told sheds water like a duck and dries in short order. It is bound with narrow silk ribbon to keep it from losing its shape, and it is supposed not to shrink or stretch or do any of the things which flannel traditionally used to do.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

BRAISED DEVILED FLANK STEAK

Have the butcher score a medium-sized flank steak. Mix two teaspoonfuls of dry mustard with one teaspoonful of white pepper and rub this mixture over the surface of the steak. Oil a baking dish that will hold the meat without too much room to spare, and lay the meat in it. Chop fine two sweet green peppers, from which the veins and seeds have been removed, add to them one-half of a medium-sized onion, chopped fine, and one tablespoonful of chopped parsley. Mix this with one can of okra, or one cupful of tomatoes. Pour this mixture over the steak, cover with cooked macaroni and bake slowly in a medium oven for two hours.

WALNUT CUP CAKES

One-half cupful of butter or shortening, one cupful of sugar, two eggs, three-fourths cupful of milk, two cupfuls of flour, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of nutmeg, one-half teaspoonful of cinnamon, one cupful of chopped walnut meats, one-half cupful of seedless raisins, one teaspoonful of vanilla extract. Cream the butter and sugar, add the well-beaten yolks of three eggs, sift the flour with the baking powder and spices, and add alternately to the mixture. Add the nuts and raisins, which have been dredged with two more tablespoonfuls of flour. Beat the whites of the eggs and fold into the mixture. Fill muffin tins three-quarters full of the mixture and bake in a moderate oven.

PINEAPPLE PIE

Place one and one-half cupfuls of milk in a double boiler, mix one-half cupful of sugar, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt and two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, and slowly add it to the hot milk. Cook slowly until thick and the cornstarch is thoroughly cooked. Stirring occasionally. Beat the yolks of two eggs, add a little of the hot mixture to them, pour in to the mixture, and cook for two or three minutes longer. Cool and add one cupful of well drained crushed pineapple and one-half teaspoonful of lemon extract. Pour into a baked crust and cover with a meringue made from the stiffly beaten egg whites, brown in a slow oven.

APPLE CHICKEN SALAD

Take six ripe apples, remove the cores, being careful not to cut all the way through. Scoop out the centers, chop fine the apples that have been removed, and add to them an equal amount of cooked chicken chopped fine, add to the mixture three tablespoonfuls of finely chopped green peppers and a seasoning of salt, and enough cream to make into a thick paste. Fill the apples with the mixture, place in a steamer and cook until tender, but not broken. Allow them to cool, place in the ice box to thoroughly chill, serve on lettuce garnished plates, with a spiral of mayonnaise.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

THE CARELESS YOUNG RAT

The cost of carelessness is high;
You can avoid it if you try.
—Old Mother Nature.

Egret the White Heron was becoming quite accustomed to his strange home, which was, as you know, Farmer Brown's barn. Farmer Brown's Boy had made a pen for him there. He had made a pen by simply putting a wire door across an unused horse stall. There Egret was very comfortable. Sometimes Farmer Brown's Boy took him out and gave him a chance to walk about. It was funny to see him. He was very stately about it. He would lift his feet high with each step. Once in a while he would jump up in the air in the funniest way.

Of course, Egret didn't quite understand what was wrong with him. He knew that there had been the bang of a terrible gun, something had hurt him, and when he had tried to fly one wing was quite useless. This was all he knew about it. Of course, he didn't understand how very lucky he had been in having Farmer Brown's Boy find him just when he did. Now the wing was better, and each time that Egret was taken out and given a chance to try it he knew that it was better.

Meanwhile he made the best of things. Farmer Brown's Boy brought him fish every day. This was very nice, but Egret felt that it would be much nicer to be able to catch his own fish.

"It isn't just the fish," thought Egret. "These fish are just as good as any I could catch. It's missing the fun of catching them. I should like to do a little fishing and a little hunting."

Now, some of the family of Robber the Rat were living in Farmer Brown's barn. Of course, those rats knew that Egret was there. In fact, they had had a look at him the very first night that he had spent in the barn. The older rats didn't like the looks of Egret's long bill. No, sir, they didn't like the looks of that long bill. So they kept away; and they warned the young rats that if they were wise they would keep away. For a while the young rats heeded this good advise. Then some of them became bolder and would stop to peek into the pen where Egret was. Some of the boldest would even go into the pen, but they always took care to keep a safe distance from Egret and his long bill.

There was one young rat who got in the habit of stopping in that pen every night. There was something about that big white bird that interested him. He just couldn't go by and not stop to look. He was very quiet about it. He thought that he wasn't seen. He thought that that big white bird was asleep. But Egret wasn't asleep and Egret did see him. That is, he saw him sometimes. Sometimes it was so dark that Egret didn't see him, but he knew right where he was. Other times when the young rat came early and there was still a little light Egret saw him clearly.

The older rats didn't like the looks of Egret's long bill.

"One of these nights I'll get that fellow," said Egret to himself. "I'll wait until he grows careless. He will grow careless. Most people grow careless after a bit."

So Egret bided his time, and it came about just as he had expected. That young rat did grow careless. He actually sat down with his back to Egret. Yes, sir, that's what he did. He had been watching Egret, and finally he turned around and, instead of running out immediately, he stopped and sat down. That young rat never knew what happened. No, sir, that young rat never knew what happened. But Egret had a late dinner that night and the young rat was never seen again. You may draw your own conclusions.

Rubber Aprons

Rubber aprons are splendid for the woman who cannot wash without getting her dress wet. They are also nice for the mother who has a "splashy" baby when in his bath.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

FRESH AND DRIED APRICOTS

The apricot is a little earlier on the market than the peach and may now be found in most markets throughout North America.

The fresh apricot is an excellent seasonal fruit, but is more perishable than some of the other summer fruits. Most of the commercial crop is raised in California and since the fruit does perish so easily the bulk of it is either dried or canned before being shipped.

If you cannot find the fresh apricots in your market you should at least learn to use the apricot in its dried form.

As much as 65 per cent of the apricot crop is dried. You will find that these dried apricots make a wholesome food if prepared properly. They should be well washed and soaked overnight in enough water to cover them. They should then be cooked in the same water for as long as possible in order to bring out the sweet, palatable flavor. No sugar should be added, as the slow cooking will bring out the fruit sugar which will make them taste more delicious than if commercial white sugar is used.

If you can obtain the dried fruit which has not been prepared with sulphur you will find it a great deal more desirable in every way. The ordinary dried fruits are treated with sulphur and some of the sulphur elements generally are left in the food. I find this tends to cause flatulence in the same way as it is caused by the sulphur in onions and garlic.

If you live where you may enjoy apricots you will find that they make an excellent fruit for the fruit fast. They always should be eaten alone or with such protein foods as nuts, cheese, or milk. If they are used in this way, the skins may be eaten if well washed.

The apricot shares the excellencies of the fruit family; it gives mineral elements and vitamins; affords bulk; is a cooling summer food, may be classed as a mild laxative, and possesses the natural fruit sugar.

More than 3,000,000 cases of apricots were packed in 1928-29, showing how popular this food is for a canned fruit dessert. The canned apricots are put up in a thick syrup and those with impaired digestions will find that the combination of canned apricots and any form of starch food is likely to cause fermentation. For this reason, apricot pie, made from the canned fruit, is not wholesome.

Apricots may be used for an ice cream flavor, if mashed, strained and combined with cream and a little honey, and frozen.

Apricot fluff or whip is made by mashing the fruit, straining and then mixing the pulp with the whites of eggs which have been beaten very lightly. This makes a tempting dish for a hot day.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Less Work for Mother

It is a wise mother who makes her baby's morning rompers of crinkled crepe. They wash out very readily, require no ironing and the material comes in a variety of attractive patterns and colors.

Body Builders

You may not be fond of stooping, housewife, but it is an excellent exercise and if you can remember to pick up things without bending the knees, just bending from the waist, you have done a splendid reducing exercise each time you tried it.

Baby's Washcloth

The ideal washcloth for baby is the one made of three or four thicknesses of gauze, bound around the edge with a soft ribbon or worked around with a soft-finished crochet cotton. Several of these worked in different colors might solve the problem of what you will give that new baby.

SOLOISTS AND LEADER WIN HONORS

Karl Krueger Lauded at Hollywood Bowl; Varied Works Please

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Karl Krueger's Saturday night concert at the Hollywood Bowl, which concluded his engagement here this summer, was the most varied in musical content of the season. There were four soloists; the audition prize-winner, Marie Mikova, who played the Rimsky-Korsakoff concerto in C sharp minor; Antonio Raimondi, clarinetist, and Oscar Levant and Robert Bennett in the latter's two-piano march.

If one were to state a preference in the orchestral numbers, the Hebrale Sketch by Krein, Strauss waltz, "Wine, Women and Song," a pleasant relief after the monotonous New York cacophony of the young Mr. Bennett's march, would be mine. The opening overture from "Phedre," by Massenet; Liszt's temperamental Rhapsody No. 14, which is familiar as a piano and orchestra piece, the smooth and soothing Introduction to "La Traviata," by Verdi, and the melodious "Finlandia," by Sibelius, completed the democratic and happy offering of this well-equipped young conductor for the popular, broadcast program.

Krueger's increase of success in this, his third short visit to Southern California, is, in some measure, due to the excellent condition of the orchestra, whose beautiful tone quality was outstanding. Of course, it takes a long time to impress a conductor's intentions upon an orchestra, and with the extremely limited time given to rehearsals under adverse conditions at the Bowl, it is a triumph if a conscientious leader can create a small part of the effect he desires.

Without the aid of publicity gained through long years of conducting an orchestra of his own (this is but his fourth year in Seattle where he has had to practically create an instrument to play upon and an audience to play to,) Krueger's modest demeanor, his idealism and his nondependence on showmanship, have thrown into favorable light a musical eloquence that has been appreciated by the musicians and the laymen alike. Krueger belongs to that small group of conductors who regard the music as greater than themselves.

The Krein "Hebraic Sketch," in three melodic movements, not only gave opportunity for a member of the orchestra, Raimondi, the clarinetist, to do creditable work as soloist, but it introduced a new composer of worth. The sketch is attractively melancholy and its Hebrew qualities are oriental rather than Slavic.

Miss Mikova proved to be an excellent choice for an audition soloist. Her playing is assured, she is technically and emotionally able and what is more unusual among modern young pianists, she makes the piano sing with commendable sentiment. Her encore was the Paderewski Legend, not a deep work but pleasingly effective. Krueger played a sympathetic orchestral accompaniment.

Robert Bennett, winner of two prizes from the Victor Company this year, seems to have pleased his French judges rather more than he did the Bowl audience last night. His march for two pianos might have been an agreeable divertisement in intellectualised jazz if it had adhered to the modernists' creed of brevity. Judging solely by the composition played last night, which is perhaps not quite just, this promising young man has been too highly encouraged. His use of the orchestra was inadequate. However, there is a fine purpose served in having American works played and no conductor who hopes to have a lasting success in this country can afford to ignore our own musicians. We need more conductors who stimulate our national consciences.

Corinne Turns Out Costumes for New Farce

One of the most brilliant costume arrays of the year, designed and executed by Corinne, modernistic fashion artist, will be revealed in "Oh, Judge," new musical farce starting at the Vine-street Theater tomorrow night.

Brought here from New York originally by Carter De Haven to design the first Hollywood "Music Box Revue," Corinne has since established herself as one of the foremost fashion creators on the Coast, turning out the costumes for "Good News," various Fanchon and Marco productions, and the stage prologues of "The Devil Dancer," "Broadway Melody" and "Hell's Angels."

Corinne also costumes the elaborate revues at George Olsen's new club, Culver City, and was recently commissioned to design the ballet dresses for the new Albertina Rasch ballet, to be presented at the Hollywood Bowl August 1.

Film of Prison Life Booked at New Pantages

Immediately following its long and successful run at the Criterion Theater, "The Big House" will move to the new Pantages Hollywood Theater as the featured screen attraction for one week only, commencing Thursday.

"The Big House" is said to be an expose of the cause leading to prison riots, climaxed with such an occurrence in which 100 men battle. Chester Morris, Wallace Beery and Robert Montgomery play the three central roles as the convict cellmates. Leila Hyams appears as the heroine. George Hill directed.

Fanchon and Marco's "Green Devil Idea" and Slim Martin with his orchestra will fill out the new program.

HELEN HAS NEW ROLE

Helen Baxter, who appeared in the Los Angeles stage presentation of "Holiday," is playing one of the featured roles in "Beyond Victory," at Pathe. Coincidentally, "Holiday" was filmed at Pathe recently, during the time that Miss Baxter was playing one of its featured feminine leads on the stage.

Eye-and-Ear Pleasure Promised

Dorothy Lee

Portrays one of the chief supporting roles in Radio's new musical film, "Dixiana," which starts off with a gala premiere at the Orpheum Theater tomorrow night.

CIRCLE BOOKS "HOLIDAY"

Following the current run of Will Rogers in "So This is London," "Holiday," filmization of Philip Barry's comedy drama, will open with a brilliant first night on August 7, next, at the Carthay Circle Theater.

The film, on which the entire efforts of the Pathe Corporation were concentrated, opened in New York City last week and was enthusiastically received, according to an announcement.

Ann Harding, versatile star of the stage who made her screen debut in "Paris Bound," has the leading feminine role in "Holiday" as Linda Seton. Mary Astor appears as Julia Seton, and Robert Ames is cast in the leading male role. Others of the cast are Edward Everett Horton, Heddall Hopper and William Holden.

"Holiday" will bring a new type of entertainment to picture fans, it is reported. It is said to be a smart, sophisticated and hilarious comedy, with a dynamic story. Edward Griffith directed. The story is of a wealthy girl in love with an ambitious young man.

Plans are being formulated for a gala opening for the picture at the Carthay Circle. Abe Lyman's orchestra, now appearing in person on the stage with Rogers's picture, "So This is London," will be held over.

INA CLAIRE VEHICLE TO OPEN HERE

Noted Comedienne Stars in "Rebound" Tonight at Belasco Theater

Before an audience that will fill the large Belasco Theater, the charming American comedienne, Ina Claire, will tonight made her first local stage appearance in several years, and the first in her latest starring vehicle, Donald Ogden Stewart's comedy, "Rebound," with Robert Williams and others.

INA CLAIRE

For nearly a week the entire lower floor of the Belasco has been sold out to the many admirers of the brilliant star, and it has been a brisk scramble on the part of the Belasco management to accommodate her following.

Miss Claire personally selected "Rebound" for her Los Angeles engagement after having seen it during its New York run. The star's engagement at the Belasco is limited to a few weeks, with the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees, but no Sunday performances.

"Wild Company" Enacted by Frank Albertson and Other Favorites

"Wild Company," a candid story of modern youth and modern indulgent parents, from the pens of John Stone and Bradley King, is the new Fox film drama opening at Loew's State Theater Thursday.

Frank Albertson, youthful player, is said to approach stardom by his true-to-life and sincere portrayal in the new picture. Albertson is supported by a cast headed by H. B. Warner, Sharon Lynn and Joyce Compton.

The picture is declared to be strikingly impressive by those who have seen it in preview showings, and it is recommended by the management as a picture for the whole family. Greta Garbo in "Romance," current Loew's attraction, is drawing record-breaking summer crowds for this theater, according to the management.

Humor Lightens Play's Tragedy

Ernest Vajda has shown extraordinary skill in the manner in which he has relieved the heavier moments of his play, "Fata Morgana," it is said. The drama portrays a natural phase of life, and being natural, does not oppress audiences with an overpowering sense of tragedy. Pathos is blended with humor and the characters are termed real.

The brilliant characterizations of Elsie Ferguson in the stellar role and Tom Douglas as George intensify this effect of reality.

"Fata Morgana," is now playing at the Hollywood Playhouse.

Bowl Patrons Meet Notables

The Hollywood Bowl is becoming almost as popular Tuesday mornings as it is Tuesday nights. The Conductors' and Artists' Breakfasts, which take place each Tuesday morning in the Bowl tea garden, have attracted large numbers of music patrons who desire to meet their favorites personally.

Last Tuesday morning over 100 people breakfasted al fresco at the Bowl and listened to the informal talks of the honor guests and distinguished visitors. Reservations are coming in heavily for tomorrow's breakfast, which will honor Bernardino Molinari, the great Italian conductor who begins his Bowl engagement this week.

'QUEEN HIGH' TO PLAY AT PARAMOUNT

New Policy Announced by Organization in Regard to Film Releases

The inauguration of "Paramount Greater Show World Season for 1931" takes place this week. The world premier of "Queen High," starting Thursday at the Paramount Theater, heads the list of pre-releases scheduled under the announced policy of releasing here ahead of other metropolitan centers in the country.

Originally scoring as a stage farce under the title of "A Pair of Sixes," "Queen High" was later produced for the stage under its new name by Schwab and Mandel, also associated with the Paramount screen version.

Stanley Smith is cast as Dick Johns, whose romance with Polly Rockwell (Ginger Rogers) provides interest. Ginger Rogers is the youthful comedienne from musical comedy. Charles Ruggles, the comedian whose drolleries were the hit of "Gentlemen of the Press" and other films. Frank Morgan, Nina Olivette, Helen Carrington and Betty Garde are also included in the cast. Fred Newmeyer directed.

NOTED STAR HAS TYPICAL FILM ROLE

Ronald Colman Portrays Debonair Rogue in New Talking Vehicle

"Raffles," the film drama that has its world premiere at the United Artists' Theater Wednesday morning, is a romance as well as a thriller.

Ronald Colman, who is seen and heard as the daring rogue, portrays the last and greatest adventure of Raffles, the amateur cracksman. Raffles is the same type of character Colman portrayed in "Bulldog Drummond."

Like Drummond, Raffles is a daring adventurer—a gay and debonair figure. He has brought to the part, it is said, the bright, youthful originality that has characterised his pictures.

Playing opposite Ronald Colman is Kay Francis. The supporting cast is composed of Bramwell Fletcher, Frances Dade, David Torrence, Allson Skipworth, Frederick Kerr, John Rogers and Wilson Benge.

TANGO NIGHT TO BE WEEKLY FEATURE

Following the success of tango night in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel last week, announcement is made by the management that such an event will henceforth become a regular weekly feature.

Inaugurating this weekly special night will be Tuesday's presentation in the supper room. Ben Bernie and his Roosevelt orchestra are also to appear on tango nights playing current dance rhythms, and each occasion will have a popular celebrity as guest of honor. Lia Tora, Brazilian motion-picture player and dancer, will be honored guest Tuesday night.

PICNIC DRAWS MANY KNIGHTS

Catholic Order Frolics All Day at Luna Park

Film Players in Charge of Hot-Dog Booths

Civic Leaders Speak and Program Given

More than 5000 persons from all over the Southland attended the annual picnic of the Southern California Chapter of the Knights of Columbus yesterday at Luna Park. It began at 9:30 a.m. and was an all-day affair, with a long program of entertainment features, introductions of celebrated guests and addresses by persons noted in civic affairs and the motion-picture world providing continuous diversion.

Among the entertainment novelties was a wild animal show, and among the other features was purchasing ice cream cones, hot dogs and other varieties of picnic fare at booths presided over by motion-picture actors and actresses. Throughout the day an orchestra played at a dancing pavilion which accommodates 1000 couples.

Those who addressed the picnic throngs included Mayor Porter, Supervisor Quinn, Superior Judges Hardy, Crawford and Hazlett, Frank J. Berry, master of the fourth degree of the K. of C., Pat O'Malley, Lionel Belmore, George Hackenthorne, Mrs. Wallace Reid and Doris Lloyd. Edwin C. Boehler, vice-president of the chapter, served as master of ceremonies.

MINISTER'S WIFE KILLED ON HIGHWAY

Husband, H. K. Pendleton of Santa Barbara, Hurt Seriously in Auto Plunge

SANTA BARBARA, July 20. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Martha Pendleton, 65 years of age, was killed, and her husband, Rev. H. K. Pendleton, was critically injured when a car in which they were riding, and which was driven by a daughter, Frances, plunged from the Mountain Drive highway just outside of the city limits here today. The car was traveling at a moderate rate of speed when it appeared the driver suddenly lost control, according to witnesses.

Mrs. Pendleton had been active in church circles here for thirty years. Rev. Mr. Pendleton, the injured husband, had been pastor of the First Christian Church until his retirement ten years ago. Besides the husband and daughter Frances, Mrs. Pendleton leaves four brothers in the East and a daughter, Mrs. J. M. Brady, in San Diego.

Ex-Bank Clerk in Court Today to Hear Fate

Elmer B. Campbell, former assistant cashier of the First National Trust and Savings Bank of Santa Barbara, is scheduled to appear today before United States District Judge James to be sentenced on five counts of misapplication of bank funds.

Campbell's activities assertedly involved about $35,000.

Vacations Will Close Courts

Two Municipal Court civil divisions will be closed this week as a result of the departure of Judges Chambers and Stafford for their annual vacations, according to an order issued by Presiding Judge Ambrose. Judge Chambers's departure leaves Division 19 vacant and Division 20, in which Judge Bullock has been sitting, is also closed. Judge Bullock is transferred to Division 2, felony preliminary division, and Judge Carrell, who has been there for the past week, will preside in Division 5, a misdemeanor trial court without juries, which Judge Stafford's departure left vacant.

The law and motion calendar is transferred to Judge Haas's court, Division 22.

BERMAN TO BE FACED BY OWN WORDS

Prosecutor Will Read Defendant's Deposition as Embezzlement Evidence

Testimony in the trial of Jacob Berman, prominent figure in the Julian Petroleum Corporation fiasco, charged with embezzling $10,000 from an investor and forging stock certificates, will be continued in Superior Judge Schauer's court today.

As soon as court convenes, H.S.G. McCartney, deputy District Attorney prosecuting the case, is expected to resume the witness stand and begin reading from a deposition made recently by Berman, in which he is asserted to have made certain admissions concerning the matters in question.

Berman is represented in court by John J. Hill, deputy Public Defender.

KRAUSE MAY HEAR SENTENCE ON BRIBERY

Unless Superior Judge Wilson grants a motion for a new trial for Louis Krause, convicted briber of a juror in the original Julian trial, the man will be sentenced in court this morning.

Arguments in favor of the new trial are scheduled to be made by S. S. Hahn, Krause's attorney.

Krause was convicted upon the testimony of Jacob Berman, who asserted that the defendant acted as a go-between in bribing a juror to vote "not guilty" at the close of the trial.

Retired Police Officers Frolic With Firemen

Old-time rivals in football, tugs-of-war and other strenuous athletic sports, veteran retired members of the police and fire departments, met again at their annual picnic in Sycamore Grove Park yesterday and just could not help trying to beat each other at something.

While several hundred of the smoke eaters and pavement pounders and their families allowed the youngsters to vie for prizes in the sporting events, a half-dozen of the old-timers of both organizations withdrew under the shade of a sycamore tree and, though it was not on the program, held an impromptu coffee-drinking contest. "Ki Ki" Robinson, retired detective lieutenant, is said to have won by downing fourteen cupfuls without stopping. At least that is what Fred Oker, another veteran police officer, reported, although Capt. R. A. Hamley of the fire department, master of ceremonies, could not verify it.

The picnic was sponsored by the Los Angeles Police and Fire Department Pensioners' Association, which has a membership of 400 and functions for the benefit of the widows and orphans of firemen and policemen.

FEDERAL INSPECTOR LEAVES AFTER PARLEY

J. W. Gardner, general agent of the Department of Justice, in charge of field examiners, and of administration affairs of United States marshals' offices and budget, will leave Los Angeles today after a visit of several days. He has conferred with United States Marshal Sittel and court officials regarding necessities of the department here. Because of the forthcoming establishment of another Federal Court here, Marshal Sittel's force will be augmented, it was stated. Mr. Gardner is accompanied by his wife and Miss Ada Morrison of Washington.

EX-WIFE'S MARRIAGE BLAMED FOR SUICIDE

Despondency, induced by the news that his divorced wife had remarried in Germany, is the reason given by relatives for the suicide yesterday of Fred Jacobsmeyer, about 45 years of age, who was found hanged in a rooming-house at 654 South Wall street. Letters found among his effects gave the names of his daughters, Erna and Katherine, and son, Albert, all of whom live in San Francisco.

DRUGS ON SALE LEGAL PUZZLE

Appellate Court Will Rule on Odd Question

Grocer Maintains Right to Handle Medicines

"Proprietary Preparations" Definition Sought

Epsom salts, aspirin and citrate of magnesia may be market produce but the State Board of Pharmacy has to be shown. And the Appellate department of the Superior Court craves to know just exactly what are proprietary preparations. Answers to these questions bearing on whether a grocer or marketman can sell such preparations concern a case now before the court.

The court received an appeal of R. W. Minton, proprietor of Minton's Market, 3608 East Colorado street, Pasadena, following his conviction on charges of selling medicines without a pharmacist's license or without having a licensed pharmacist in his employ. The main issue raised is a test of the definition of "proprietary medicines," as the term is used in the State Medicine Act, according to Attorney Leonard Comegys, counsel of the board. Minton is accused of selling epsom salts, aspirin and citrate of magnesia.

The Appellate department continued the hearing until August 7 to permit both sides to get together on the pharmacy board's definition of what constitutes proprietary medicines. Attorney John F. Dockweiler appeared for Minton.

WIFE-KILLER WILL SEEK NEW TRIAL

Counsel for Burkhart, Now Under Death Verdict, to Argue Motions Today

Arguments for a new trial for William Henry Burkhart, facing a death sentence for the murder of his actress wife on March 24, last, will be heard in Superior Judge McComb's court this morning. The arguments will be made by C. J. Orbison and Ralph Paonessa, Burkhart's attorneys.

Burkhart is scheduled to appear for sentence, but he already has signified his intention of endeavoring to obtain a new trial and arguments on this motion must be heard before sentence is passed.

Burkhart was convicted of luring his estranged wife to a bungalow at 6742 Franklin avenue and shooting her to death when she declined to return to his home.

Merchants Ask Tax on Average Inventory Basis

Suggestion that personal property taxes of merchants whose stock of goods vary with the season be based on the average of monthly inventories, was made to the Board of Supervisors and the Tax Assessor in a letter from N. P. Alexander, president of the Downtown Business Men's Association, which will be considered today.

The letter follows publication of a proposition to change the time of assessment from the first Monday in March to January 1. This, according to Mr. Alexander's letter, would only shift the tax burden from retail to wholesale merchants and would not increase the tax yield. The assessment based on a monthly average of stocks on hand would be more equitable, it is suggested.

FALSE REGISTRATION CHARGED TO YOUTH

Because he tried to flee when Policemen Maza and Knepper halted him in the rear of 3960 Trinity street, Louis A. Wright, 3011½ Ocean Front, Ocean Park, must stand trial by Superior Court on charges of illegal registration. Taken to a police station, Wright told the officers he is 20 years of age. In his pocket was found a voter's registration certificate signed by Deputy Registrar Greek in Santa Monica. Appearing before Municipal Judge Ballard with his attorney, S. S. Hahn, Wright waived preliminary examination on the felony charge of illegal registration, declaring that he had no intention of voting and that he registered because he had to show a certificate to obtain a job he had been offered. He was held under $500 bail pending trial. Police said he was not connected with any known burglary.

DOROTHY MACKAYE WILL APPEAR HERE IN DRAMA

Announcement of a forthcoming dramatic production in this city yesterday revealed that Dorothy Mackaye is coming back to Los Angeles to resume her stage career, a career which was tragically cut short slightly over three years ago, when her husband, Ray Raymond, was killed in the course of a fist battle over her affections with Paul Kelly, her asserted lover.

Dorothy Mackaye

According to the announcement, Miss Mackaye left New York for this city yesterday and upon her arrival rehearsals for the play in which she will appear will begin. The play is entitled "A Cup of Sugar" and it is the work of Lynn Starling, who wrote "Meet the Wife" and "Weak Sisters," both of which have been seen here. It will be produced by William Trumbull and George Sherwood. The theater it will be shown in and the opening date have not yet been decided.

It was on April 16, 1927, that Raymond, a well-known musical-comedy actor who had been playing here in "Castles in the Air," engaged in the fatal fist fight with Kelly, a young actor from New York who had just begun to win some success in motion pictures. Three days later Raymond died from what was diagnosed as a subdural hemorrhage.

At Kelly's trial, which resulted in his being convicted of manslaughter, and at Miss Mackaye's trial for compounding a felony in attempting to keep important information from the authorities, which also resulted in her conviction, it was brought out that the actress had known Kelly in New York twelve years earlier, that when he came out here the acquaintance was resumed and developed into an affair which was fervid until it was cut short by the fatal fight. Miss Mackaye asserted her husband forgave her in a reconciliation meeting shortly before he died in the hospital.

Kelly was sentenced to serve from one to ten years in San Quentin and actually served two years and a month, being released last August. He left immediately for the East and is known to have appeared, in a minor role, in at least one New York stage production since then.

After every legal resource had been fruitlessly tried to keep Miss Mackaye from going to jail to serve the sentence of one to three years which had been imposed on her, she finally entered San Quentin on March 1, 1928. The prison board in December fixed her term at one year and because of good time allowances, she was released on January 1, 1929, after having served just ten months.

Upon her release she said she intended to resume her stage career and devote the rest of her life to her daughter, Raymond's child. Nothing much has been heard of her since that time until yesterday except an announcement by a Sacramento stock company in May of last year that she was to appear there in the leading role in "The Dove," a role in which she had scored a success in this city.

BREWSTER KIN'S RITES TO BE TODAY

Mrs. Boquist, Descendant of Mayflower Arrival, Dies in Ocean Park

Funeral services for Mrs. Laura Brewster Boquist, direct descendant of Elder William Brewster of Mayflower fame and a pioneer resident of Southern California, will be conducted at the Hollywood Cemetery chapel at 11 a.m. today. She died Friday at her home in Ocean Park.

Mrs. Boquist, who was 86 years of age, was the widow of Charles Victor Boquist, who died in 1913. She had made her home with a daughter in Ocean Park since the death of her husband and had been ill only a few days. She was born in Ohio, but the family moved to Mt. Sterling, Iowa, when she was only a few years of age.

They started for California by ox cart early in 1862 and arrived in Sacramento October 3 of the same year. Some years ago she wrote a vivid description of the family's experiences during the trip, copies of which are highly prized by other pioneers and their descendants.

She leaves one son and three daughters. They are Charles Victor Boquist, Mrs. W. W. Tritt, Mrs. Walter K. Bowker and Mrs. C. G. Jepsen, all of Los Angeles or its immediate vicinity.

Letter Not Bar to Death Claim

A signed statement that "death is better than love" in a man's pocket when an automobile runs over him, is not proof of suicide, Superior Judge Hanby held in awarding a verdict of $10,000 to the heirs of W. T. Roberts, who sued an insurance company and Wesley Planter, driver of an automobile that killed Roberts. It was contended by defense attorneys that Roberts stepped in the way of the car, with suicidal intent.

The letter was written May 27 to Mrs. Jessica Ross and was found on the dead man's body after the accident, it was asserted. Mrs. Ross, guardian of Roberts's young son, filed the suit.

LOMITA MAN FOUND HANGED

Niysouke Ohara, 35 years of age, ended his life yesterday, according to a Sheriff's office report, by hanging himself in the garage behind his home at 2121 Pennsylvania avenue, Lomita. Relatives reported he had been despondent over ill health.

CALAVERAS FROG OUTRIVALED

Los Angeles Amphibian, Developed on Six-Cylinder Lines, Puts Fellows to Shame in Impromptu Race and Wins Soft Berth in Pet Shop

Ethelbert, a frog owned by the Musashino Company, 125 South Main street, has earned the reputation of being one of the speediest firmisternal amphibians that ever was raised along the Los Angeles River—bar none.

Ethelbert has six legs. This gives him one of the quickest pick-ups on record, his owners say. They are convinced that he comes from racing blood and that probably he was hatched from Man o' War stock, and if the frogs have record books, they might prove it.

This frog which is hardly more than a yearling, was captured last week in the bed of the Los Angeles River and brought to the Main-street store by a man who refused to give his name. He told the story of Ethelbert as he knew it, he said.

"This here frog was cutting a lot of capers down there on the river bank," he reported. "All the other frogs were lined up around a sort of race track and this baby was breezing around it plenty. He would run with one set of legs for awhile and when they got tired he would throw them over his shoulder, smile broadly and run with the other set. I could see that he had his opponent panting and about all in.

"The surprising thing happened, however, at the finish. Here he used all six of his legs and you should have seen him cover territory. He left the other frog at the post. When I picked him up he wasn't even winded. He doesn't carry all his legs in gear at once and that gives him a lot of reserve power.

"He is quite a jumper, too, I observed. He took the hurdles—apparently it was a steeplechase with water hazards—as fine as anything I ever see, he did. Just before he would come to a barrier he would put all his legs into gear and just go sailing over. His mother probably dropped him on his head when he was a tadpole—that explains his six legs. It is the only explanation I can make."

Outside of his extra pair of legs Ethelbert looks like any other frog. His eyes are as watery as any and he has a vast appetite for flies.
